The Century Cyclopedia of Names.

Pronouncing, Etymological and Explanatory.
"Concise, Accurate, Up-to-date, Comprehensive."

Wm. Tyler, B.A.,

Public School Inspector, Guelph, Ont.,
says:

I have made a somewhat careful and extensive examination of the Century Cyclopedia of Names, and in many ways tested the accuracy and completeness of its information on various topics. From what I have seen I have no hesitation in stating that, in value as a book of reference, it is not surpassed by any work published in recent years. It is, in fact, several works in one—A Biographical Dictionary, A Classical Dictionary, A Gazetteer, A List of Noted Names in Fiction, A Dictionary of Architecture and Fine Arts, etc., etc. To all students and teachers of literature it will be a welcome assistant, and to the man of letters it will save much wearisome work in searching for information.

A VETERAN OF 1812.

THE LIFE OF
Lieut.-Col. James FitzGibbon

BY
MARY AGNES FITZGIBBON

CLOTH, with Portrait and Illustrations, $1.00

"It is enjoyable reading from cover to cover, the narrative being simply told, and the incidents being rich in movement and color. The appendices are rich in useful notes and data. This book is valuable as a history, and it adds much of a private and personal nature, which was not accessible before to the student and reader."—Quebec Chronicle.

In a letter to the author the Hon. Gerald FitzGibbon, Lord Justice of Ireland, thus expresses himself: "I was in the middle of Wolsey's 'Marlborough' when the 'Veteran' arrived, and I set to work at him at once, and never left off till I had got to the last line of your errata. Do not imagine that this indicates either skipping or skimming. It is the way I always read a book I like, and don't find hard or dull; and honestly and with all my heart, I congratulate you on your performance. It is excellent, well sustained throughout; gives a real and characteristic idea of the old man, and gives a pleasant notion of the writer, too, as an unaffected, informal, sincere, and not altogether book-making biographer."
