AT THE THEATRES

Viola Allen in "The White Sister."

This evening at 8.15 o'clock the curtain of the Royal Alexandra Theatre will be raised upon the first performance of the viola Allen company in "The White Sister" in this city. For two weeks Miss Alien and her company of eminent actors have been playing Marion Crawford's wonderful drama of "The White Sister" in Canada and with unvarying success. There is perlaps no dramatic organization on the North American Continent to compare with the one under the management of Messrs. Liebler & Co., who ofen the week's Toronto engagement this evening. Besides Miss Viola Allen there are four stars in the cast, who are: James O'Neill of Monte Cristo fame; William Farptim of Ben Hur fame; Minna Glae of Booth and Barrett fame and Fanny Addison Pitt of Boston Museum fame.

Manager Solman says that the advance sale for Miss Allen's engagement has been considerably greater than he anticipated, and he is now certain that hers will be the record-breaking engagement of his theatre.

Minstrels This Week.

The Princess Theatre will have for its attraction the first half of the current week, beginning to-night, with a matinee on Wednesday, the Tohan & Harris Minstrels, an organization new to Toronto theatregoers, but one which comes to us with a gilt-edged reputation as being quite the biggest and most pretentious in the minstrel line, that this country has yet witnessed. Its principal star is George Evans, who enjoys the reputation of being one of America's foremost monologue arises and whose unctuous wit has for many years been recognized by vaudeville audiences everywhere. Mr. Evans is surrourded by a company of nearly one hundred people, including many minstrel not ables. The entertainment is presented on a very claborate scale and from a scenic standpoint is said to-compare favorably with the biggest and most pretentious productions made in a decade. on a very claborate scale and non-scenic standpoint is said to compare fa-vorably with the biggest and most pre-tentious productions made in a decade. All the acts and features have their own scenic investiture and every act is said to be most elaborately presented.

Of course stately Rose Sydell, she of the magnificent form and beautiful face, is the scintillating star. She is this season winning more laurels than before and leads in all the uproarious fun and frisky frolics of the galaxy of pretty women who adorn the chorus. Miss Sydell is noted for her exquisite costumes, which are models in their line.

Hetty King at Shea's To-day.

To-day at Shea's Theatre one of the season's biggest vaudeville bills will be headed by Hetty King, England's famous male impersonator. This is Miss Ring's first appearance outside of New York City and she is sure to be warmly wedcomed by Sheagoers, By reason of her great eleverness and her youth, Miss King is a legitimate as well as the worthy successor of Vesta Tilley. Included in this week's bill are many other big features:

Seats will go on sale Thursday for the engagement of Miss Eleanor Robson in "The Dawn of To-morrow" at the Royal Alexandra Theatre next week. Miss Robson has met with unusual success in this play, and her engagement in Toronto is expected to be one of the most notable events of the entire season. She impersonates a girl of the London slums, who preaches a cheerful philosophy of better things that may come to every one to-morrow.

SHAKSPERE'S 'TWELFTH NIGHT' Delightful Presentation of Drama by Margaret Eaton School.

In the recital of "Twelfth Night," given at the Margaret Eaton School of Expression on Saturday evening, the large audience had an excellent example of the admirable method pursued and an assurance of the continued success to be attained by loyalty to such a wise tradition. It is held by many critics that Shakspere is better fitted for the study than the stage. The given at the Margaret Eaton School of restored. performance on Saturday evening would satisfy both the stage-lovers and the students. There was just that amount of expression imparted to the characters which made them living, while there was not too much of the emphasis which sometimes wrecks the SEVEN KILLED IN THIS WRECK

Schell had said that he would come and see them on that afternoon, but had been told by the Bennett girl to keep away, as he and Margery Harvey had been quarreling for over a week. He came to their rooms, however, and Joseph Potters, 617 West Queen-street, and Ralph Telfer, 88 Crescent-road, also dropped in. All were sitting together when Schell began quarreling with Margery, He struck her, and Nettie went to her assistance, but was herself struck and thrown away. As she sat crying in a chair Schell in failing to quiet her drew a clasp knife and stabbed her in the arm and under the left shoulder blade. He then turned on Margery, and stabbed her twice in the left forearm, and in the breast over the liver.
