LAST LACROSSE LETTER.

OUR CORRESPONDENT'S MALEDICTION ON THE ENGLISH CLIMATE.

Matches in the Rain—Big John on a Drunk—The Boys at Belfast—The Trip Becoming Monotonous.

BELFAST, Aug. 2.—DEAR WORLD: I have no doubt that a constant repetition of accounts of matches must become monotonous, and I have refrained from sending them to you for some time back. I couldn't have sent you very happy accounts anyway, as we have had a run of hard luck as regards the weather and have consequently suffered more or less from the blues at intervals. At Newcastle our matches were spoiled by rain. At Darlington, where we went to next, it threatened long enough to scare the bulk of the crowd away and then turned out fine. At Houghton, Spring and Sunderland, whrre we played for the benefit of the Sunderland sufferers, we had very good weather and realized a handsome sum for the funds, and we were publicly thanked by the mayor. At York both the weather and circumstances were against us. The annual exhibition was in full swing, and hough the city was jammed the people were intent on seeing other sights than us, consequently we played to a handful of people. We couldn't get a hotel there, and had to live around in spots as it were, most of us getting our meals at the station dining rooms.

We got into Manchester from York about 2 o'clock a.m. If I am not mistaken it was raining. Our first match in Manchester was against a local team. We administered the usual licking to them, and the Indians followed suit by defeating the Cheshire team. The next day we went out to Rochdale and played to a slim crowd in a pelting rain on Saturday we had a game with the Indians and after playing an hour had to stop the rain being unbearably heavy. We were entertained at dinner by the North of England lacrosse association in the evening. A wet Sunday was next endured and Monday was very little better. We had a match against Lancashire and beat them badly and then played the Indians for a while, after which the Indians played against another local team. "Big John" excited a commotion by absorbing a little too much "fire water" and expressing in public a desire to scalp every inhabitant of Manchester who seemed disposed to doubt the assertion that "he was the best man in the world." Had it not been for the kindness of the Manchester lacrosse men, notably Messrs. Swallow and Norris, our stay in Manchaster would have been unbearable on account of the weather. We put in a couple of good days at Scarborough after leaving Manchester. When I say "good days" I don't mean good weather, for it rained both days; but we had a good time and it is a remarkably pretty place.

It is rather a curious coincidence that our first match and our last match in England were both played in the rain. My malediction on the English climate. We came from Scarborough to Liverpool, a very long ride, and had it not been for the exertions of McNaught, who went ahead of us, and the good nature of the Dominion Steamship company people, we would have missed the steamship Oregon, which was to take us to Belfast. We had to engage a regular army of cabs and porters and the rush was almost as bad as the night we left Montreal at the start of the trip. We all got safely on board the tender (which by the way was engaged specially, the regular one having gone before) and caught the Oregon all right. Here we met a lot of our old shipmates of the Sarnia who were now on their way home, and we had quite a pleasant re-union in the saloon of the steamer in the evening. Mr. Frankland of Toronto was on board, and he "set 'em up" well, and it was a late or rather an early hour when the boys sought their births. In the morning we waked to find ourselves in Belfast lough the water like a sheet of glass and the sky without a cloud. Truly our first glimpse of Ireland was a glorious one, and we will all back her claim to the title of the "Emerald Isle."

A tender came out from Belfast to take us on board and brought out Dr. Beers and Bowie who had gone on before, also a photographer who took a group of the team on the deck of the steamer. We bade farewell to Aird of our team, and also to Bob Sutherland and Jack McIntyre who have both been with us a great deal and leaving them to plunge their way across the Atlantic we steamed up the lough in the tender, making the shores ring with the cheers we sent after the friends we had just parted from. About our first act in Belfast was to get on to a jaunting car to see how it worked. It nearly worked me off into the street and a week's subsequent experience of the "pesky critters" has not done a great deal towards making them rank any higher in my estimation. One of the finest crowds we had seen was on the North of Ireland cricket club grounds to witness our debut in Ireland. There were two matches played—"Indians vs. Ireland" and "Indians vs. Canada." They resulted very unfavorably to Canada. The Irishmen beat the Indians and the Indians beat us. Things looked very scaly for the international match on the morning. The North of Ireland cricket club entertained us to supper in the pavilion at the ground after the matches and we had a very enjoyable evening. On Saturday morning we had a splendid drive around Belfast seated on top of a fine coach, and armed with the inevitable horn we created considerable stir. In the afternoon we played the Irish team. There was a tremendous crowd present and considerable excitement manifested as it seemed to be the general impression that we would suffer our first defeat and that Ireland would inflict it. The match was a hard one and there was little or no fooling, and we managed to still keep Canada uppermost. The score at the finish was 8 goals to 2 in our favor. We scored 11 goals, but the umpire would not allow three of them. We were considerably astonished to find that lacrosse was played so well on this side of the water, and consider ourselves fortunate in getting off so well.

In the evening we were entertained at a banquet in Ulster Minor hall. This was the finest demonstration in our honor since the trip started. I never saw a better arranged affair of the kind in my life. Everything worked beautifully, and we separated about 12 o'clock, after having spent one of the most pleasant evenings of our lives, and certainly the best of the trip. On Sunday we started for Port Rush and the giant's causeway. Mr. H. C. Kelly, who has been indefatigible in his exertions on our behalf, secured a special saloon carriage for us, and for once on this side of the water we enjoyed a railroad journey. After a lunch at Port Rush the party piled into two brakes and set off for the causeway about eight miles away. I had the misfortune to be in the vehicle driven by the slowest team, and we were soon distanced by our more fortunate comrades. One of our party ventured to suggest to our driver (who was a thoroughly typical Irishman) that his horse wanted a little more blood in it. He got a genuine Irish retort: "Sure this is the bloodiest ould horse ye ever seed." We inspected the ruins of Dunbar Castle and reached the Causeway late in the afternoon. The tide and weather were favorable, and we were able to thoroughly explore the caverns and other wonders of the coast of which the Causeway itself forms a very small part. Laden with a miscellaneous collection of rocks as souvenirs, we got back to our hotel late in the evening and very tired. In the morning we went to Londonderry and played before a good crowd on the Academical grounds. We had two or three hours to spare and spent them exploring the city. The chief objects of interest are the walls and the gates, and when you have seen them you have seen all. We journeyed as far as Enniskillen that night, and after sleeping there left in the morning for Dublin, which city we reached about noon. We had a good crowd at the match, and played a very lively game as a wind-up to the trip. The usual amount of sightseeing was indulged in, and of course the first place visited was the scene of the Phoenix park tragedy. It seems wonderful how such an affair could have occurred in such a public place. We had intended to spend another day in Dublin, but the smell of the gigantic sewer which runs through the middle of the city, and which they call the Liffey, was too much for us. We got out as fast as we could back to Belfast, the boys all laden with black thorns, which appear to be the staple of Dublin.

The remaining day of our stay in this country was spent in various ways. Some of the party went yachting, others driving and a few, assisted by members of the Belfast lacrosse club, played a match in the afternoon against the Indians for the benefit of the lacrosse club and got a most unmerciful licking from the red skins.

We are now on the point of starting back for Canada. Our trip is almost ended, and I don't think any of us are sorry. It has become monotonous, and to get back to business will be like taking a holiday. Bonnell left us at Dublin. He intends returning on the August 16. Dwight left for Scotland tonight and will spend a month or so in that country and on the continent before returning.

This letter has been written hurriedly in the forlorn hope of catching the mail and such as it is I let it go.

Mr. Struthers has just furnished me with the following facts and figures which will likely be of interest to lacrosse men:

THE CITY'S PROPERTY.

Bathing at the Filtering Basin—Provision Against Loss of Life.

Ald. Baxter presided at a meeting of the city property committee yesterday afternoon. There were also present Ald Steiner, Blevins, Saunders, Carlyle and Leslie. Ald. Carlyle reported that the expense of filling up the filtering basin at the Island would be too heavy and it was decided not to attempt the work. However, placards prohibiting bathing in the basin will be posted up. A sub-committee reported in favor of granting two rooms in St. Paul's hall as a branch of the public library. The report was adopted. Mr. E M Chadwick and a number of other gentlemen applied for a lease of lot 61 on the Island as a site for erecting a church. Commissioner Coatsworth reported that through that lot was the only outlet to the Island park and he would suggest another site. This suggestion was acted upon. Messrs. R. Leslie, J. Jones and David Hunter want a tract of land near the Woodbine race-course owned by the city, surveyed and leased to them. The committee decided to postpone action in the matter. Island Constable Ward addressed the committee, and urged the importance of providing him with a suitable boat and a number of life preservers to be kept at the public baths. This suggestion he made in view of the large number of fatal accidents in the bay. Mr. Ward remarked that the government had been applied to to provide a life-boat for use in the bay and lake. A committee was named to consider Mr. Ward's request.

The Strikers' Concert.

The Gardens were well patronized last night and the concert gave the fullest satisfaction. It is a matter of regret, however, that a greater number did not avail themselves of the opportunity afforded them of showing their sympathy with the telegraphers in their struggle for their rights. The program was opened by a quartette, Song of the Triton, by Mr. Warrington, Mrs. Bradley, Mr. Jenkins and Miss Berryman. The Wheel of Fortune, a mezzo soprano solo by Miss Berryman, elicited an encore and a bouquet. Mr. F. Jenkins and Mr. Warrington gave a duet and several solos each, which were all received with enthusiasm. Mrs. Bradley sang Il Bacio and Burst ye Apple Buds, and received a hearty encore. Mr. Hurst sang Brown the Tragedian and Run for the Doctor. Mr. Hurst is ingratiating himself more and more with the Toronto public. On the whole the strikers may be congratulated as having got up one of the finest local concerts given in the Gardens this season.

DOMINION LAUNDRY,

The following letter appeared in Saturday's Mail in advertisement of Jas. Campbell & Son:

GENTLEMEN: "In reply to your enquiry whether Gage's Canadian Readers have been 'adopted in the Provincial Normal Schools at Toronto and Ottawa for training teachers,' as stated in the advertisement or circular of W. J. Gage & Co., I am directed to say that Gage's Canadian Readers have not been adopted in the Provincial Normal Schools at Toronto or Ottawa. The statement in the advertisement or circular referred to by you is without authority." I have the honor to be, gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
(Signed) ALEX. MARLING,
Secretary.

MESSRS. JAS CAMPBELL & SON,
Publishers, etc., Toronto.

In reply to the above we beg to submit the following facts:

Gage's Canadian Readers have been used in the Provincial Normal School, Toronto, during the past year—a sufficient number of copies having been purchased by an officer of the Department to supply every student in attendance.

Moreover, the teacher of Reading in the Normal School used our Tablets, while the students had the Primers themselves.

In fact, we would suppose that it was a necessity, as long as the present system of teaching Reading is adopted in Normal schools, to either purchase our books or import some American Readers, since "Gage's Canadian Readers" are the only Canadian School Readers by which the Phonic Method can be taught,—in all other authorized Readers more than one sound of a letter being introduced in the same lesson.

The books, therefore, being purchased for use, and being used as above stated, we believed we were fairly entitled to use the words, "Adopted in Provincial Normal School, Toronto."

With reference to the use of the words "Adopted for use in Ottawa," we may say that we hold a letter from the Principal of Normal School, Ottawa, stating that the same readers would be used there as had been used at Toronto, and at the same time strongly recommending ours.

We supposed that the recommendation of the Principal of the Normal School, Ottawa, as the person most conversent with the appliances necessary for the efficient teaching of Reading in the institution over which he presides, would without hesitation be acted upon.

Further, while we believe from the foregoing facts it would appear that we were perfectly justified in using the words "Adopted in the Provincial Normal School, Toronto," yet, to prevent any possible mistake—and without our attention being called to the use of the word "Adopted," by the Department or anyone else—in later circulars and advertisements we printed—

"Used in the Provincial Normal Schools, Toronto," Recommended by the Principal of the Normal School, Ottawa."

We are sure that the foregoing facts were not before Mr. Marling; otherwise the letter as printed above would not have been written by him.

CONFEDERATION LIFE ASSOCIATION.

PRESIDENT—SIR W. P. HOWLAND, C.B., K.C.M.G.
VICE-PRESIDENTS—HON. WM. McMASTER, WM. ELLIOT, ESQ.

Referring to the advertisement of this association in The World of Tuesday last, it may be explained that the much larger sum called for by the valuation made by Professor Cherriman, under the government standard for Canada, than is required by the valuation made by Mr. Homans on the standard for the STATE OF NEW YORK, arises solely from the greater severity of the Mortality Table of the Institute of Actuaries of Great Britain as compared with the "American Experience" Table of Mortality, as the same rate of interest was used in each case.

The reason why the valuation made by this Association's own actuary CALLS FOR A STILL LARGER RESERVE than even that required by Professor Cherriman's valuation arises from the fact that the directors consider THAT SECURITY TO THE POLICY-HOLDERS is the FIRST thing, and, therefore, not content to provide simply as in other companies, they add an additional TEN per cent. to the liability under all BONUS ADDITIONS and PAID UP ASSURANCES as well as those being paid up, such as TEN and FIFTEEN payments
