seems to exercise a curious dominating influence over the British cabinet. When the ownership was not American this peculiar influence pervaded every British cabinet in power. It seems to be influential with Mr. Samuel. Mr. Samuel is always telling Mr. Pelletier of Canada to go easy; he is going to get; another reduction-

The real way to reduce any of these public utility rates is to REDUCE THE RATE TO THE ORDINARY PATRON FOR ORDINARY SER-VICE AT ALL TIMES AND PLACES! Concessions in the way of excursion rates, deferred rates or rates for the benefit of certain classes, effective now and then, amount to little. What would be thought of the postoffice department, if instead of rerate applicable to "week-end letters"

Mr. Pelletier, our postmastergeneral, will no doubt labor with his British confrere: he is on record as favoring a state-owned cable; and in this matter he seems to be a progressive. But he also has some big jobs here in Canada for which he will be held responsible. What is the postmaster-general doing about parcel post? The public, asking for relief from extortionate express rates, are not even getting a hand-out! The public tramp in this case can see the railway magnate eating turkey with cranberry sauce with a big melon on the sideboard for dessert, but he does not even get a hand-out of broken victuals. Lower express rates, cable rates, railway fares TO THE ORDIN-ARY CITIZEN FOR THE REGULAR SERVICES is what Canadians want-

Enormous Wagon Traffic to and From Toronto Converges on Nine Worn-Out Main Roads.

"The idea of a metropolitan area outside of the city limits proper appeals to me as a sensible preparation for a growing city," said a man who will vote for the $100,000 good roads bylaw on New Year's Day. "If it is not practicable to develop the whole district around the city along lines looking to the growth of the city itself, I should say that co-operating with the county and with the province in permanently paving the main highways approaching the city, thus enabling them to carry the enormously increasing traffic, is a step in the right direction."

The cost to the citizens of Toronto putting the population at 400,000, averages 25 cents per head. That is, for the price of a bunch of car tickets Toronto citizens will have the permanent benefit of 100 miles of good country roads in the environs of the city. Forty-three and a half miles city. Forty-three and a half miles have already been constructed. The bylaw now calls for the building of the balance, 56 1-2 miles, to round out the 100 miles as planned by the York-Highways Commission.
