Complaints. — Although the Annals are regularly addressed to all the subscribers, it sometimes happens that they go astray, through no fault on our part, and do not reach their destination. In this case we shall always be disposed to replace them, if we are told what numbers are missing and how many.

❊❊

Thanksgiving. — We faithfully publish all the thanksgivings that are sent us, but, as a rule, we cannot do it sooner than a month after their reception.

❊❊

Correspondence. — Our subscribers may judge of the regularity with which we propose to manage the Annals by the deligence and ponctuaity with which we reply to each of their letters. In this connection we wish to state that every letter containing any money or remittance is invariably answered. Consequently if it be not received within the usual delays, it is a sign that the letter has not reached its destination.

❊❊

Premium. — This year's premium is a picture of St. Anne. It is still finer than that of St. Joseph. The St. Augustine society of Bruges, whose reputation for first class publications is so well known, solicited the favor of being permitted to publish it with its great Catholic Almanac for 1900. This means that the premiun is highly appreciated even in Europe where engraving has reached so high a degree of perfection. This artistic picture is not offered to the trade. It is destined solely to the subscribers of the Annals and will be sent them post-paid on receipt of their subscription.

❊❊

Annals of 1898. — Those desirous of doing so, can still procure, at usual subscription rates, the full collection of the Annals and also the premium for last year. The complete collection of the 12 volumes of the Annals is worth $ 5.00.

❊❊

To promoters. — We undertake to bind the collection of the new Annals free of charge for every promoter who sends us 25 subscriptions and over, provided he sends the same to us with 10 cents to cover postage and packing. The picture of St. Joseph will be included in it. Those who remit us 50 subscriptions will receive this fine volume free.
