Dr. Beers is a brother-in-law of Dr. Hickey, the well-known M. P. for Dundas. His Syracuse address should be read by every lovel Canadian. At Beaver, Pennsylvanis, Eliza A. Hibbard a 45 year old widow sued Henry C. Fry, a millionaire widower, for breach of promise, claiming $100 000 damages for her promise, claiming $100 000 damages for her formulae, claiming $100 000 damages fo alleged wounded affections. The defence keew you ten years are you know, and you et up that it was the widow who made the didn't look a particle jounger than you do proposal of marriage, and that Fry never had matrimonial intentions on her heart. The trial which lasted several days was very amusing. In his address to the jury Fry's senior counsel ridiculed the idea that Fry had used the endearing terms towards the widow to which she had sworn. Said he with great dramatic effect: "Is it probable that an old widower like Fry would call an old widow like Mrs Hibbard pet names, or that he held ber hand? Why, there would be as much sentiment in holding her hand as there would defense (to his wife)—My dear, I want you be in the holding of pigs feet with a pair of to lock up everything that is movable in the house.
