Miscellaneous

Not long ago a young couple entered a railway carriage at Sheffield and were immediately put down as a bridal pair. But they were remarkably self-possessioned, and behaved with such sangfroid that the other passengers began to doubt if their first surmise was correct after all.

As the train moved out, however, the young man rose to remove his overcoat, and a shower of rice fell out, while the passengers smiled broadly.

But even that did not affect the youth, who also smiled, and, turning to his partner, remarked audibly:

"By Jove, May! I've stolen the bridegroom's overcoat!"

A German canvasser took the fifty-storey elevator of a Western wholesale house in New York and walked into the office, where one of the proprietors was busy at his desk.

The canvasser was told that the house needed nothing in his line, but he persisted in opening his sample bag and making himself the cause of much distress, until finally the enraged proprietor kicked him down the first flight of stairs. An employee, observing the mode of descent, repeated the dose with like effect, and it was dittoed till the unfortunate German found himself on the curbstoned highway.

Shaking himself, he looked back over the course of events and ejaculated:

"Vell, dot ish a great establishment. I don't know their particular line of peesness, but my! Vat system, vat system!"

An Irishman was one day told to put up a signboard on which were the words: "To Motorists—this hill is dangerous."

Away went Mike with the signboard and placed it at the bottom of a very steep hill. A few days later his employer went to see how the board was put up, and, finding it at the bottom of the hill, sought and found Mike.

"You blooming fool!" he cried, "why didn't you put that sign in the right place?"

"Shure and ain't it?" asked Mike. "Don't all the accidents happen at the bottom?"

"Now," said the fussy old gentleman, putting one of the biggest strawberries in his mouth, and picking up another, "what is the sense of having that sign read 'Fresh strawberries for sale?' Don't you suppose that everybody knows they are for sale?"

"I dunno," answered the fruiterer's assistant, who, although he had only left school a few weeks, was well up in his trade, "some folks seem to think we're giving them away."

And the old gentleman put the berry back in the box.

A minister's wife, a doctor's wife, and a travelling man's wife met one day recently and were talking about the forgetfulness of their husbands.

The minister's wife thought her husband was the most forgetful man living, because he would go to church and forget his notes and no one could make out what he was trying to preach about.

The doctor's wife thought her husband was the most forgetful, for he would often start out to see a patient, and forget his medicine case, and, therefore, travel miles for nothing.

Now it was the travelling man's wife's turn to speak. She said that her husband was the most forgetful of all. He would go on a long journey and forget to take his baggage, and, I believe, I have seen him before, little girl, with a very empty trunk.

LIVER COMPLAINT

The chief office of the liver is the secretion of bile, which is the natural regulator of the bowels.

Whenever the liver becomes deranged, and the bile ducts clogged, liver complaint is produced, and is manifested by the presence of constipation, pain under the right shoulder, sallow complexion, yellow eyes, slimy-coated tongue and headache, heartburn, jaundice, sour stomach, water brash, catarrh of the stomach, etc.

Liver Complaint may be cured by avoiding the above mentioned causes, keeping the bowels free, and arousing the sluggish liver with that grand liver regulator,

LIVER COMPLAINT.

Mr. Geo. Fawcett, Hamilton, Ont., writes: "Having suffered with liver complaint for years and tried all sorts of remedies, I was advised to try Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. I must say, that after taking two vials of them, I feel quite a new man, and can strongly recommend them to anyone."

That the criterion of beauty is very dissimilar among different races is not often more strikingly exemplified than in the following anecdote of a Virginia negro. At his request the "young master's" baby son had been fetched out for Tim's inspection. He looked earnestly for some moments, then electrified the bystanders with this unqualified praise: "Marse Garrett, dat's de pretties' white chile I ever seed!"

The family cat was crying and spoling papa's reading of the evening paper, and he insisted that his small daughter put her pet out of doors. This she did very unwillingly, and coming back, seated herself at her father's feet with the remark: "You dess ought to see the look on 'at cat's face, papa."
