where no waste or stony land is available, pasturing is too expensive a method of feeding, especially where the number of stock kept is not large. The whole farm is in one field, the old, inside fences were removed.

Finally, the writer would suggest that a long system of cropping, extending over say five, six or eight years would not be applicable to the specialized line of farming mentioned above. The advantages of the short rotation have been outlined. Some of the difficulties encountered were: (1) An insufficiency of farmyard manure produced on the farm, necessitating the buying of as much manure as available in order to build up the fertility; (2) the trouble in getting a real, good stand of clover, which is most essential for plowing under.

Gravel Pit Caved in.

There is a gravel pit on my farm which the public has been getting gravel from. At the present time the bank is caved in and the pit is really not fit for people to get gravel from. We cannot clean it out just now. Can we close this pit until such time as we can put into condition?

S. C.

Ans.—If the gravel pit is your own private property you are at liberty to close it and keep it closed until such time as you put it in condition for people to use.

Gossip.

Some system of records and cost accounting is necessary on every farm. The one advertised in these columns by H. S. Bates has received many commendations. See the advertisement.

Arbogast Bros., breeders of Holstein cattle, at Sebringville, Ontario, are advertising service to King Segis Alcartra Calamity, the $2,000 bull. See the advertisement and correspond with Arbogast Bros. regarding this proposition. Patrons of this bull have made money; others can do the same.

A Pair of Good Holstein Bulls.

We learn from Messrs. Whale & Sons, Goldstone, Ont., that the two Holstein bulls they are offering for sale elsewhere in this issue, will be one-year-old in May. They are both from dams which give around 10,000 pounds of milk and drop a calf within the year, on ordinary feed and care. With special attention these cows would make much larger records and the bulls of course would have to be priced higher than they are at present. The granddam of the two bulls, on the sire's side, has an official record of 553.5 lbs. milk and 27.5 lbs. butter in seven days. Anyone in need of a herd header should look into this opportunity to buy a good one at a very reasonable price.

Satisfied Customers.

Aubrey E. Might, Brampton, Ont., has had several good sales of Holstein bulls and heifers. Bulls have been sold to John McLaren, Ruth Glen; John Dyson, Guelph; Irvine R. Alward, Havelock, N. B. Heifers have gone to Bruce Ronald, Fiske, Sask.; N. R. Daron, Perth, and one to Thos. E. Trail, Lower Southampton. Such letters as the following are received by Mr. Might, regarding these animals: "My calf arrived in good condition Thursday morning, March 15. Am well satisfied with it and should like to know if you have any heifer calves about the same age and no relation to him. Kindly let me know and give me prices". Another reads: "Calf arrived all O. K. Tuesday morning. Am well suited with her appearance. She eats well and seems right at home. Trusting I may have the pleasure of doing some business with you next year. I remain, etc."

The Red Cross
of Finance

Other assets may depreciate or even become worthless but life insurance remains unaffected by fluctuations in security values.

In the dark days of financial loss and disaster the life policy is often the thing that saves. As a distinguished speaker said at our recent annual meeting—

"The world of Finance is a field of war in which many casualties occur day by day, but I like to think that in this battlefield the life insurance company fulfils the function of the Red Cross."

Every private home should of course be protected by means of sound life insurance, but so should every business. The loss of an influential partner might easily be fatal to a business organization.

Life insurance is often the only portion of a man's estate that he can bequeath to his heirs—unencumbered. There is no other asset that can compare with a policy issued by The Mutual Life of Canada.
