We are very much pleased indeed of the common of the live data that the consideration of the first marking fellows and its manubors, the control of the cont deserves well of the profession, each member of which ought to take a pride in upholding the liberties and in defending the rights of the press. In another column the apology to Mr. Dunsmur will be found, and with its reproduction the traitrorus charges alleged against him are at an end. Nobody ever believed them, but they were so made to do service by certain politicians as to necessitate the tory an ending. It would be unfair did tory an ending. It would be unfair did we not say that we believe the editor of the Nesse Advertiser was misled by some the News-Advertiser was misled by some and the proposed cable between Halifax nize the nobility of all. The grandeur of sessed of the necessary qualifications appears of the Lorielature whose attempt, in the House, to iniure the reputation of Hon. Mr Dunsmuir ended so disastrously for them. be well to give a brief history of the case:

After the general election last year, the Liberals of Westmoreland, N. B., protested the election of Mr. Wood, Conservative. The trial of the protest was fixed for October. In that month the Liberal counsel learned that. Judge Fraser proposed to make the date later. The counsel learned that Judge Fraser proposed to make the date later. The ocounsel objected, expressing a fear that the protest would thus become liable to the six months' hoist. Judge Fraser gave his common that it would not, and fixed the date as November 8. Then the Conservatives raised the six months' objection, and the Supreme Court, including Judge Fraser himself, sustained the objection, and the Supreme Court, including Judge Fraser himself, sustained the objection and dismissed the Liberal protests. Mr. Hawke, in his paper, the Monoton Tronscript, made a fierce attack on Judge Fraser himself, sustained the objection and dismissed the Liberal protests. secure the remission of his sentence. No great personal sympathy is expressed for Hawke, who has always been characterized as a violent partisan. But the point where the shoe pinches is that the judges whom the prisoner offended called him before them and passed judgment upon him, thus constituting themselves the jury as well as the judges. It is an axiom that the jury system is a bulwark of British liberty, and no man server is a possible to suppose so.

Set of license acts. Among the provisions which are new in the regulation of the traffic in that quarter is one declaring it illegal for a licensee to receive anything but money in payment for liquor, and this he may not receive in advance; nor shall he purchase wearing apparel, tools, implements of husbandry or trade, fishing gear, household goods or furniture, the compensation for which is intoxicating liquor, under a penalty of $20 and restification. bulwark of British liberty, and no man accused of a crime has the right to be denied a trial by twelve of his peers.
