

A tea your grocer recommends is usually good tea

RED ROSE TEA "is good tea"

And most grocers recommend it

KILLING THE COAL INDUSTRY

(From The New York Commercial)

John L. Lewis, President of the United Mine Workers is talking again. He says there is a great conspiracy on the part of the bituminous operators to destroy his organization. There is a conspiracy to destroy it, but that conspiracy is not directed by operators, but instead by men within his union, and their system to destroy consists in making demands which are unfair, unreasonable—in fact, almost criminal. Mr. Lewis threatens a nationwide strike of soft coal miners if the Jacksonville agreement is repudiated.

In view of the fact that there is being very little coal mined under that agreement, and in view of the fact that because of that agreement a large percentage of the soft coal miners, members of the United Mine Workers, are now idle, this threat is a mere word gesture which means little. Today soft coal is being mined under open shop agreements. No operator can pay the scale and keep the demands of the Jacksonville agreement and not lose money.

Considering the entire coal situation it seems strange that Mr. Lewis is preparing to make a demand for an increase in the miner's wages. Should his organization insist upon this and go on strike he will find public sentiment aroused as it has never been aroused before. Mr. Lewis need not be reminded that in the last election of the United Mine Workers the Communist candidate for president polled about one-third of the entire vote. This element, which he says he desires to "throw out" of the organization, will be using every means at their command to bring about a strike. Their own hope of future success lies in the rioting, destruction and exhibitions of viciousness which follow a strike.

The public is becoming interested in the coal situation. Slowly, but surely, the people are awakening to the fact that a great deal has been put over on them in the past in the name of the "poor down-trodden coal miner." Pathetic pictures have been drawn and have appealed, but the constantly increasing price paid for coal has caused the more thoughtful to do a little investigating for themselves, and they have learned their pocketbooks have been injured because of their sympathy.

The entire coal industry is in a bad way today. Hundreds of large mines are closed down entirely. Those that are working are not operating under contract with the United Mine Workers, but are operating under the American plan, which permits any person, regardless of union affiliation to work if he wants work.

The coming meeting to negotiate a wage agreement in the anthracite fields between the operators and United Mine Workers will be watched with a great deal of interest. Any attempt to "put something over" either by union or operators, will be met with vigorous protests on the part of the consumers. It is time there was a clean and fair showing down in the coal industry. The people are demanding it and demanding with certain knowledge that in the next few days have been given a square deal.

An increased wage to authorize miners at this time would be suicidal for the industry. It likewise would be suicidal for the union. The United Mine Workers are not in good repute at the best. What that organization needs is public confidence. That confidence it does not now possess. To strike for increased wages would mean the early destruction of the organization. To that end possibly a strike would be a good thing.

CANADA AT N. Z. EXHIBITION

Toronto.—Canada will be well represented at the New Zealand and South Seas Exhibition, which opens at Dunedin in November, 1925, and will run until April of next year. D. H. Ross, former Canadian Trade Commissioner to Australia, has supervision of the Canadian court.

Canadian exports to New Zealand have grown from $2,500,000 in 1913 to more than $15,000,000 a year, and prospects for increased trade appear better in New Zealand in proportion than in any other part of the globe.

MOTURING IN THE MARITIMES

Good Words for the Admiral Beatty Hotel.

Motoring in the Maritime Provinces has at last come to the point where it is enjoyable. The roads throughout Nova Scotia and New Brunswick are better than the average, and after the cars are rolling from the docks of the steamers to the docks on arrival the pleasure begins. Nowhere else on the entire continent can better scenic motoring be had. Views that are exquisite, with changes of scenery and coloring varied enough to suit anyone, are to be had at all times. At Saint John one may motor up the shores of the Kennecott. River take lunch at charming roadside inns, and return in time to have dinner and a good night's rest before starting in a new direction, down to St. George and St. Stephen along quiet country roads, or up the shores of the Saint John River to Fredericton, right on to Quebec and Montreal if one wishes.

Mrs. George H. O'Neill, wife of the general manager of all the Canadian hotels operated by the United Hotels Co., returned from Quebec to Saint John last week, a distance of 142 miles, in one day, and she said she never travelled over better roads anywhere. In Nova Scotia the roads are equally as good. The enterprising Canadians, with an eye to American money, have for the past few years been putting their roads in order, and hereafter will reap the benefit. The hotels in Nova Scotia while not large are comfortable, many of them attractive, and offer an abundance of well cooked food at reasonable rates.

The new hotel at Saint John, N. B., the Admiral Beatty, which was opened recently, is literally the talk of the town. It is modern from basement to penthouse, commanding views of the bay, harbor and surrounding country, and when Manager Peter's organization is complete, all the machinery well oiled, the new hotel will compare favorably with the best to be found in much larger cities. That society talk of the loyalist city will take kindly to the new order of things and hold their various events in the spacious rooms of the Admiral Beatty is a foregone conclusion. Saint John's leading financial people and investors in the new hotel feel that it will be a success from the start. (Boston News Bureau)

NORTH RANGE

Mr. Walter Hersey and Mr. Leo Fenworth from Centerville, and Mr. J. W. Brazeau from Brudenay, Saturday, the 11th.

Mr. Alexander Macdonald and Mrs. Joseph Potter and family, from Plympton, attended church at North Range, Sunday evening.

Mr. Harold McNeil, from Brockton, Mass., is visiting relatives in this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bowers and son Walter, and Mr. and Mrs. Deakin from Natick and Lynn, Mass., who have been visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Wright, have returned to their homes.

Mr. Roy Lloyd and Boyd Graham from Centerville, Digby Neck, were the Sunday guests of their sister, Mrs. Curtis Haight.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Wright and family and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wright and family, are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Doran Haight, having driven from their homes in Brockton, Mass., in their cars.

Miss Lila M. Haight is in Boston, staying with Mrs. DeWolf for the summer.

Our teacher, Miss Frances LeGoux, as returned to her home in Halifax. She will spend a few days there, then go to Newfoundland, where she will spend her vacation. She was a good teacher and was beloved by scholars and parents.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Albert O. Treffrey

Death has again entered North Range, taking one of our beloved sisters, Mrs. Albert O. Treffrey. She had been in poor health for several years, suffering from those dread diseases, cancer and dropsy. She was peacefully released by her husband, just seven months ago, and she has been confined to the house ever since, suffering as only those who have those dread diseases suffer. The deceased was 63 years old and leaves three sons, John in the far West; Willis, in Strasburg, Me., Fred, at home and one daughter, Villa in the hospital in N. C., a victim to T. B. But their loss is her gain for—She is at rest, hence for its secure, whatever comes or goes. And we know "There is no death; What seems so is transition; this life of mortal breath is but a suburb of the life Elysian, whos portals, we call death."

She will be keenly missed in the church in the home and in the W. M. A. S., where she was such a faithful worker. (Digby Courier please copy)

UPPER GRANVILLE

Miss Irene Balem with little nephew, were amongst other visitors at Mr. and Mrs. Adam Clark's recently. Mr. and Mrs. David Foster, of Kersdale were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Berry, student at Annapolis.

Miss Beeler, residing at Annapolis Royal with small nephew are visitors of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Mack.

Mrs. Burgess and four sons are enjoying a holiday with their aunt, Mrs. Gains Elsner.

Messrs. Claude and deBlais Gills, motored from Boston and are spending their vacation with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Gills and other relatives.

Miss Claire Parker is at home and always gladly welcomed by friends.

Miss Wheelock Clarence, has been engaged as teacher in this section, for the coming year.

Weather conditions are improving and haying is in order, crops generally through Granville have suffered much from continued wet weather and are reported far below average, hay excepted being plentiful with prices far below par.

THE CANDIDATE AND HIS WAYS.

The candidates, who sought the vote of the electors during the last local election, will, no doubt, appreciate the following, written in 1884, by a United States Judge, long since passed away:

"Father, what travels this road so fast, my child, 'tis the candidate; 'Tis example of human weal— Early he comes and late he goes; He greets the women with courtly grace, He kisses the baby's dirty face, He calls to the fence the farmer at work, The blacksmith while the anvil rings, He greets, and this is the song he sings:

"Howdy, howdy, howdy do? How is your wife, and how are you? Ah! It hits my fist as no other can, The horny hand of the working man."

"Hush, my love, 'tis the candidate; 'Hashall, why can't he work like you? Has he nothing at home to do? My dear, whenever a man is down No cash at home, no money in town, Too stupid to preach, too proud to beg, Then over his horse his leg he flings, And in the dear people this song he sings:

"Howdy, howdy, howdy do? How is your wife, and how are you? Ah! It hits my fist as no other can, The horny hand of the working man."

"Hush, my love, 'tis the candidate; 'Hashall, why can't he work like you? Has he nothing at home to do? My dear, whenever a man is down No cash at home, no money in town, Too stupid to preach, too proud to beg, Then over his horse his leg he flings, And in the dear people this song he sings:

"Howdy, howdy, howdy do? How is your wife, and how are you? Ah! It hits my fist as no other can, The horny hand of the working man."

"Hush, my love, 'tis the candidate; 'Hashall, why can't he work like you? Has he nothing at home to do? My dear, whenever a man is down No cash at home, no money in town, Too stupid to preach, too proud to beg, Then over his horse his leg he flings, And in the dear people this song he sings:

"Howdy, howdy, howdy do? How is your wife, and how are you? Ah! It hits my fist as no other can, The horny hand of the working man."

"Hush, my love, 'tis the candidate; 'Hashall, why can't he work like you? Has he nothing at home to do? My dear, whenever a man is down No cash at home, no money in town, Too stupid to preach, too proud to beg, Then over his horse his leg he flings, And in the dear people this song he sings:

"Howdy, howdy, howdy do? How is your wife, and how are you? Ah! It hits my fist as no other can, The horny hand of the working man."

"Hush, my love, 'tis the candidate; 'Hashall, why can't he work like you? Has he nothing at home to do? My dear, whenever a man is down No cash at home, no money in town, Too stupid to preach, too proud to beg, Then over his horse his leg he flings, And in the dear people this song he sings:

"Howdy, howdy, howdy do? How is your wife, and how are you? Ah! It hits my fist as no other can, The horny hand of the working man."

"Hush, my love, 'tis the candidate; 'Hashall, why can't he work like you? Has he nothing at home to do? My dear, whenever a man is down No cash at home, no money in town, Too stupid to preach, too proud to beg, Then over his horse his leg he flings, And in the dear people this song he sings:

WORRIES IN THE HOME

It is These That Cause Many a Broken Home in Health.

Almost every woman at the head of a home meets daily with little worries in her household affairs. They may be too small to notice an hour afterwards, but it is the same little worries that break down the health of so many women. Tense effort, rickety appetite, indigestion, pains in the side or back, and a sallow complexion. To those afflicted in this way Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, by improving and purifying the blood, bring speedy relief. Among thousands of weak women who have tested and proved the merits of this medicine, is Mrs. Gustave Hutt, Bruxelles, Man., who says: "It is with profound thanks that I write to tell you what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me. Before I began taking these pills I was weak and my blood thin and watery. I was so thin that I looked like a skeleton. I was troubled with headaches and indigestion, did not sleep well, and was terribly constipated. I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and soon found that they were just what I needed. Under their use my appetite returned, my food digested properly, and I slept better at night, and gained in flesh as well as strength. The result is that now I am a perfectly healthy woman, and there is no doubt that it is due to the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, a supply of which I now always keep in the house, and I would advise other women to do the same."

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

FEW P. Q. FOREST FIRES

Protective Service Exceedingly Vigilant This Year.

Quebec.—Despite the fact that but four serious forest fires in the province of Quebec, it was learned today that about one hundred incipient outbreaks have been reported during the same period, but little or no damage was caused by these.

The forest protection service, of which Henri Kiefer in the chief, is exercising the utmost caution to prevent forest fires breaking out and they are exceedingly vigilant when it comes to the question of burning slash, banning it whenever they think such would endanger timber limits, and in other cases burning the slash themselves, with pumps and other precautionary equipment.

The first bulletin of the season on the operations of the forest protection service branch will be issued this week.

All shoes are easily shined with

2 in 1 Shoe Polish

The standard 1st value Everybody knows the quality Compare the quantity

REV. J. H. FREESTONE AT WESLEY CHURCH

Rev. J. H. Freestone, who succeeds Rev. H. T. Gonnal, pastor of Wesley Church, Yarmouth North accompanied by Mrs. Freestone and family, arrived in Yarmouth last week and on Sunday occupied the pulpit at the morning service in the City of Toronto, occupied the pulpit and preached an able sermon. He is a very eloquent speaker and the message he left with the large congregation was a real inspiration for lasting good.

In the evening Mr. Freestone preached for the first time as pastor of Wesley. He had, however, on one or two previous occasions spoken from that pulpit, consequently he was not a real stranger to the congregation. There was a goodly number present and all were deeply imbued with the great spirit of earnestness which, throughout dominated his discourse. The preacher took his text from I. Corinthians 11:2, "For I determined not to know anything among you, save Jesus and him, crucified. His treatise of that saying of Paul's was brilliant and appealing, while the speaker left with his congregation a beautiful line of divine thought, for his consolation. During the course of his sermon, Mr. Freestone took the opportunity to make an appeal to the adherents of Wesley for their concerted support and co-operation during his term as a pastor, in order that the Church may well maintain its high standing for good in the community. (Yarmouth Herald)

HEATED PITCOU SHEARS SOW NAILS FOR SHEIKS' CAR—BUT MISS THEM AND GET EVERYBODY ELSE ON ROAD

Today's best story comes from Pictou. Here is how James A. Fraser, veteran editor, tells it in his paper, The Eastern Chronicle:

"Some days ago a spread of nails on the road near the summer resort at Pictou Landing, occasioned no little annoyance and unpleasantness to motorists in that vicinity. The story is more than one car were thoroughly jammed. The reluctant damages caused by the indignation. Requests for capture and punishment of the culprits were proclaimed.

"It now transpires, or it is rumored to the effect, that the old eternal triangle caused the trouble. The story as unearched by an amateur detective runs: Two young town gallants, noted for the ease to pay their respects to two fair young maidens who were sunning themselves. But it so happened these were not the only young ones on that range. The two youths saw two others whom they deemed fairer. They transferred their affections. The deserted and forlorn maidens resolved on revenge. They broadcast the roofing nails along the highway with only one object, to catch and worry the recreant livers. But love is blind and this blindness brought disaster in other directions. There will be no prosecutions. Sympathy for the bereft maidens has choked the process of the law, and the incident passes into the history of the Beaches as one in which injured affections ended in damaged motor tires."

SOCIAL WELFARE LEGISLATION

THE OUTLOOK FOR THE FUTURE BRIGHT

Some weeks before the date of the provincial election a letter was sent to our officers and Executive in every county requesting that the attitude of candidates be ascertained, respecting questions affecting the social and moral welfare of the province.

As soon as taken in most of the counties and we obtained assurances from Conservative, Labor and Liberal candidates, that if elected we might depend upon them to use their influence and vote for the following:—

(1)—Additional necessary legislation for the protection of children.

(2)—Adequate provision for the care of the feeble-minded.

(3)—The establishment of a Refractory or Industrial Farm to replace our present jail system in order that persons who must for a time be kept under restraint may have reasonable employment, and receive humane treatment.

(4)—The improvement and effective enforcement of the Temperance Act.

(5)—The enactment of legislation and the making of regulations to restrict the sale of liquor by the Board of Vendor Commissioners, to use in accord with the intention of the Act.

(6)—The enforcement of the Lord's Day Act, the law relating to gambling and the enforcement of other laws in the interests of public safety, public health and public morals.

We are gratified in being able to say that Social Welfare Legislation will have the support of the men elected, although all did not have an opportunity of declaring themselves, the questions not having been submitted in a few counties.

A sufficient number of the strongest men from the various counties have committed themselves in reply to questions submitted to guarantee, by the incoming government, such additional legislation for the protection of children, the care of the feeble-minded, and the care of prisoners, as the provincial finances will permit.

With reference to the Temperance question we have satisfactory assurance that the law will be strengthened and enforced, and such restrictions placed upon the Board of Vendor Commissioners that the moral sentiment of the province will no longer be outraged by the sale of liquor not in any way in keeping with the intention of the Act.

SOCIAL WELFARE LEGISLATION

THE OUTLOOK FOR THE FUTURE BRIGHT

Some weeks before the date of the provincial election a letter was sent to our officers and Executive in every county requesting that the attitude of candidates be ascertained, respecting questions affecting the social and moral welfare of the province.

As soon as taken in most of the counties and we obtained assurances from Conservative, Labor and Liberal candidates, that if elected we might depend upon them to use their influence and vote for the following:—

(1)—Additional necessary legislation for the protection of children.

(2)—Adequate provision for the care of the feeble-minded.

(3)—The establishment of a Refractory or Industrial Farm to replace our present jail system in order that persons who must for a time be kept under restraint may have reasonable employment, and receive humane treatment.

(4)—The improvement and effective enforcement of the Temperance Act.

(5)—The enactment of legislation and the making of regulations to restrict the sale of liquor by the Board of Vendor Commissioners, to use in accord with the intention of the Act.

(6)—The enforcement of the Lord's Day Act, the law relating to gambling and the enforcement of other laws in the interests of public safety, public health and public morals.

We are gratified in being able to say that Social Welfare Legislation will have the support of the men elected, although all did not have an opportunity of declaring themselves, the questions not having been submitted in a few counties.

A sufficient number of the strongest men from the various counties have committed themselves in reply to questions submitted to guarantee, by the incoming government, such additional legislation for the protection of children, the care of the feeble-minded, and the care of prisoners, as the provincial finances will permit.

With reference to the Temperance question we have satisfactory assurance that the law will be strengthened and enforced, and such restrictions placed upon the Board of Vendor Commissioners that the moral sentiment of the province will no longer be outraged by the sale of liquor not in any way in keeping with the intention of the Act.

The Act has not yet had a satisfactory trial. The majority vote for prohibition of about 60,000 in 1920 should have demonstrated to our legislators that there is an overwhelming temperance sentiment in this province. That vote now speaks to our present representatives.

The Rhodes government will have an opportunity of justifying its control of affairs of state in various ways and particularly by giving us enactment and absolutely impartial enforcement of social welfare legislation.

Statesmen understand that government is instituted, and should be maintained, not merely for the purpose of promoting material progress, but also for the higher purpose of promoting social welfare, including public health, public safety, and public morals.

H. R. GRANT, General Secretary, SOCIAL SERVICE COUNCIL, New Glasgow, N. S., July 19th, 1925.

DOUKHOBORS REFORM

To Respect Canadian Institutions in Future.

Victoria, B. C.—Peter Veregin, the younger, recently elected ruler of British Columbia Doukhobors, will order in among the Russian colonists a policy of rigid compliance with Canadian laws, according to word received here by Hon. J. D. Maclean, Minister of Education, from Brilliant, following the receipt of letters therefrom from Veregin himself. Veregin is expected to arrive in British Columbia this month from Russia.

The Doukhobors held a big mass meeting in Brilliant, a few days ago, when an almost unanimous decision was reached to respect Canadian institutions in future.

THIS MAN SAVED PRAIRIE BUFFALO FROM EXTINCTION

Pioneer Foresaw That Herds Would be Wiped Out Unless Something Were Done.

Winnipeg, Man.—Had it not been for the foresight and energy of Mr. Alloway, Winnipeg pioneer of the early '70's, the Canadian prairie buffalo would have been as extinct today as the dinosaur of prehistoric times.

As it is, there are now three distinct herds totalling 8,000 animals, one at Wainwright Park, Alberta, another in process of transfer to Fort William, N. W. T., and a third at Banff National Park. Their blood grandparents were presented by the late Lord Strathcona, and James J. Hill, founder of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railways.

Mr. Alloway relates how he came to be instrumental in saving the remnant of the myriad host of buffalo that roamed the far-flung prairie.

"It was away back in 1873," Mr. Alloway said, "that I conceived the idea that the day might dawn when the vast buffalo herds would be depleted. I had bought as many as 21,000 buffalo hides from a group of Indians. It didn't take any high mathematics to realize that this rate of extermination could not go on forever, especially when the force of hunters was steadily increasing.

With a nucleus of five animals Mr. Alloway raised a large herd and with hundreds of the buffalo being shipped across the border annually, the Federal Government bought the entire herd, numbering approximately 400, whose progenitors had been the five calves. The government paid $250,000 for the herd.

The present movement of buffaloes from Wainwright Park, Mr. Alloway declares, indicates how the animals will increase under natural conditions of peace and contentment. "I am convinced that the immense bush buffalo in the Fort Smith country, are descending from some remnants of herds driven by hunters and wolves into the interior during a season when the water was low enough to be forded." Mr. Alloway declared. The change of environment would account for their large size and different shaped horns.

FOURIST TRAVEL IS ON THE INCREASE

Summer Hotels in Digby and at Seaside Resorts Rapidly Filling up

Digby.—The increase in tourist travel is beginning to be felt in all sections of Digby county, and every day new American cars are noticed on the streets of the town. All of the large summer hotels are going full swing and the houses are rapidly filling up with summer guests.

Improvements have been made to all the big hotels in town and by midsummer there is every indication that accommodations will be at a premium. The benefit from the money that has been spent in advertising Digby as a summer resort is beginning to be felt, not only in the town, but also in the several villages throughout the county that cater to that profitable trade.

The tourists are coming in increasing numbers to Sandy Cove, Centerville, Little River and all along Digby Neck this year, and there is a noticeable increase in the number at Bay View and Culloden, where several of the residents have built log cabins and summer bungalows to meet the demand. It is also expected that the beautiful resort at Smith's Cove will have all the visitors that can be accommodated.

DOUKHOBORS REFORM

To Respect Canadian Institutions in Future.

Victoria, B. C.—Peter Veregin, the younger, recently elected ruler of British Columbia Doukhobors, will order in among the Russian colonists a policy of rigid compliance with Canadian laws, according to word received here by Hon. J. D. Maclean, Minister of Education, from Brilliant, following the receipt of letters therefrom from Veregin himself. Veregin is expected to arrive in British Columbia this month from Russia.

The Doukhobors held a big mass meeting in Brilliant, a few days ago, when an almost unanimous decision was reached to respect Canadian institutions in future.

THIS MAN SAVED PRAIRIE BUFFALO FROM EXTINCTION

Pioneer Foresaw That Herds Would be Wiped Out Unless Something Were Done.

Winnipeg, Man.—Had it not been for the foresight and energy of Mr. Alloway, Winnipeg pioneer of the early '70's, the Canadian prairie buffalo would have been as extinct today as the dinosaur of prehistoric times.

As it is, there are now three distinct herds totalling 8,000 animals, one at Wainwright Park, Alberta, another in process of transfer to Fort William, N. W. T., and a third at Banff National Park. Their blood grandparents were presented by the late Lord Strathcona, and James J. Hill, founder of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railways.

Mr. Alloway relates how he came to be instrumental in saving the remnant of the myriad host of buffalo that roamed the far-flung prairie.

"It was away back in 1873," Mr. Alloway said, "that I conceived the idea that the day might dawn when the vast buffalo herds would be depleted. I had bought as many as 21,000 buffalo hides from a group of Indians. It didn't take any high mathematics to realize that this rate of extermination could not go on forever, especially when the force of hunters was steadily increasing.

With a nucleus of five animals Mr. Alloway raised a large herd and with hundreds of the buffalo being shipped across the border annually, the Federal Government bought the entire herd, numbering approximately 400, whose progenitors had been the five calves. The government paid $250,000 for the herd.

The present movement of buffaloes from Wainwright Park, Mr. Alloway declares, indicates how the animals will increase under natural conditions of peace and contentment. "I am convinced that the immense bush buffalo in the Fort Smith country, are descending from some remnants of herds driven by hunters and wolves into the interior during a season when the water was low enough to be forded." Mr. Alloway declared. The change of environment would account for their large size and different shaped horns.

FOURIST TRAVEL IS ON THE INCREASE

Summer Hotels in Digby and at Seaside Resorts Rapidly Filling up

Digby.—The increase in tourist travel is beginning to be felt in all sections of Digby county, and every day new American cars are noticed on the streets of the town. All of the large summer hotels are going full swing and the houses are rapidly filling up with summer guests.

Improvements have been made to all the big hotels in town and by midsummer there is every indication that accommodations will be at a premium. The benefit from the money that has been spent in advertising Digby as a summer resort is beginning to be felt, not only in the town, but also in the several villages throughout the county that cater to that profitable trade.

The tourists are coming in increasing numbers to Sandy Cove, Centerville, Little River and all along Digby Neck this year, and there is a noticeable increase in the number at Bay View and Culloden, where several of the residents have built log cabins and summer bungalows to meet the demand. It is also expected that the beautiful resort at Smith's Cove will have all the visitors that can be accommodated.

That Fellow Feeling

You are all wrapped up in the merchandise that fills your store. You enthuse over the quality of this article and that line. You probably display the goods attractively, too

All you need now is to transmit your enthusiasm to the buying public of your community—and your goods will move out and profits roll in.

ADVERTISE. For advertising makes the customer feel as you do about the goods you have to sell. Every time you talk to prospective buyers through an Advertisement in "THE WEEKLY MONITOR," you are increasing the fellow feeling that brings business to your store.

"An Advertisement Is An Invitation"

Delicious

Home-made Sausages, Bacon Breakfast Ham, and numerous other meat delicacies—this is the place to get them, always fresh and at a reasonable price.

WE HAVE IN STOCK.

Choice meat, meat for mincing, Beef, Pork, Veal, Lamb, and Poultry, Canned goods and groceries.

ORDER EARLY

LOWE'S Meat Market

Queen Street, Bridgetown

Minaard's Linctment for Sore Feet.

DOUKHOBORS REFORM

To Respect Canadian Institutions in Future.

Victoria, B. C.—Peter Veregin, the younger, recently elected ruler of British Columbia Doukhobors, will order in among the Russian colonists a policy of rigid compliance with Canadian laws, according to word received here by Hon. J. D. Maclean, Minister of Education, from Brilliant, following the receipt of letters therefrom from Veregin himself. Veregin is expected to arrive in British Columbia this month from Russia.

The Doukhobors held a big mass meeting in Brilliant, a few days ago, when an almost unanimous decision was reached to respect Canadian institutions in future.