WATERFORD.

The Rev. William Power, P. P., Touraneena, died, on April 7th, at his resid ence at the ripe age of 76 years. Fathe ower, who has decended from so old an respectable family in the country, was ordained priest by the late Dr Foran. As curate he labored zealously and suffi ciently in several parishes, and was appointed in 1870, by the late Dr. O' Brien, P. P., of the parish in which he died He was a true priest, a sincere friend the present great movement of the Irish National League, he took an active and useful part, and was always 'at the side at the people.

A DANGER TO PUBLIC MORALITY. A danger to public morality, rapidly be coming more and more widespread throughout the country, is that arising from the use of unclean pictures for the purpose of advertising. The preservation ned by four mennamed Lynch, Horrigan of moratity in society, and the duty of Galvin, and Hannigan, and was engaged protecting the people, especially youth in drift, net fishing for a salmon close to from the deleterious influence of such the bar, whe re a heavy sea was break representations, make it imperative ing, when she was upset, and the men that some action be taken to suppress in their heavy oil, skin blothes, were un, them. The time has come when public sentiment should be aroused to their condemnation or prohibition, and the voice of the people make itself heard in mped in the heavy sea, and could ren, the halls of legislation. Until such time as the arm of the law can be invoked against these corrupting exhibitions, now so easily permitted, we would commend to the attention to all who, in any way, are the guiesd and teachers of others, the examples of the Rev. Father O'Hare. rector of St. Anthony's Church, Greenpoint, L, I. This zealous priest, in a recent sermom, took occasion to deplore morals of the Christian family, among which he mentioned the class of picture above referred to. Nowadays, he said wicked men used nauseous pictures to advertise their wares, to attract attention to them, and solicit custom for them, He asked what was the argument for trade contained in an immodest picture. To what but the basest passion did it ap peal? There surely was no "art' to excuse iif even "art" could excuse, the abominations and obscenities that were now thrust forward to corrupt the young, as they passed every cigarstore. Coarse in conception, coarser in execution, these pictures were there simply to do the work of the devil. Father O'Hare, there fore, asked his parishioners to use their nfluence with trades people, judiciously but firmly, to cause the withdrawal of these corrupting pictures from windows and from the wrappers of merchandise.
