ONE OF THE HANDSOMEST PARKS IN EXISTENCE

Sir Wm. Van Horne Tells Commissioners of His Plans for Minister's Island

No More Meetings Until After Hay—Sir William's Idea of Combining the Beautiful and the Practical—Thinks St. Andrews Choice of World as a Place to Live In

Hon. D. V. Landry, Geo. E. Fisher and W. W. Hubbard, of the agricultural commission, accompanied by H. P. Turner, man, industrial commissioner of the C. P. R., arrived in the city last evening from St. Andrews, where they had been visiting the stock farm of Sir Wm. Van Horne on Minister's Island.

All farming operations at that place are carried on most skillfully for the combination of the artistic and the practical. Sir William being a firm believer in the value of beauty as a practical asset for utilitarian purposes, and when he has completed his plans for beautifying, and fencing the whole island, it will be one of the handsomest parks existing, and at the same time a highly productive and profitable farm.

The large barn and stables are kept clean and sweet as an old-fashioned dairy, the spray pump is frequently employed in whitewashing exterior walls and ceilings, while tobacco gramin on the floors thoroughly absorbs all the moisture and odors as well as adds much to the value of the droppings of the stock.

Among the farm teams are some splendid young Clydesdales bred on the place. Sir William expressed great interest in the agricultural development of the province and tendered some valuable suggestions as well as unbounded hospitality to the commissioners during their stay. Speaking of St. Andrews, Sir William said, "I consider this the best spot of any part of the world which I have ever visited, in which to live."

The commission will not hold any more meetings until after the hay season, and during the early part of September some of the other provinces will likely be visited.
