

CIRCULAR.

The Professors of the Faculty of Medicine of Trinity College present to the friends of the University, and the Medical Profession in Canada, their Circular for the ensuing year.

The course of medical instruction will be comprised in a period of six months; and commence, for the session of 1854-5, on Wednesday, the 18th of October next, and terminate in the last week of April following. The fees for attendance upon the respective classes are the same to all students, whether they are only occasional, (as regards this University) or matriculating—that is to say purpose to proceed to the degree; but it is to be observed, that occasional students are subjected to no preliminary or matriculating examination, and are required to subscribe to no declaration or test whatever.

The professors of the different branches are now furnished with extensive, perfect and valuable means, for the illustration of their respective subjects; having dry and wet preparations for the exhibition of tissues and organs, both in a healthy and diseased condition, the plates of Cruveillier, Carswell, Quain, Baillie, Alibert, &c. &c., serving as auxiliaries for the latter; as well as many very beautiful preparations made expressly for the purpose, with the aid of the microscope, by the Professors of Anatomy and Institutes of Medicine, for the former. There are also a cabinet of materia medica, and valuable botanical plates and diagrams; an extensive Chemical apparatus, and laboratory for practical chemistry; Obstetrical apparatus and machine.

In addition to these facilities, microscopical demonstrations will be made as often as required for the elucidation of the subject in hand.
