At the House.

A STORMY SESSION.

TUESDAY, April 18th, 1916.

Mr. C.H. presented a petition from Julien's Harbor, asking that the wharf be finished there; also from Campbellton, asking for repairs to a road.

The Minister of Marine and Fisheries, Mr. Stone and Mr. Halford also presented petitions on various public matters.

The Budget was then brought down by the Finance Minister and discussion deferred till Tuesday next.

Mr. Halford asked the Minister of Finance and Customs how many officials now employed in the Customs Department have not been appointed by the Governor in Council in accordance with provisions of the Audit and Departmental Acts.

The Minister of Finance and Customs said the information had already been tabled in the Auditor General's Report.

The Leader of the Opposition reminded the Finance Minister that the Auditor General's report only gave a list of new salaries and increased salaries not authorized by the House. He pointed out that Mr. Halford's question simply asked what appointments had been made by the Minister himself and not by the Governor in Council and needed a specific answer.

The Finance Minister at this stage felt very uncomfortable and half-heartedly promised to table the information.

The House then went into Committee on the Sealing Bill and the unsettled clause of prohibiting steel ships over 450 tons net from prosecuting the Seal Fishery was again taken up.

Mr. Devereaux's amendment allowing the Florizel to prosecute and limiting their catch to 25,000 was submitted.

The Minister of Marine and Fisheries stated that Mr. Crosbie had seconded the amendment the previous day had told him that he wished to withdraw.

The Premier altered the definite decision he had already taken and supported the amendment. In his judgment, he said, by limiting her catch would be penalizing the Florizel and practically prohibiting her from prosecuting the sealing voyage. He thought it unfair to injure the capitalists.

The Leader of the Opposition regarded the Premier's attitude as an abject surrender. Still it was not surprising in view of certain representations that were made and he noticed as if there was going to be "something doing" because all the benches on the Government side were occupied.

The Leader of the Opposition then stated the position plainly. First of all the Bill was brought in as a Government Bill, moved by the Premier and referred to a Select Committee, comprising members from both sides of the House. The measure was discussed and accepted by the Select Committee. The principles were laid down clearly and there was no discussion offered until the member for Placentia, Mr. Devereaux, made an amendment, after the Bill had been brought back by the Committee and partly gone through. He pointed out that the Opposition intended to stand by the 150 petitions, representing 10,000 fishermen of the north, asking to have the Florizel excluded and reiterated that the attitude of the Leader of the Government was an abject surrender.

The Minister of Marine and Fisheries said the Select Committee had ample time to consider the Bill and the principles and that he, as a member of that Committee, was going to stand by his guns and vote for the Bill and stand and would not accept the amendment.

The Finance Minister who was also one of the Select Committee, said he was prepared to reverse his decision now and support the amendment, although he had pledged himself to stand by the report of the Committee. He attempted to quibble by stating that the proceedings at the meeting were not formal when the Committee were drafting their report.

The Leader of the Opposition retorted that his recollection differed from the Finance Minister's and furthermore he was not prepared to accept the Minister's version of what took place. He stated that what really happened was that there was absolute assent, every member present saying they would stand by their guns.

The Finance Minister felt himself in an awkward plight and said everybody made mistakes sometimes. He said he believed he had done wrong by voting for the Bill and was now rectifying that wrong by voting for the amendment and emphatically added that he had a right to change his vote as often as he liked.

The Leader of the Opposition promptly replied that he did not dispute or question the Minister's right to change.

Mr. Coaker said that every member of the Select Committee had agreed not to alter the original recommendation and pointed out that the Minister of Finance signed the report, indicating that he was going to stand by the report. Continuing, he explained that what gave rise to the numerous petitions sent by the fishermen for the excluding of the Florizel was that certain wooden ships would be aided by the Florizel in getting seals as she was much more powerful than any other ship. This he contended was unfair to the other sealing captains.

The Premier then got up and with his typical political astuteness began to talk that the question was not a party one, after having failed to make it so and knowing full well that two of his Ministers were going to stand by the Bill in its present form. He then credited Mr. Coaker with the sincere motives he was actuated by in regard to the Florizel.

The Minister of Public Works rose and in unmistakable voice gave a clear and definite pronouncement in favour of the Bill.

Mr. Devereaux followed on the lines of the Minister of Finance, as was expected. He spoke of the sincerity of the member for Twillingate and in the same breath insinuated that the whole trouble was a personal grudge with Captain Kean whom he had heard spoken ill against in the House by the member for Twillingate.

Mr. Coaker challenged Mr. Devereaux to prove his last statement, which he didn't and had to retract it.

The Leader of the Opposition noticed that Mr. Devereaux's sympathies, according to his own professing, were with the fishermen. He gave and took occasion to inform that member that their sympathies were not with him. The Leader of the Opposition then showed convincingly to the House that, according to arguments put forward in the debate by the Premier and Mr. Devereaux, were prepared to confiscate the capital of the Stephanos, but were not prepared to confiscate the Florizel's capital. He then referred to the pitiable insinuation as to the Bill and Captain Kean and stated that the Bill conveyed no penalty against Capt. Kean. He showed that but for the intimacy between two ships at the sealfishery the 1914 disaster would never have happened.

The Finance Minister said he had heard a lot of criticism about Capt. Kean, but he wished to make the open declaration that Capt. Kean was one of the greatest and most successful great Newfoundland ever produced.

Mr. Coaker then rose and said he had viewed the Sealing Bill all through without animosity. He gave a practical review of the sealing voyage and stated that this spring Capt. Kean wired to Capt. Barbour asking where the seals were and for four days was steaming about on the lost track while the Neptune and Eagle were into the main patch and afterwards was brought into the seals through a wireless message. He also said that Capt. Kean's son was in charge of the Erik but would not have been there but that the Florizel was out. He also showed how the Florizel was helping the Erik all the spring. Mr. Coaker gave a scathing criticism of certain members of the Government for the epithets hurled at those who were representing the fishermen.

The Finance Minister said that wrongful insinuations were made by the Leader of the Opposition against Capt. Kean whom the Minister said had been vindicated by the Commissioners of Enquiry.

The Leader of the Opposition replied that the majority of the Commission did not vindicate Capt. Kean. The Finance Minister then resorted to his bull-dozing tactics which is a characteristic of him that everyone in the House is aware of. He wished the Opposition members would talk and especially the Leader of the Opposition, and did not think the Opposition Leader knew a captain from a sculpin.

The Leader of the Opposition retorted he knew a wise man from a fool.

The Finance Minister descended to the gutter for a response but all he could muster up and say was that the Leader of the Opposition was a school master who drifted here from England.

The Leader of the Opposition here administered a well-merited castigation to the Finance Minister and put an end to the cross-firing. He challenged the Minister to point out an instance where he had professed to have knowledge of the fisheries and referred to the Minister's flippancy and blackguardism for attacking him for saying something he did not say. Dealing with the Minister's flow of "logic" he showed how the Minister in spite of his boasted knowledge of the fisheries had just discarded the decision of the Select Committee last year.

The Leader of the Opposition produced the minutes of the House to show, beyond doubt, that the Minister attended the meeting of the Select Committee and had signed his name to the report made by that Committee in which they had recommended that this section be not changed. Immediately before this re-consideration by the House of the Select Committee members of the House of Assembly were present, a Minister of the Crown had received representation, signed by firms, interested in the steel steamer fleet taking exception to the bill, and even after this Mr. Caslin had now signed a recommendation not to make any change of the nature he was now advocating. Referring to the Finance Minister's remarks about Capt. Kean, he repeated that the Commissioners did not vindicate Capt. Kean but the finding of the majority that he had been guilty of an error of judgment.

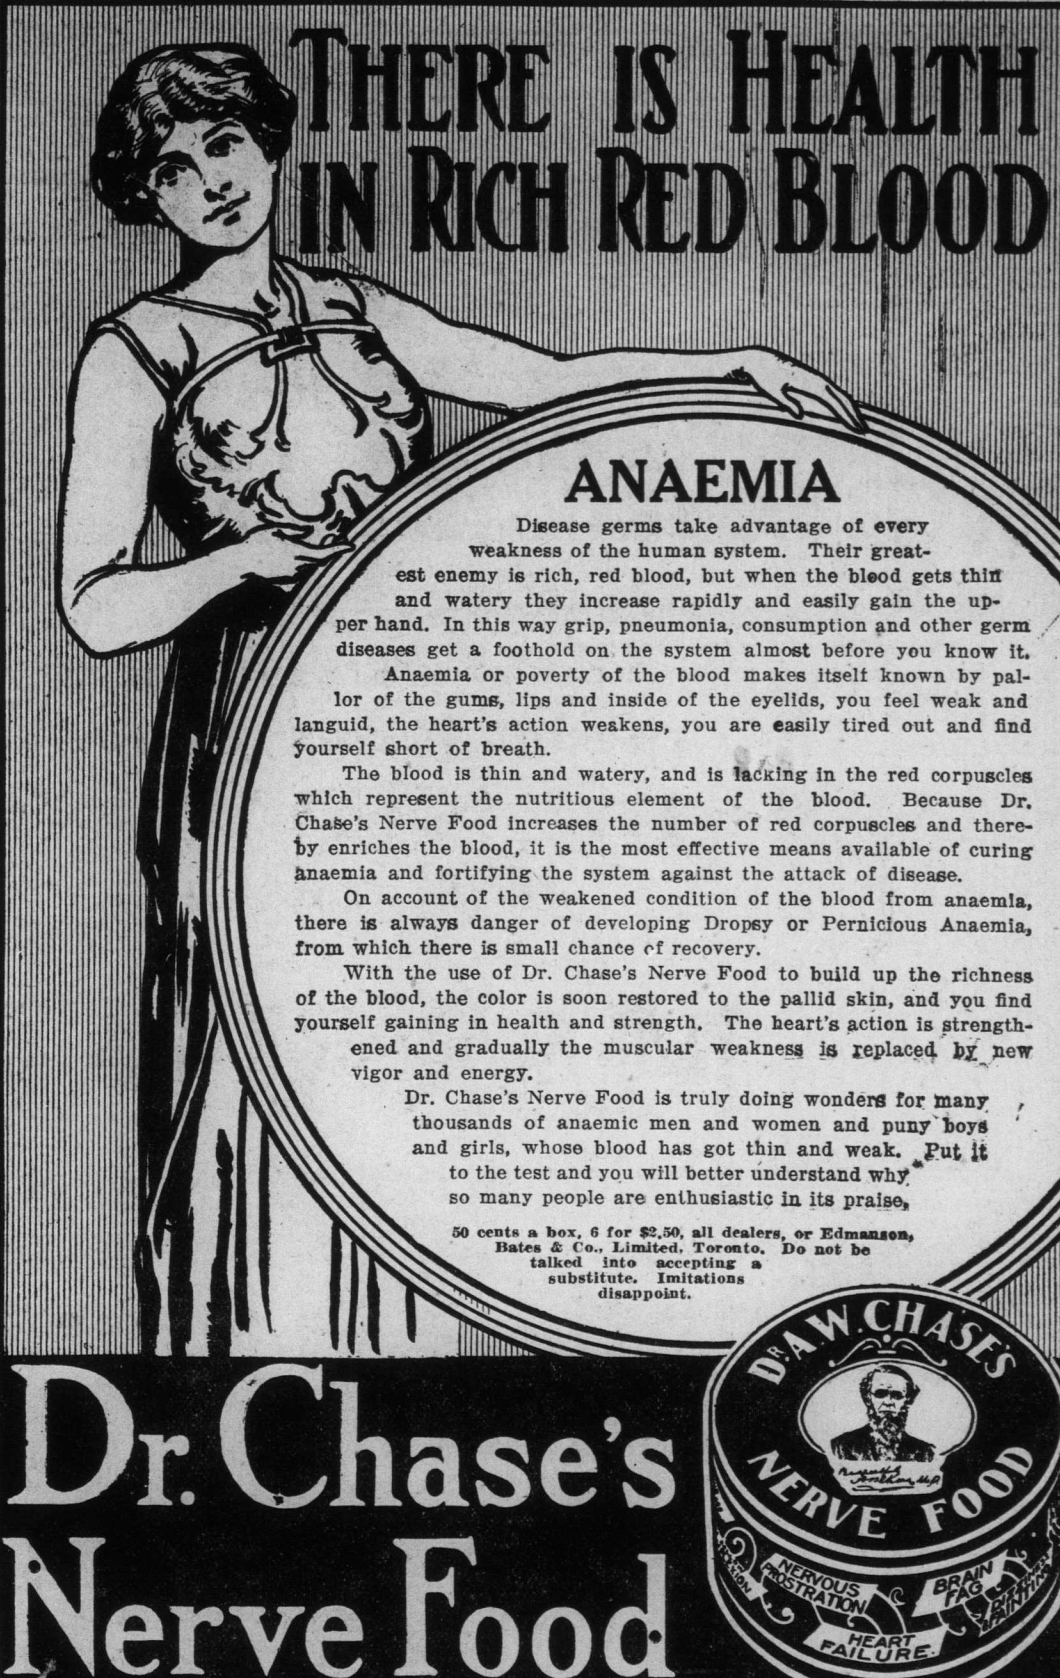

Mr. Downey and Mr. Higgins then rose to say that they had no knowledge of the document in shape of a representation.

Mr. Moore, the junior member for the Southern Shore, interrupted with shouts of "Tis not true." He felt badly hurt over the treatment meted out to his vari-coloured colleague, Mr. Caslin.

The Leader of the Opposition informed the House that he had been shown in the House the Sealing officers representation by a Minister of the Crown. Those in the Government benches expressed surprise and wondered still if it was true, as if they didn't know it.

Mr. Noulton and Mr. Grimes then spoke briefly on the Bill, after which the Committee rose at 6.30 and asked leave to sit again this afternoon.

THERE IS HEALTH IN RICH RED BLOOD

ANAEMIA

Disease germs take advantage of every weakness of the human system. Their greatest enemy is rich, red blood, but when the blood gets thin and watery they increase rapidly and easily gain the upper hand. In this way grip, pneumonia, consumption and other germ diseases get a foothold on the system almost before you know it. Anaemia or poverty of the blood makes itself known by pallor of the gums, lips and inside of the eyelids, you feel weak and languid, the heart's action weakens, you are easily tired out and find yourself short of breath.

The blood is thin and watery, and is lacking in the red corpuscles which represent the nutritious element of the blood. Because Dr. Chase's Nerve Food increases the number of red corpuscles and thereby enriches the blood, it is the most effective means available of curing anaemia and fortifying the system against the attack of disease.

On account of the weakened condition of the blood from anaemia, there is always danger of developing Droupy or Perilous Anaemia, from which there is small chance of recovery.

With the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to build up the richness of the blood, the color is soon restored to the pallid skin, and you find yourself gaining in health and strength. The heart's action is strengthened and gradually the muscular weakness is replaced by new vigor and energy.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is truly doing wonders for many thousands of anaemic men and women and puny boys and girls, whose blood has got thin and weak. Put it to the test and you will better understand why so many people are enthusiastic in its praise.

50 cents a box, 6 for $2.50, all dealers, or Edman, State Co., Limited, Toronto. Do not be talked into accepting a substitute. Imitations disappoint.

Murderer's Wife Asks for Divorce.

Grand Rapids, Mich., April 8.—Mrs. Clara Louise Peck Waite, has filed suit for divorce from Dr. Arthur Warren Waite in the superior court here. Her bill of complaint charges that her husband, now under indictment in New York for the murder of her father, John E. Peck, gained her consent to marriage by fraud; that he treated her with extreme cruelty, plotted to murder her father and mother, and did accomplish that crime, and intended to kill her and other members of her family. It is also charged that Dr. Waite had improper relations with Mrs. Margaret Horton and other persons unknown to the plaintiff.

Mrs. Waite charges that her husband began to treat her cruelly immediately after their marriage on September 9, 1915, and conducted himself towards her in an "unkind, cruel, harsh, brutal and inhuman" manner, and that this continued until she was forced to leave him. Mrs. Waite avers that she left the Pauline Hotel in this city because she feared for her life.

The complaint makes direct charges that the defendant administered poisons which caused the death of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Peck.

"By pretending to be a physician and a specialist in surgery," the bill says, "the defendant carried on an extensive plot in poisoning. The result of poison administered to your orator's mother resulted in her death Jan. 20, 1916. The result of the poison (arsenic) administered to your orator's father John E. Peck, resulted in the death of said John E. Peck, March 12th, 1916. From the result of investigation your orator verily believes it to be true that the defendant actually had in mind to poison various other members of her family and indeed had specially in mind to poison your orator."

The complaint quotes fully the signed confession which Dr. Waite issued in New York several days ago. It is also alleged that Waite carried on unlawful relations with "persons unknown" to the plaintiff and that between Feb. 22 and March 18, 1916, he lived with one Mrs. Margaret Horton in the Plaza Hotel, New York, under the name of Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Walters of New Rochelle."

"He represented himself as a practicing physician, having an established practice, and as a moral, honest young man," says the complaint. "By fraudulently misrepresenting his

Loses Widow's Heart

Violinist's Conquest Ends When He Kicks in Woman's Door.

Chicago, Ill., April 12.—Tony Dvorcek, of Rockford, by his soulful playing of the violin, won the heart of Mrs. Jennie Malek, 1542 Haddon Avenue, and she wrote to him to come and marry her, according to his statement to Judge Flanagan when arraigned on complaint of Mrs. Malek.

The woman had him arrested when he appeared at her home and kicked the door down when he found another calling on her.

"I don't care anything about his old fling," Mrs. Malek told the court, "and I never sent for him."

The Judge advised Dvorcek to return to Rockford, and dismissed the charge against him.

Grippe Left Her Seriously Ill.

BUT DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS CURED HER COMPLETELY.

Mrs. Halquist Tells Just Why She Is the Firm Friend of the Great Canadian Kidney Remedy, Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Bangor, Sask., April 13. (Special)—Mrs. Pete Halquist, a well-known resident here, is a firm believer in Dodd's Kidney Pills, and is always ready to tell the reason why.

"About a year ago," Mrs. Halquist says, "my little girl was taken ill with the grippe. She was sick in bed for three weeks with pains in the joints. They were swollen and stiff."

"She had cramps in her muscles, so it was awful hard for her to get around for the longest time. After she was able to be around her skin became harsh and came off in scales."

"After using two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills she was as well as ever she was in her life. She has been strong and healthy ever since."

The after-effects of grippe are more to be dreaded than the disease itself. That is because they generally act on weak kidneys and put them out of working order. Sick kidneys are the cause of rheumatism, backache, droupy and numerous other diseases. The one sure way to avoid them is to keep the kidneys toned up and able to do their work. The best way to keep the kidneys healthy is to use Dodd's Kidney Pills.

NEW NON-ALCOHOLIC BEER.

London, April 11.—The Liquor Control Board has discovered a new non-alcoholic beer, the sale of which will be pushed as far as possible in the English public houses.

"It smells like beer, it looks like beer, it tastes like beer; the only difference is in the headache," says the statement issued by the Board.

In a test case a workman drank twenty pint bottles, without becoming intoxicated. The new drink will be placed at the disposal of Parliament, in the House of Commons bar.

What the Buns Think of Us.

It is easy now for the Britons to see clearly that their cause in the near east is in a very shaky condition. Because of what elements do the forces they have available in Mesopotamia and in the adjacent regions consist? Of Australians and Canadians mainly, the very riff-raff of humanity, descendants and murderers and thieves, drunken hordes who despise the very thought of discipline and decency. These constitute the unspeakable human refuse against whom our heroic sons and brothers are doomed to fight. And yet, there are sentimentalists who would urge us to be dainty in the choice of our weapons when facing such bestial creatures as these!—Vossische Zeitung, Berlin.

Spy Put to Death.

London, April 11.—A spy was put to death in London to-day. Announcement of this occurrence was made officially as follows: "A prisoner charged with espionage was tried by our general court martial at Westminster Guildhall on the 20th of March and the following days, and was sentenced to death, which was carried out this morning."

WHY HAIR FALLS OUT

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out.

To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Dandruff at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub well into the scalp. After a few applications all dandruff disappears and the hair stops coming out.
