C. J. MORRISSY M.L.A.
ADDRESSES HOUSE

Mr. Morrissy on the House resuming at eight p.m. said that he had not previously taken up much time and coming from the grand old county of Northumberland which had contributed so many able men to the public life of the country he thought he might crave the indulgence of the House for a short time. He wished to congratulate the hon. member for Queens (King) on his return to the House and trust that his health had greatly improved. The hon. member who had last spoken (Tracey) had complained of the cost of administering the Workmen's Compensation Act. With reference to that act a conference had been held at St. John in January; and while there had been general criticism the large lumber operators had expressed the opinion that if the smaller operators were taxed as they should be there would be no difficulty in carrying on the work of the Board. The hon. member (Tracey) had referred to the troubles of the farmers of his county but he (Morrissy) would remind him that last year there were thousands of automobiles operated in that county by farmers and they paid into the revenue $23,085 in license fees. The only county that surpassed Carleton in the number of autos was the county represented by the hon. Farmer leader who had complained that the roads were so bad that the farmers of his section were unable to market their produce.

As an Independent member he did not propose to give the government too much praise nor was it his intention to criticize it unduly. Hon. members opposite had charged the Hon. Minister of Public Works with being extravagant but at the same time they had admitted an improvement in the roads. He wished to tell those hon. members that the roads could not be improved without an expenditure of money. The Hon. Minister of Lands and Mines had said that he was desirous of having the young men remain in the province instead of migrating to the United States. In that connection he wanted to remind the hon. Minister of his action in 1922 after overtures had been made by him (Morrissy) in setting aside ten lots of land for settlement in the county of Northumberland. Because of his activity in the matter they had been kind enough to give it the name of Morrissy Settlement. Ten young men had operated upon that land; had cleared a portion of it and had erected a number of camps. Their application had been approved and the lease held by the lumbering concern should have ceased August 1st 1923 but his information was that it had never been cancelled. That lease was held by Clark Skillings & Co. and the Fraser Lumber company and the boys who had worked the land knew nothing about it. The law allowed the lumbering concerns only one complete winter's operation after the lots had been approved for settlement yet the Hon. Minister of Lands and Mines for some unknown reason had not cancelled the licenses. It was true that the settlers had hauled some wood to Newcastle and disposed of it but what else could they do with it? A bill now before the House set forth that lumber cut from road wood should be the property of the applicant and surely the young men had done nothing wrong when they cut that kind of wood. He held that if those boys were to be retained in the country they had a right to be treated like men. The land granted them was well adapted for agricultural purposes and they cleared six or seven acres.

He wished to also say a word in regard to the Vanterbeck Settlement where 22 lots of land had been taken up. The applicants had paid in $48 to the Crown Land office and it had been retained. He did not think that the applicants had received the right kind of treatment from the Department of Lands and Mines. He had no complaint to make concerning the Department of Agriculture and with regard to the Hon. Attorney General he believed him to be one of the most capable men who ever filled that office. In regard to the Hon. Provincial Secretary he could thank the four members for Northumberland for his promotion as at the last election they had defeated his predecessor. With reference to the hon. Leader of the Opposition it was to be regretted that he was not the real leader of his party. He had filled his present position since 1922 and had conducted himself as well as any of his predecessors. He (Morrissy) wished that before the next election he would become the real leader of the Conservative opposition and after that election would continue to grace the seat he now occupied. The Department of Health had been criticized but he believed it deserved the commendation of the people. He knew of a case in the county of Kent where a man named Kelly and his whole family had been stricken down with typhoid fever. The district nurse had gone from Chatham and had looked after them with the result that all recovered. Surely that was worth the nineteen cents per capita which the Department cost the people of the province. He heartily approved of the medical inspection of school children. Children in his own family had been found with defects which he did not know existed and being warned he had provided the proper treatment. Complaints were made as to the cost of administering the Act but the administration of every new law was expensive during the first few years. Clinics had been held in Chatham and had resulted in much good. He had one suggestion to make to the hon. Minister of Health and that was that he endeavor to arrange that when a doctor called at a house to treat a case of sickness he examine the children of the household and if operations should be needed arrangements should be made through the department to have the same performed. He wished to thank hon. members on both sides for the attentive hearing they had given him.

Lowered Vitality
A Condition Following Indoor Confinement of Winter

There are very few people who do not need a tonic at this season of the year. The reason for this is that whether in the home, the office or the factory, people have been living throughout the long winter months in an atmosphere more or less vitiated, and as a result find themselves not up to their summer-time health through the long months of winter your blood has been growing thin and poorer. Closer confinement and lack of exercise have used it up and exhausted it. You are not as energetic as you could wish. Your work tires you and perhaps your digestion is none too good. Your nerves may be shaky and your appetite poor. All these things point to poverty of the blood. It is a scientific fact that if the blood of the strongest is tested in the spring there is less of it and it is poorer than it was in September. The spring medicines of our grandmothers—sulphur and molasses, salts and the like—recognized the necessity for aid at this season, but were an unscientific attempt to cleanse the blood. Modern medical science has found a better way. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make new, rich blood at the first dose and at every dose afterwards. Thus they strengthen every organ of the body and give new vitality to the jaded system. Here is proof. Miss Clara Cheslock, High Falls, Que., says: "I was in a much run-down condition and my blood was thin and poor. I took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I must thank you for the good they did me. I never enjoyed better health than I have since I took them." If your dealer does not keep these pills you can get them by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Become A Soldier Of The Common Good

Every man should recognize himself as a factor in his home town and become a soldier of the common good. Why not? We are mutually dependent; every one of us, from the sunrise to the sunset of life, for no man lives to or for himself alone. The utterly selfish man is a misfit in the scheme of human existence, is a libel upon a beneficent providence. As we recognize these facts the town grows and prospers. A town that believes in itself and appreciates this fact of dependence upon each other will go forward with rapid strides because its people work together for the common good. We have in mind two towns. In one the population increased nearly 100 per cent during the past ten years, while another town similarly situated, only twenty miles away has increased about one per cent in thirty years. Why the difference? The other town is cut up into cliques and factions. Some sets won't trade or neighbor with other sets. The result is that thousands of dollars every month are sent out of that town for mail order purchases where as in the town first mentioned, where the people pull to
