

Donna identifies you. I, myself, possess and might present to your eyes, perchance to your hands, within five minutes, the coral and locket you wore as a babe when stolen and transferred to the woman who brought you to my mother. Do you start? I could produce even more proofs than the coral and locket."

"What more, El Abra? Say what more, but don't harass me to the soul for your amusement."

"Captain, as I'm to be court-martialed and shot to-morrow by noon, or, failing that, to be lynched by your men at one, I may infuse into the intervening hours sufficient liveliness to prevent sleep."

"And thus you'd mock me? You're a monster, El Abra!"

"And thus I'd instruct you in matters necessary to be known by a young gentleman cruelly bereft of his family birthright."

"Say on; say on. I've been the victim of lies all my life. I had a mother, doubtless she was true. O that I knew she lived, and where I thought her murdered. Lady Mary last year told me I might yet see that mother in life; but did not inform me where."

"Well, Captain, as I'm to be shot by twelve to-morrow, or failing that lynched by your men at one, I'll not unduly darken the present hour of the young life which is to be prolonged in honour and ease to old age in England, wearing an Earl's coronet."

"El Abra, you are a fiend. Those lies are a part of your craft of magician."

PROSPECTUS OF THE NEW HOTEL COMPANY. (Limited.)

A great want having been felt for some years past by strangers, the travelling community, and citizens generally, for more first-class hotel accommodation here, it is thought by many of the leading business men and capitalists, that Montreal should not be behind any city of the Dominion in hotel accommodation, to supply the increasing pleasure and business travel. The present season great numbers have passed through without stopping, on account of the crowded state of our hotels, and many have curtailed their visit from the same cause.

The proposed Hotel Company intend to supply this demand by erecting a first-class building, after the models of the best European and American Hotels, on that site, universally acknowledged to be central, combining convenience for pleasure and business travel; viz., that property known as the Leprohon property (on which stores can be readily leased, yielding a large return), on Victoria Square, Radebonne and Lagache Streets, commanding a fine view of the City, River, and Victoria Bridge. The proprietors of this property have consented to dispose of it, for this purpose, on very favourable terms.

The Capital Stock of said Company (Limited) for which a charter will be obtained, say $500,000, shares of $100, payable by instalments of 10 per cent., the first payable on formation of Company and purchase of land.

Subscribers to elect a Board of Directors, who will carry out all details of purchasing property, building, furnishing, and leasing the Hotel, Stores, Music Hall, Billiard Room, &c., &c., and report to the Shareholders annually at a meeting called by the Board.

Stock books at JAMES MEIG'S Office, 25 St. James Street, and PORTER & CO., 5 St. Sacramento Street, where every information will be given to intending subscribers. 4-13-a
