For the fathers have grown up the children, and it is but just to take notice of others not so noted but yet worthy of honourable mention as having been nation builders in establishing a consolidated Manitoba. It is right to give their names "Lest we Forget," noble deeds quietly done by unostentatious "nation builders." Among the French are the worthy family names: Marion, Dauphinais, Delorme, Hamelin, Lepine.

Among the English-speaking people notable as industrious and sturdy children of the land are Vincent, Murray, Logan, McBeath, Gunn, Bannatyne, Pruden, McDermott, Bird, Flett, Hardisty, McFarlane, Cunningham, Lillie, Burke, Ross, Heron, Cooper, Harper, Garrioch, Tait, Spence, Truthwaite, Pruden and McKay families.
