Stratford, Telephone City Still in Throes of Straightening Out Tangle.

Woodstock and London seem likely to be grouped in the Northern League in the senior division. Local officials are just as pleased to be stacked up against the Woodstockers as under-go the uncertainties of waiting for Brantford and Stratford to get their Northern League tangle straightened

If Woodstock and London were be grouped it would give Brantford more leeway in the O. H. A. Brant-ford doesn't want to drop the N. H. L. apparently, but neither do they want to jeopardize their chances in the O. H. A., and if anything is to go it will be the former. This new arrangement would give them a week more before having to come to a decision and naming a date for the re-turn game with Stratford. Woodstock would be a big drawing card here. Rivalry between the two cities has always been strong, and there is always the chance of an upset, as the Brantford-Woodstock series just closed showed.

The London juniors will go to Stratford Tuesday night. It is possible that Stratford will return here Friday night, and as an added attraction "Dad" Ashley's Stratford girls' team may play the L. A. A. A. girls' six in a preliminary. The default of the St. Marys team makes it imperative that the local girls get some practice before meeting Preston. The
