

United States Section. As members will know, the Chairman of the Canadian Section for the past eight years was the late Arnold Heeney. His contribution to the work of the I.J.C. was perhaps the crowning achievement of a life devoted to the public service of Canada.

I would also like to acknowledge with appreciation the help and support of the public in both Canada and the United States by participation at the Commission's public hearings and in other ways. Without such public support this great undertaking, to overcome the Great Lakes water pollution problem, cannot succeed.
