AN EMOTIONAL CLIMAX.
WHEN THE NERVES ARE OUT OF GEAR
They Need New, Rich Blood to Restore Their Tone.

Men and women with nerves out of gear become irritable and fretful and are blamed for ill-temper; whereas the fault is not theirs. Their poor health is the cause. The tired, over-busy wife or mother, whose household cares have worn her out; the breadwinner whose anxiety for his family has worried him until he is thin and ill, are the nerve sufferers who become run down. Their nerves, like all bodily organs, need healthy red blood; worry tells on their digestion and a course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is necessary, for these pills make new blood and tone up the nervous system. The patient becomes full of energy and happiness for themselves and others returns. Mrs. W. M. Hughes, Coldwater, Ont., has proved the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and does not hesitate to say so. She says: "Two years ago I suffered untold agonies with my nerves. The pains in my head and the back of my neck were unbearable. I was depressed and cranky all the time. All the rest I took and best of medical attention did me no good. I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after taking them for a time felt much better. I continued their use with great benefit, and after my baby was born they were the only tonic that helped me nurse her. I found them a splendid blood enricher, and cannot recommend them too highly."

You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

WAR-TIME WHEAT PROFITS.
Western Canadian farmers will be some half-million dollars richer this spring by the distribution among the Western provinces of the surplus profits of the operations of the Canada Wheat Board, which marked the 1919 crop. The order-in-Council which authorizes the disposition of this much-disputed surplus, now proposed in the Treasury of Canada, has not been signed, and details of the amount available and of how much will go to the respective provinces have not yet been made public, but it is understood the Government has decided to return the money to the Western wheat growers, whose grain, marketed under war-times wheat pool conditions, netted for the now extinct Canada Wheat Board a profit over the estimated returns. The amount available in the Treasury was estimated last session at $550,000.

THE KITCHEN GARDEN.
(Experimental Farms, Note.)
Location
Every home should have its kitchen garden. Some may have a very small area in the back yard or along a fence; others may have large areas available, but each should undertake only what can be well cared for. A kitchen garden requires regular systematic care and attention. When these are supplied, it will return luscious fruit and crisp fresh vegetables throughout their seasons and will stock the cellar for winter use, with most heartily food. Make the kitchen garden near the house. It will then receive more attention and can be made a success.
The tools required are few. The four chief tools being a spade, a digging fork, a rake and a hoe. A plow and harrow if available, will greatly lessen the hard work.
A definite plan should be made during the winter showing the layout of the garden. The seeds should be ordered early. Most of the work can be completed before the regular rush of spring work commences. A plot of land 56 feet by 66 feet, well fenced, should supply enough vegetables for the average family. Paths should be arranged so that the worker can easily and quickly get to any row in the garden. Two paths might cross at right angles through the centre of the garden each way.
The garden should have a heavy application of manure well worked into the soil. A coat from three to five inches thick would require five tons or more for the one-tenth acre suggested. Plow this under in the autumn when possible or work well rotted manure thoroughly into the land in the early spring. Do not work a heavy soil when it is wet. If a light mulch is made with a garden rake on the top of a damp soil the land will quickly dry out on a fine spring day and good tilth can be obtained by working.
Beds of asparagus and rhubarb might occupy the fence corners. Plantations of raspberries, gooseberries and currants might be set along the fences. Rows of strawberries might line either side of the paths dividing the garden into four equal parts. Vegetables having a long season should be grouped together to keep the garden tidy. Vegetables that have a short season should be planted in rotation so that one crop may follow another in their season. Several seedlings of some sorts will give a practically continuous supply of fresh vegetables.
(a) The vegetables to be sown very early are: beets, carrots, lettuce, onions, parsnips, peas and radishes.
(b) Those to be secured from hot-beds and hardened to stand some frost are: cabbage, cauliflower, celery and tomatoes.
(c) After danger from frost is over the following may be planted: beans, corn, cucumbers, potatoes and squash.
Many other choice vegetables may be added after the first year's experience. Don't undertake more than you can do well and what you can do in the time available. Have everything handy.

6600 MILES UNDERGROUND RAILWAYS.
CANADA'S GREAT LOSS.

When we talk of railways in Canada, says the Natural Resources Intelligence Service of the Department of the Interior, we naturally think only of the Canadian National and the Canadian Pacific systems. These two organizations, for one reason or another, are constantly getting into print.
Canada, however, has other railways, quite as important for the purpose for which they are being used as the two larger systems. In the coal mines of Nova Scotia there are over 6,000 miles of underground passageways, which have been excavated to produce the coal for which this province is noted. In these passageways there are laid over 300 miles of railways, on much of which electric locomotives and trains of cars bring the coal to the bottom of the shaft. This railway line is rarely heard of for the reason that we are more interested in the coal than in the means of securing it.
In British Columbia's forests there are 21 railways, with 615 miles of railway line, equipped with 116 locomotives and the necessary cars for bringing out the logs. These are not in any sense toy railways. They are standard in every respect and have to pass inspection. We hear much of the size of some of the loss taken out of the forests of British Columbia, but give little thought to the means of getting them out.
In Northern Ontario many miles of railway are laid underground to bring out the gold, silver and nickel ore of that wonderful mining area. These are not heard of as only the metal production is considered.
The part these railways play in the development of Canada's natural resources is of the greatest importance, and will increase as the exploitation of our mines and forests proceeds.

SCALLOP FISHERMEN MAKE A RICH HAUL.
After many weeks of enforced idleness and hard luck due to ice in the Bay of Fundy which made it impossible for them to carry on their work, the Digby scallop fleet are back on the job and have made daily trips to the beds in the Bay of Fundy. The boats are making a rich harvest during the continued spell of fine weather one of them stocking $1,000 for the week's trip. Scallops are bringing about 40 cents a pound at the present time.

INTERESTING CASE BEFORE CO. COURT.
SENTENCE REDUCED BY APPEAL COURT

Decision Reserved in Case of Custody of Children of Late Dr. Young.
Annapolis Royal.—Judge George Grierson has been holding a special sitting of the County Court to hear a halcyon corpus application in connection with the custody of two infant children of the late Dr. F. W. Young, formerly of Lawrencetown. After the father's death these children were taken by their mother to Baltimore.
In 1919 proceedings were laid in the American courts and the children were placed in the custody of Mrs. Ida Elliott, of Lawrencetown, who was later appointed guardian of the children here. Since 1919 the mother has made two attempts to regain possession of the children. The first attempt was before Judge Drysdale and the second was heard by Judge Melish. Both efforts failed.
These two proceedings are supported by a mass of affidavits on both sides. Under Dr. Young's will the children, now 16 and 18 years of age, will become entitled to between ten and fifteen thousand dollars when they come of age. Judgment was reserved.
THREE BILLIONS SPENT FOR NEW AUTOS DURING 1924.
Washington.—The world spent $3,250,000,000 for new motor vehicles in 1924 according to Percy Owen, chief of the automotive department of the Department of Commerce.
"Returns from the department's trade agents throughout the world indicate that during the past year there was assimilated 3,300,000 passenger cars and trucks and 200,000 motor-cycles which total number at the very conservative figures of $1,000 cycles, enables the department to approximate the amount spent for automobiles in general," says Owen.

Yarmouth.—Last week the Criminal Appeal Court at Halifax rendered its decision in the case of Rex vs. Hamilton and Rex vs. Doucette, reducing the sentences of both defendants from four years to two years.
Hamilton and Doucette were tried at the last June sitting of the Supreme Court at Yarmouth before Chief Justice Harris on the charge of breaking and entering the store of T. W. Smofsky at Caverton, Yarmouth County, and committing an indictable offence therein. They were found guilty and sentenced by Chief Justice Harris to four years in Dorchester.
An appeal was taken against the sentence by their solicitor, F. H. Patterson, on the ground that it was too severe. The case was argued before the Appeal Court last week and Monday their Lordships rendered their decision reducing the sentence from four to two years. The case is of interest as it has only been recently that an appeal can be taken against a sentence, and it is almost the first, if not the first time, that the newly constituted Criminal Appeal Court of Nova Scotia has reviewed and changed a sentence given by one of its own Judges.
MIGHT HAVE BEEN WORSE.
It was toward the end of a theatrical performance when one man intruded to another and said in a harsh grating voice: "Look here, you have sat on my silk hat. It is ruined."
The other looked at the silk hat. It was indeed a wreck. "I am sorry," he said. "That is too bad, but," he added, "it might have been worse."
"How might it have been worse?" exclaimed the first man angrily.
"I might have sat on my own hat," came the unfeeling reply.

GASOLINE TAX.
Toronto.—Under the new tax of three cents per gallon on gasoline, as made public by the premier Wednesday, all purchasers of gasoline for any purpose whatsoever, industrial, cleaning, motor cars, tractors, and motor boats will be obliged to pay the government its impost, according to Premier Ferguson.
"As the tax will be collected from the man who first handles the gasoline, in Ontario after it comes from the manufacturer, the tax will be included in the price to the purchaser," said the premier.

THE CULMINATING EVENT TONIGHT.
The culminating event tonight, not only without exultation, but with a definite feeling of sadness and regret that it had become inevitable; and as the people filed in Sunday night an atmosphere of almost palpable gloom deepened as the audience increased in size.
In this atmosphere the preliminary song and prayer service was conducted, and when Rev. Mr. MacKinnon rose to begin the final sermon of his eight and a half years pastorate, a silence so tense as to be painfully strained eyes and ears to see and hear every movement and every sound uttered by the minister.
The Holy Book could hardly supply a text more apt than that which the preacher chose. Quoting from Ezekiel, with no evident attempt at effect, his simple announcement of four words struck the ears of his congregation with the force of profound drama when he said: "The End Has Come."
With this text as his theme, Rev. Mr. MacKinnon reviewed his pastorate of St. Andrew's, recalling the progress made in the various fields of the church's work, and stressing his regret at being compelled by his convictions to finally sever his connection with a people whom he loved so much, and among whom he had labored with so much pleasure for many years. The sermon was an eloquent address which made a deep impression on all those present, and when the service was brought to a close by the congregation joining in the singing of "God be With You Till We Meet Again," the repressed feelings of many could be no longer controlled, and tears, of which, no one was ashamed, welled from scores of eyes throughout the gathering.
Before the congregation dispersed D. McKittrick, a resigning elder of the church, read an address referring to the work done by Rev. Mr. MacKinnon, likening the minister "to the apostle of old, who preached Christ and Him crucified, and who sought earnestly to bring men to see the error of their ways." The address also commended Rev. Mr. MacKinnon for having faithfully administered the ordinances of the church, and pointed out that the services during his pastorage had been well attended, a large number of members had been added on profession of faith, and the cause of missions had had in him an earnest advocate.

Mrs. MacKinnon was referred to in the address as an able assistant to Rev. Mr. MacKinnon in his pastoral work, having taken a keen interest in the various organizations of the church, and having by her engaging personality and kindness of heart won the esteem of the community.
Following the address, Miss Marion Power presented Rev. Mr. MacKinnon with a purse of gold.
During Rev. Mr. MacKinnon's pastorate 228 names have been added to the list of communicants, and contributions have been increased by 40 per cent.
Sunday morning, St. Andrew's pulpit was occupied by Rev. Jabez Appleby, pastor of Central Union church the pastors of the two churches exchanging for the morning services. Rev. Mr. MacKinnon, in the course of his sermon, thanked the people of Central Union church for their call to him to act as co-pastor until June, but announced that other plans precluded his acceptance.
Sunday night, after the regular church services, the choir of the two churches gave a song service in Central Union.
Rev. Mr. MacKinnon, Mrs. MacKinnon and their daughter, left Lunenburg on Wednesday for Waterville, King's County, where they will remain until July, this year, when Mr. MacKinnon is to become pastor of the Bridgetown Union church.

J. A. Marven, Ltd., had satisfied the annual general meeting of J. A. Marven, Ltd., was held Tuesday afternoon at the office of the company. The report of the auditor, R. Carter, was read, which reviewed a satisfactory year. A dividend of 7 per cent was declared payable March 1st. The old Board of Directors were re-elected: J. A. Marven, L. H. Higgins, J. E. Masters, E. A. Reilly, K.C., and W. F. Ferguson. A good number of stock-holders was present.
At a subsequent meeting of the Directors, J. A. Marven was re-appointed President and General Manager, L. H. Higgins, Vice-President and S. L. Holder, Secretary-Treasurer.

CENSUS FIGURES.
In 1922 Canada with a population of 8,758,453 paid in taxes about $561,460,657. This staggering sum was made up as follows:
Municipal Taxes $178,664,291
Provincial Taxes 47,342,406
Dominion Taxes 335,453,960
Total $561,460,657
This total was 19 percent of the year's total net production of all Canadian industries, including mining, fishing, agriculture. It was almost half the net agricultural production and exceeded the combined gross production of Canadian forests and mines. It was 50 percent of the net manufacturing production in that year. Consciously or unconsciously, every family in Canada is paying a share of this amount either directly or indirectly, through the cost of living, or both.

Does your pen Qualify?
Yes, it's a Waterman's

Any fountain pen's usefulness depends upon three things—the nib, the ink supply and the flow. The nib must conform—the ink supply must be generous, the flow must be steady and continuous. There is a Waterman's nib to suit every possible style of handwriting. The ink supply in every Waterman's is greater than that of any other pen of similar size. The "spongy" feed—exclusive to Waterman's—is the one method by which a steady flow of ink is assured. It is because of these features—because of its ability to write properly at all times—that there are more Waterman's in use than all other makes of fountain pens combined.
