CHARLES DICKENS
last complete novel

"OUR MUTUAL FRIEND"

Here's a rollicking story of mystery, misadventure, haunted houses, hidden gold and buried wills written in the mood that such stories should be written by one of the world's greatest authors. You must surely see it.

Many persons who have seen "Our Mutual Friend" say there "never was a sweeter, finer, more lovable picture." There is a distinct story of interest in it for every member of the family. It is clean, human and powerful.

ROMMEL THINGS SALARY IS TOO SMALL; WILL APPEAL TO LANDIS

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 24.—Pitcher Ed Rommel of the Philadelphia Athletics announced that he is not satisfied with the contract sent him by Manager Connie Mack and that he will appeal his case to Baseball Commissioner Landis. The pitcher declared that he is tired of drawing a minor league salary with a major league club, and that it would please him if Mack were to sell or trade him. Mack wrote Rommel that "the Board of Directors and myself have gone over all contracts carefully and have gone to the very limit in regard to salaries and find that it will be absolutely necessary for our club to play better ball if we are to meet with financial success the coming year."

Any player not satisfied with his contract can submit his complaint to Judge Landis, Mack added.

Sussex-St. John Game Off.

The hockey game between Sussex and St. John, scheduled for last night in Sussex, was postponed several days ago at the request of the Sussex team owing to their impending trip to Nova Scotia to play off for the Morton-Thompson trophy for the championship of the maritime provinces for 1921. Later Sussex requested that the game be played but the local players were unable to get together on short notice and the game was cancelled indefinitely.

THE TEMPTATION

"You have a genius for forgery," said the tempter, a famous international crook, to the young bank clerk. "You can waste your life struggling with poverty or you can do my bidding and gain love, riches, everything the world has to offer. And Jim the Penman was dazzled with the splendor of the world at his feet and took the step from which there is no turning back."
