With the approach of the fall term a lively interest is being aroused in university affairs, and several important developments may take place. important developments may take place before the end of the year. Mayor C. R. Somerville has announced that he will retire from the presidency of the board of governors as his health will not permit him to undertake the active work which this position will require within which this position will require within the next few months. He will remain as a member of the board, however. His place will likely be taken by Major A. T. Little. A Fund Campaign.

The prospects are that with the appointment of a new president, an active campaign will be entered upon to obtain funds for building a new aniversity on the grounds already obtained. This campaign will likely extend throughout the district, as it is felt that the development of the university is as much in opment of the university is as much in e interest of Western Ontario as in the Philip Pocock, chairman of the medical committee of the board of governors, today expressed regret at Mayor Somerville's resignation, but admitted that the duties were likely to be very heavy. He expressed the hope that Major Little would accept the position, as he felt he would be one of the best men available at the present time to carry on a successful campaign for the university.

"I venture to say that the university can be developed so that it will mean more to the city than practically any of its financial institutions," said Mr. Pocock. "We are situated in the centre of this western district, and there are literally hundreds of students passing our doors yearly to attend Toronto and other universities. These would be quite as willing to come here if we were to provide could facilities for education."

Mr. Pocock thinks that time will see the affiliation of St. Peter's Seminary and Huron College with the university, and possibly, Alma College of St. Thomas also. Students from these three institutions would then obtain their degrees at Wastern grees at Western. rrees at Western.
