BY THE WAY THEY ARE GOING

The shares in the London Silver-Cobalt Company will not last very much longer, and we advise you to get in while there is the opportunity.

They won't last forever.

$50 invested in some of the original "first issues" of the Cobalt Camp is now worth a fortune.

$500 invested in London Silver-Cobalt shares may not do as well, but, on the other hand, there is nothing to prevent it. When people, for instance, bought Temiskaming and Hudson Bay shares at 40 cents, did they know it would jump to $200 a share?

When they bought Silver Queen at 80 cents, did they know what advance it would have? When they bought Nipissing at $5 even, did they know it would sell at $30 a share? What does anyone know before the event?

Now, we say carefully and without fear of contradiction that the shares in the London Silver-Cobalt Mines, Limited, have as good an outlook for a raise as anything else in the Cobalt Camp. The property is good and has to be worked to see How Good. Go
