

ernment three different years, and yet they are no further than when they started. I hope that parliament this session will do justice to the farmers and compel the railway companies to put up cattle-guards that will turn the cattle. All that the government have accomplished so far is to find out that this one-eyed steer, which has been referred to, can jump any cattle-guard which so far may be put up. I would ask that in all fairness we should deal with the railway companies as we would with any individual who broke the law.

Motion agreed to ; and Bill read the second time.

The MINISTER OF RAILWAYS AND CANALS (Hon. A. G. Blair). I move that this Bill be referred to the Committee on Railways, Canals and Telegraph Lines.

House divided on motion (Hon. Mr. Blair).

Mr. F. D. MONK (Jacques Cartier). My hon. friend from St. John and Iberville (Mr. Demers) is not in his place. He has a Bill very much to the same intent and purpose as the one I have before the House, and I would prefer to await his arrival before discussing the merits of this Bill.
