Princess Mary's Gift Book.

We have received from the publishers, Messrs. Hodder & Stoughton, St. Paul's House, Warwick Square, London, E.C., a copy of PRINCESS MARY'S BOOK. All profits from the sale are going to the Queen's "Work for Women" Fund, which is acting in conjunction with the National Relief Fund, and we understand that the demand has been so colossal that nearly 400,000 copies have already been sold, and that the publishers have already paid over to the Fund a sum of £10,000 on account of profits.

At the price of 2s. 6d. net this is probably the most wonderful volume ever placed on the market. From the frontispiece portrait of Princess Mary, specially painted for the book, facing Her Royal Highness' thanks to "the Authors and Artists who have so generously contributed to my Gift Book," to the last page, with its delightful illustration by E. J. Sullivan, the book is full of beauty and charm.

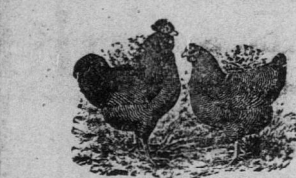

PRINCESS MARY'S GIFT BOOK contains new stories and articles by the following famous authors:

Sir J. M. Barrie contributes a deliciously humorous story entitled "A Holiday in Bed"; G. A. Birmingham, the famous author of "General John Regan," is represented by a characteristic Irish story entitled "The Spy"; Hall Caine has written a wonderful "life poem" of the sea entitled "Charlie the Cox"; Sir Arthur Conan Doyle contributes "Bimble's Joy," a story of Egypt which will thrill every reader; J. H. Fabre, the veteran French author known as "The Insects' Homer"; Ellen Thorneycroft Fowler, the famous author of "Concerning Isabel Carnaby," who, in "An Angel of God," tells of the way eyes are opened to see the angel hosts; Charles Garvice, whose "Model Soldier" is a charming love story of the present war; Sir H. Rider Haggard tells a glorious story of heroism in South Africa in "Magesa the Buck"; Beatrice Harraden contributes a story of ancient times with a lesson for to-day; the Bishop of London recounts his experiences in Camp; A. E. W. Mason pictures the days of the Siege of Paris; the Baroness Orczy, author of the world-famous "Scarlet Pimpernel," gives us an entirely new Scarlet Pimpernel story; W. Pett Ridge a charmingly humorous and tender story of a girl who wanted "everything different"; Annie S. Swann a tale of gallant Belgium; Kate Douglas Wiggin, author of "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," a gem of a story in "Fleur-de-Lis."

In addition to these stories there are poems by Ralph Connor, the famous novelist, who has contributed a thrilling war poem entitled "Canada's Word"; Lady Sybil Grant, whose delightful series entitled "Let's Pretend" is most characteristically illustrated by Arthur Rackham, the famous illustrator of "Peter Pan"; Rudyard Kipling, who has given permission for the inclusion in this volume of his famous poem "Big Steamers"; Alfred Noyes, whose "Spell for a Fairy" is a most moving and delicate piece of work; and John Oxenham, who is represented by a poem entitled "What Can a Little Chap Do?" which is already being quoted far and wide.

All these stories and poems are illustrated in the most elaborate manner. There are in all fourteen plates in colour by the following world-famous artists: J. J. Shannon, R. A.; W. Russell Flint, A.R.W.S.; Charles Napier Hemy, R.A.; R. Talbot Kelly, R.

These paintings and drawings have been specially executed for the work, and the originals are being exhibited and sold by the Leicester Galleries, Leicester Square. Already we learn there is great competition among art-lovers to secure these beautiful pictures and unique souvenirs of PRINCESS MARY'S GIFT BOOK.

Princess Mary has recently honoured J. J. Shannon, R.A., with sittings for the portrait which is specially painted for her Gift Book, and which forms the frontispiece to that work.

Quite apart from the object for which it is published, PRINCESS MARY'S GIFT BOOK is a volume which appeals to all. Every member of the family will find pleasure in its pages. It is indeed a volume which every household will treasure, one which, for years to come, will serve as a worthy memento of what the Empire wrought for the women who suffered through the ravages of the great war.

THE AUTO.

The auto is a lovely car in which to rip and race; but if the owner's truly smart, he'll make it know its place. "You'll do all right for leisure hours," he says, in earnest tones, "but I won't let you, by the powers, use all my stock of bones! If you should interfere with trade, or keep me from my biz, I'll put you where the junk is laid, so help me now, G. Whizz!" I know so many who for fun burn up the country roads, and for that purpose borrow mon, and mortgage their abodes. They go chug-chugging everywhere, and keep the highways hot and little do they seem to care if school shall keep or not. And then the sheriff, haughty gent, comes up and makes some epics, and springs a legal document with large and crimson seals. The thought of those who waste their days in cars should cause us gloom; a thousand thousand dippy joys are chugging to their doom. The auto is a servant fine whose fame will never slump; but when it's master, friend of mine, 'twill lead you to the dump.

Nothing But the Best in Pictures.

The Crescent Picture Palace is certainly living up to its motto: "Nothing but the best in pictures" if one may judge from the laughter and applause of those who attended yesterday; the show is a good one and will be repeated to-day and the Crescent should have crowded houses at every show.

Mr. Farrell's patriotic song was well received and deserved all the applause tendered it.

On Monday "Miracle Mary," a big 3 reel Victor special will be screened; this is a very fine story of the underworld, being the story of a man who had to suffer in prison for the crime of another; this feature is highly spoken of by the leading motion picture magazines. Fritzie Brunette, the great Victor star appears in the title role. Don't miss this big offering on Monday.

Ah! My Tired Feet Ached So for "Tiz."

"TIZ" cures our sore, burning, swollen, sweaty, calloused feet and corns.

"Just couldn't wait to take my hat off!"

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, aching, burning, corn-festered, bunion-tortured feet of yours in a "TIZ" bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive in that "TIZ" bath.

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "TIZ." Its grand—its glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions.

There's nothing like "TIZ." It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot torture. Get a 25 cent box of "TIZ" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet get; how comfortable your shoes feel. You can wear shoes a size smaller if you desire.

UNIVERSITIES AND THE WAR.

The Edinburgh University Roll of Honour contains the names of over 1,670 graduates, former students and others at present serving with the colours.

Three hundred and sixty-five Aberdeen graduates hold commissions in one branch or another of his Majesty's Forces; 34 have enlisted; 265 students are in the ranks to whom ought to be added 79 students of the O. T. C.; so that altogether 344 students out of some 650 are on service in one form or another.

Pretty Plus.

By RUTH CAMERON.

RUTH CAMERON.

It is a queer quirk of the human brain that though we expect to find a nice package in a pretty wrapper, yet if a girl is pretty there seems to be a popular prejudice against the likelihood of her being clever or of a sweet disposition.

Which is by way of prelude to a few words about one of the prettiest girls I ever met who proved, in one way at least, the sweetest.

I came to know her because we both ate at the same little boarding house. She and her mother and husband occupied the table behind ours. She was without question one of the most satisfying pretty girls I ever saw. She had beautiful chestnut hair, big brown eyes, a wonderful, clear skin, good features and a lovely slim figure. She looked as good at breakfast as she did in the shaded light of the candles at dinner. She was, in short, the kind of girl who was altogether too pretty (according to the popular mind) to have any other virtues or recommendations.

A Daughter Worth Having. And now for the recommendation which she emphatically did have. As I said before, her mother lived with her, and thereby hangs this tale. For, whereas, the daughter appeared well educated, spoke good English and had rather nice manners, the mother, though a good soul, was what superior folks call "common." She broke every rule Lindsey ever made. She talked too loud, she tucked her napkin under her chin and—well, you know the general type.

Yet never in all the months in which I was in daily contact with them did I ever hear the daughter rebuke her mother or show in any way that she felt superior to her. Now, when you think how freely daughters who are not in any way superior to their mothers show their sense of superiority, doesn't it make the sweet humility of this daughter stand out as pretty fine?

Whenever I see a pert, ill-bred child of a girl correcting or squelching a sweet little mother whose only fault is that she is a bit old-fashioned, I think of that young woman who was too fine to say a single ungracious word to a distinctly trying mother.

How Patience Pays.

If young girls only realized how their attitude of criticism and correction reacted on other people's opinions of them, they would learn to control their impatience even with the most old-fashioned mother. Even when the daughter is right and the mother wrong, sympathy naturally flows toward the older woman.

And then, too, it's so "tacky": it's only among "common" people that you see such manifestations in public. The mothers and daughters of breeding may have their difficulties in private, but the daughter never rebukes her mother in public. She knows it's just as ill bred as eating out of the end of her spoon, and if she hasn't kindness enough to refrain for her mother's sake, she does so for her own.

Mashed potatoes beaten by an egg beater will be deliciously fluffy and smooth.

Hockey Matters.

POPULAR SUGGESTION.

Owing to the ice being well covered with water last evening, the game set down between the Feildians and St. Bon's had to be postponed. In view of Messrs. Munn and Sinnott, who are classy stick-handlers with the Victorians and who are leaving with our volunteers, the suggestion is advanced that the Feildians and St. Bon's forego their game for Monday night and allow the Victorians and Terra Novas play, the latter teams being scheduled for the following game. The suggestion is strongly supported by the sporting fraternity and by the public generally. A clash between the Terra Novas and Vics, before the latter lose two of their best men would be of much interest.

Girls! Thicken And Beautify Your Hair.

Bring back its gloss, lustre, charm and get rid of dandruff—Try the moist cloth.

To be possessed of a head of heavy, beautiful hair; soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff is merely a matter of using a little Danderine.

It is easy and inexpensive to have nice soft hair and lots of it. Just get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine now—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance; freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and lustre, and try as you will you cannot find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp—Danderine is, we believe, the only sure hair grower; destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries this.
