Nova Scotia College of Art and Design

This exchange program is based on a university-to-university agreement and allows for dual residence a year from each institution.

Applicants are considered on a first-come, first-served basis from the university.
German students enjoy the benefits of an 180 program that is listed in the exchange software. They receive a monthly allowance of about DM 800 and a flat rate for travel expenses (usually about DM 1000) for the duration of the exchange. Students have to pay any tuition fees at the host college (study-related).

The exchange usually last for six months, but it is also possible to stay a full year. Students usually do not remain enrolled at their home university for the time of the exchange. For German students our representative should they wish.
