

Chicago Woman Out After Street Superintendent's Job

Miss Anna Murphy Candidate for Superintendent of Streets in Chicago.

The Difference Between Men's Cleaning Up and Women's--Her Plans.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 15.—If a woman makes the best housekeeper at home, why shouldn't a woman make the best housekeeper in cleaning up one of the great cities in the world?

Thus argues Miss Anna E. Murphy, former magazine writer. To back her argument up she has come out as a candidate for superintendent of streets. The place pays $5,500 a year.

There's a reason for Miss Murphy's determination. She's an ardent suffragette, and believes women will win votes sooner if they show the men they are able to fill men's jobs.

"Queen of the white wings!" How does it sound?

A Real Boss. Miss Murphy is out to win that title. She says she will make the forces under her know they have a REAL boss if the people here only will let her get on the job.

Chicago's street cleaners are a motley lot. They are old men and young men; Italians, Greeks, Turks and a few—a very few—native Americans.

When a male politician wants a city job for one of his relatives and he hasn't much influence, it's to the white wings brigade with his friend, or nothing at all.

The pay is poor, the work hard. At all times the street-cleaner is in danger from street cars, autos whizzing about and reckless drivers.

They don't care much for the life of a street cleaner in Chicago.

Miss Murphy believes in action. Not since the days of the elder Carter H. Harrison has an official ridden about town on horseback to view the progress of city work.

Her ideas. But Miss Murphy has ideas of her own. She is an ardent horsewoman and will inspect the streets every day.

If the "white wings" aren't doing their work as they should, they would better beware of a suffragette commander.

"Why shouldn't I be a boss street cleaner?" she asked.

"I have new ideas on how to be a municipal housekeeper. As I have not yet attained the office I don't think I ought to tell them now, do you?"

"To be perfectly frank as to my opinion on a woman holding such an office, I will say that it is decidedly a woman's job. Cleanliness is a feminine instinct."

A Woman's Work. Now take it in a house; a man would get up and look the house over every morning and not know whether it had been swept or not until it became so dirty he would notice it. He might see a dirty place here or a dirty place there, but he would pass the whole thing along until it became noticeably dirty.

"Not so with a woman. She sees every dirty place here and there, and she would mark it and get it under the broom."

"I find it so with the dirty streets and alleys in this city. A man looks at the main thoroughfare and finds it's kept clean. A little dirt may linger in this or that place, but on the whole it looks good to him."

"If I should become superintendent of streets I would start in with the very dirtiest parts of the city and clean up. I would make every alley and side street clean and sanitary. The utmost energy would be spent where the cleaning is needed most. Then, with everything in order, I would see that it is kept in order."

LAZARUS BE SENT TO JAIL

Sumptuous Quarters for Men Imprisoned for Contempt of Court Arising Out of Recent Lynching.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 15.—For the first time in American history six men are in prison tonight for contempt of the supreme court of the United States. For the first time, too, the federal government has placed men behind the bars as an outcome of the lynching of a negro.

At the United States jail in this city Captain Joseph P. Shipp, former sheriff of Chattanooga; Jeremiah Gibson, his jailor, and Luther Wilson, Nick Wilson, Henry Padgett and William Masses, of the same city, began this afternoon to serve terms of imprisonment imposed a few hours before by the supreme court. Shipp and Gibson were prominent in the lynching of a mob, Ed Johnson, whose legal execution had been stayed by the supreme court until it would review the case. The others were found guilty of participation in the lynching of a federal prisoner. Shipp, Wilson and Nelson were given sentences of 90 days' imprisonment each, while Gibson, Padgett and Masses each received 60 days.

As the big barred doors of the jail swung open to receive the prisoners today, immediately sentence had been imposed, Warden McKee stood before them.

Of a Soldier. "At last we are in the hands of a soldier," exclaimed Captain Shipp, who was in many a tight for the confederacy as he noticed a G. A. Button in the lapel of Warden McKee's coat.

Then turning to his five fellow prisoners, he said: "Boys, it will be all right."

About a year ago, during the imprisonment of an unusually large number of men, the warden had a store room on the fourth floor of the jail fitted up as quarters for female prisoners. It was in this large room, perhaps 20 by 35 feet, that he locked up the six prisoners.

In the room were beds for each of the prisoners, while at one end was a table upon which "trusties" will set the office of the supreme court to be used by the prisoners exclusively. Four large circular windows open to the south and west giving excellent views of the front of the building.

In fact, so pleasant had the prisoners found the quarters that Captain Shipp sent his attorney, Major Clift, to the office of the supreme court to withdraw a request he made when sentence was imposed, to be sent to the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga., instead of to jail in this city.

During the afternoon the prisoners received calls from Tennesseans and others.

First Drawing Room Was Brilliant Affair

Earl and Lady Grey Received Distinguished Gathering in Senate Chamber at Ottawa Saturday Evening--Marks Opening of Ottawa's Round of Gayety--Many Debutantes Present.

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 15.—With the first state drawing room of the second session of the eleventh Parliament the social season at the capital was most brilliantly inaugurated Saturday night.

Earl Grey, the Governor General, and Lady Grey, received in the Senate chamber amid all the formal splendor of this traditional ceremony, more than 1,200 persons, ranging in rank from Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Premier, to the youngest citizens with no official position. From now until Parliament adjourns next spring Ottawa will be gay with balls, dinners, luncheons and parties, and particularly with the outdoor social events of a sporting character, which give a picturesque zest to the winter season, as well as keeping debutantes and matrons in fit condition for their continuous duties.

Shortly before nine o'clock the Vice Regal party drove in from Rideau Hall escorted by the Princess Louise's Dragoon Guards. After repairing to the apartments of the Speaker the Governor General entered the chamber, the Governor General's Foot Guards in the vestibule saluting and the band playing "God Save the King."

Preceded by Staff. Earl Grey was preceded by his staff, which includes Rear Admiral Kingsmill, who has been sent over by the Admiralty to guide Canada in the development of its own navy; Brigadier General Drury, Major General Wilson, Colonel Sherwood and Colonel Lessors, aides-de-camp; Sir John Habery Williams, military secretary and Captain A. J. Fire, Viscount LaZelles and Mr. Slater of the House of Commons.

The Senate chamber, from which the benches had all been removed, was thronged with officers of the Ottawa military district, most of the militia, and a large number of the staff. The scarlet tunics of the infantrymen and engineers, the rich blue of the cavalry and an occasional uniform of Colonel Bruce Hay, of the Indian guards, who has been loaned by the Indian army to serve as director of the Canadian Intelligence Office, were a brilliant picture, for which the Gothic arched stone columns supporting the illuminated glass ceiling afforded a fitting setting.

Officers Form Aisle. The officers formed an aisle through which the Governor General passed to mount the dais. He wore the Windsor uniform of the first class and upon his breast was observed the full order of a knight, Grand Cross of the Order of St. Michael and St. George, which is now awarded almost exclusively for colonial service. The staff took up a position to the right of the throne.

Lady Grey, following made a deep courtesy to the Governor General, and then took her place beside him, after which, from a door to the right, entered the Governor General's daughter, Lady Evelyn Grey, and Lady Hanbury Williams, who after being likewise received took their position to the left. Lady Grey wore a rich and most becoming gown of gold tulle over a princess gown of gold shadings.

The bodice of the gown had yoke and sleeves of gold gauze and the bodice and entire length of the train were richly embroidered in a floral design with gold tulle and feathers. Her jewelry was a magnificent tiara and necklace of diamonds and diamond ornaments, and she carried a lovely bouquet of roses.

Lady Evelyn Grey was charming in primrose yellow satin chapeau, which was in graceful lines and was prettily trimmed with embroidery and blue and oxidized silver. She wore the court veil fastened with ornaments of pearls and diamonds and a bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Jennings. Mrs. Jennings, of Washington, and Miss McCook, of New York, two American visitors at Government House, were much admired in handsome costumes. Mrs. Jennings wore white liberty satin en princess, with overdress of white hand embroidered white tulle, with yoke, sleeves, and bodice of black jet in State effect extending to the knees. The bodice also had white silver trimmings and her veil was fastened with feathers and surmounted by a handsome diamond tiara. She wore the jeweled order of St. John of Jerusalem.

Miss Gladys Hanbury Williams was very attractive in white satin velvet in chiffon in tulle effect, embroidered in silver and outlined with silver bugles. She wore an old pendant and carried a bouquet of roses.

Vice Regal Presentation. Next came the presentation of the Cabinet to the party. The first was Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Lady Laurier being unable to attend owing to her continuing ill health. Then followed the Cabinet members and their wives and unmarried daughters. Senators, judges of the Supreme and Exchequer Courts, members of the Commons, deputy ministers and various officials, and members of the Provincial House, followed by other ladies and gentlemen from the attendance at tonight's drawing room.

The debutantes who made their first courtsey tonight were numerous, and in beauty and style fully sustained the high reputation of the Dominion social life. From nine until eleven the Senate Chamber was a moving panorama of the personality of the Government and Ottawa society.

Many First Presentations. The list of first presentations included Miss Edith Cory, daughter of the Deputy Minister of the Interior; Miss Phoebe Wright of Ottawa, Mrs. H. P. Wright's daughter; Miss Choquette, of Quebec; Senator Choquette's daughter; Miss Helen Blake, Miss Marjorie Schreiber, Miss Marguerite Wright of Toronto, and Miss Lillian Cornelle, Miss Marion and Miss Elsie Ives, Miss Hart and Miss Nellie Davis, of Montreal.

Among those presented for the first time were Mrs. George Washington Stevens, Mrs. George F. Anthony, Miss Dorothy and Misses Castrain and Miss Payette, all of Montreal, and Mrs. Lang, wife of the German Consul at Montreal. Also the Misses Gordon, daughters of Colonel W. D. Gordon, commanding the militia of Eastern Ontario; Miss Crowe, daughter of the commandant of the Military College at Kingston; Miss Butler, daughter of the Deputy Minister of Railways.

INDIAN EMPIRE TURNS OVER A NEW LEAF

Plan for Administrative Reform Went Into Effect Yesterday--Natives To Be Admitted to Legislative Responsibility.

Simla, British India, Nov. 15.—The plan for the reform of the British administration of India, which was outlined by Lord Morley, Secretary of State for India, in the House of Lords last December, and which is designed to give India an ambrony constitution, admitting the natives to an independent share in the legislation of the country, came into effect today. This begins a new and striking epoch in the history of British rule in India.

For more than three years the Imperial Government and the Indian administration have wrestled with the details of the plan recently consummated. Under the programme adopted all religious and special interests may elect representatives to the viceroys and provincial councils, but in view of recent anarchistic outbreaks, a safeguard is provided in a qualification which empowers the Imperial and Provincial Governments to declare ineligible those persons whose candidature is considered contrary to public interests.

The Viceroy's Council in the future will have 37 members, instead of 125 as formerly, of whom a total of

NOVA SCOTIA GIRL HELD IN BOSTON

Boston, Nov. 15.—When the steamer Boston, from Yarmouth, N. S., docked yesterday at Boston, Capt. Simms received a telegram from Yarmouth requesting him to detain Miss Annie Perth of that place, who, it is alleged, had eloped with an actor who had been touring the provinces.

A young man who had been almost constantly in the company of Miss Perth during the trip from Yarmouth to Boston, hurried away when she was halted as she was about to go ashore, and he disappeared before he could be questioned.

Miss Perth will probably be given a hearing before the board of special inquiry, and if the facts are found as they are represented, she will be sent back upon the same steamer.

135 will be elected as against 39 electors heretofore. The functions of the council will be considerably enlarged and it will be enabled to take an active part in the making of the budget and all legislation. The new councils will assemble in January.

PUNITIVE FORCE FOR SKEENA INDIANS

Reinforcements of Police Start for Hazelton in Response to Petition from Belegured Residents of Place.

Victoria, B. C., Nov. 15.—Ten constables with arms and ammunition for twenty more have started from Prince Rupert by special steamer for beleaguered Hazelton, intending to ascend the Skeena as far as navigation is possible and thence take the trail.

An expedition of fifty more is expected to be sent up Naas River and overland sixty miles.

These reinforcements will be immediately supplemented if necessary. They are despatched in consequence of a petition telegraphed to Premier McBride, headed with the name of Indian Agent Loring and signed by twenty-eight leading Hazeltonians. It declares the Indians out of hand and the police forces utterly inadequate to meet the situation.

The petition signed by every man in the country, it is said, was forwarded to Victoria six months ago asking that a large force of mounted police be placed in the district in anticipation of trouble upon the closing of navigation.

Pending the arrival of reinforcements no attempt will be made to continue the trial of the captured Kispiox chiefs.

NEW YORK SURPRISED BY MUSICAL PRODIGY

Master Pepito Ariola, Twelve Years Old, Gives Recital in Carnegie Hall--He Plays With Agility and Strength.

New York, Nov. 15.—Even jaded concert goers were jolted into sitting up any paying attention in Carnegie Hall yesterday afternoon when Master Pepito Ariola, a Spanish prodigy, skipped out on the platform and climbed up on the high piano stool.

Master Pepito is only a dozen years old, and his feet will not reach down to the piano pedals, so the pedals have to be raised to meet his feet. Yesterday he wore a white sailor suit with a deep blue collar, and his thick hair hung childishly about his ears. He had to bow several times on his way to the concert grand piano, which looked massive enough to swallow him if they had been in a fairy tale. Then he climbed upon the stool and looked patiently at the audience until it ceased to chatter. Then he played Beethoven.

It was nothing short of marvellous to hear him. Of course, no humane person would measure his playing by the same foot rule that is applied to grown and music thirsty men who quit the keyboard. The chief emotion of the audience seemed to be astonishment. He had to play encores after all his programme numbers. Sometimes he would stride off the stage as if he were manly seven league boots. At other times he would run off like a boy who had been unexpectedly let out of school. He played Chopin, Schumann and Liszt, and at the end of the programme some of the audience crowded about the platform to hear him play more pieces, which he did.

He has amazingly fleet fingers and surprisingly strong wrists, and he delighted his hearers at times, although he surprised them often.

Miss Lilla Ormond a mezzo soprano sang several groups of songs and added variety to the programme.

It Leaves the Skin Tingling With Health

How to Massage

Shave some Infants' Delight into a tub of hot water and let it dissolve. Then immerse your body and remain in the water several minutes. Rub the body thoroughly with Infants' Delight—rub it right into the skin, for it is so pure it will only nourish and soothe. Massage well with the finger tips and the palms of the hands and you will find a most pleasant sensation after the bath is finished.

There is a wonderful difference in soaps. Have you ever noticed how one kind leaves the skin soft and white while another may leave it red and rough?

Both soaps looked alike, perhaps. But the difference was in the material. Let us tell you what we put into Infants' Delight, then decide if you can continue with common soap.

Ceylon is an island in the Indian Ocean, and from there we bring pure coconut oil 12,000 miles to our factory. Then we go to France for vegetable oil, and often pay double what we might pay. But our oil is pure enough for your table.

These oils are doubly boiled and then milled by our own special process, after which they fall like flakes of snow into enormous bins.

Then they are crushed under a weight of 30 tons to press out the moisture. Next they pass through granite rollers and come out in miles of silky ribbons. Finally they are dried eight times and then stamped into cakes.

Could you imagine a more delightful soap than this? It lathers into a rich, creamy foam. It wears as thin as a wafer. It leaves the skin as soft as velvet and as smooth as satin. It is the very utmost in perfect soap.

The perfume is the delicate scent of the roses. We pay $100 a pound for pure Otto of Roses, but it requires 3,000 pounds of rose leaves to make a single ounce. The fragrance is simply exquisite—it brings the breath of a million flowers. Use a single cake and learn how delightful it really is—it costs no more than the common, so why not have the best?
