

100,000 Strikers in Ruhr Return to Work

Wives Forced to Accept Turkey's Offer—Russia Accepts British Note With Slight Reservations—Drowning Fatality at Yarmouth, N.S.

LAUSANNE, May 29.

Effort for judicial safeguards for residents in Turkey was made by the Allies, who yesterday accepted the proposal. The Allies' proposal, which would have vetoed the arrests and domiciliary visits in connection with the conference, was rejected. LONDON, May 29.

British memorandum dealing with the latest reply to Lord Curzon's note was communicated to the Russian representative here, on Tuesday, according to the Daily Herald. It contained slight reservations on the offer of payment of compensation for the seizure of British trawlers, and the arrest and detention of Stan Harting, newspaper correspondent, and for the withdrawal of two Weinstain notes. It is stated that the memorandum also abandoned the charge that the Russian Communists were deceiving the Russian people by their propaganda.

Another New Fish Preserving Scheme.

A new method of packing fresh fish to preserve them intact during the shipment to long distances, was announced recently at a meeting of the Fresh Fishery Congress held at Marcellus.

The public announcement follows: "After being carefully gutted, the fish are washed and reduced to a temperature at about freezing. When the whole of the fish has reached about this temperature it is packed in cases that are hermetically sealed. The cases contain 50 to 75 kilograms or 110 to 165 pounds. Each case must be provided with a thin zinc lining to which the cover is to be soldered on. It is then put into an autoclave where a vacuum is formed and the air is replaced by an appropriate gas mixture. After this all that is required to keep the cases at a temperature of about 32 degrees.

The first experiment was made in January with seven cases of fish numbered one to seven. The cases were then held seven days before opening. Case No. 1 had been filled with herring and soles; No. 2 with red gurnet and soles; No. 3 with Whiting and No. 4. The flat fish or soles came out perfectly fresh. Fried with butter, it was impossible to distinguish them from fresh caught soles. The fish was firm and white and the bones were quite uncolored. The codfish, herring and whiting were almost equally good and satisfied all who sampled the fish that a great innovation had come in the fresh fish industry for France.

Lunenburg Outlook Gloomy.

The Lunenburg fishing fleet sailed on their first fishing trip for 1923 the latter part of April. The total number of vessels is 72 as compared with about 100 last year. The departure for the banks was two weeks behind last year's date and the spirit of hope and enthusiasm that then existed is now not in evidence owing to the poor prospects as regards price. Last April the price was $7.00, to-day it is only $5.00 per quintal, so that it is easily seen why the fishermen of Lunenburg are discouraged.

At the time of the fleet's departure there were estimated to be 70,000 quintals of Lunenburg catch of last year yet unsold and about half of this is still in the hands of the fishermen. Their principal market, Porto Rico, is just now in a poor condition and is overstocked with fish sent there on consignment the past winter.

Spanish Royal Mail.

Steamers Discontinue U. S. Sailings Owing to "Dry" Law—Some Foreign Ships Will be Allowed to Have Liquor for Crew.

New York, May 25.—The Spanish Royal Mail Steamship Line, operating between Barcelona and New York, has ordered discontinuance of all United States sailings. Liza Liano, local agent for the company, announced last night. The discontinuance was ordered because of the recent Supreme Court decision forbidding liquor into United States (territorial water limits, he said.

Our Montreal Letter.

MONTEREAL, May 31. "Bootleggers" seem to be doing a thriving business, not only in Montreal, but in other parts of the Province as well.

Frederick Osborn had won his way to wealth and power in the commercial world by sheer strength of character. His way in the affairs of business had always been the successful way. It was hard for him to understand that the successful conduct of a home called for entirely different methods.

Screen celebrities of the first magnitude engaged in the telling of the story—HARRY T. HOBREY, KATHLEEN WILLIAMS, MATT MOORE, FAIRIE HENNEY, ROLAND BOTTOMLEY, GRACE VALENTINE

These encouraging results will be followed by tests on a commercial scale. "The gas mixture that is put in after the vacuum has been formed by the insertion of the autoclave is the secret of the process and the patentee has sold the secret out to the Government. The peculiarity about this gas mixture is that it retains in the fish the original flavor that it has when cooked fresh immediately after being taken from the water.—(Canadian Fisherman.)

Dr. Leo Jackman, son of the late Hon. E. M. Jackman, who is finishing at McGill this year, has been appointed house surgeon at the Montreal General Hospital. Leo has worked his way to the front, gained the confidence of his superiors and has proven himself to be made of the material which means success in his profession.

"The twilight fades; dim pales the star; Life is not what it ought to be, But what we make ourselves, we are. So runs 'Life's Little Irony'."

"The twilight faded and the star of hope went away, when seven professional beggars on "Black Friday" stood in the Recorder's Court and mused on the above verse. "Life is not what it ought to be." Certainly to them it was the easiest manner of making an easy living. But alas! when Recorder Semple and Geoffron handed out the punishments they realized that, "what we make ourselves we are."

Albert Work goes to Bordeaux until November next. He was caught on Craig street east on May 12 by Constables Edmond and Geoffron of No. 3 station, and Recorder Semple had no mercy for him.

John Henderson, a Plan, 46, laborer, got the two months after Recorder Geoffron had reproached him for not being even "a refined beggar."

The trial of George Waddell, Michael Ryan, Robert Elliott, James Scott, and John Bristol, all heavy-headed old timers who ten days ago pleaded not guilty to begging, provided the court with unusual amusement.

The five were arrested with two quart bottles of beer in a case, when one shouted out, "I took ten cents from a gentleman who offered it to me."

Hotel Dieu Sisters will not be cloistered, and they can devote more time to hospital, educational and charitable work. Sister Morrissey's aim—a hospital for the English-speaking Catholics of Montreal, is about to be realized. Though she met with strenuous and bitter opposition and in spite of many difficulties, she has proven her worth and won out, with the old maxim, "Perseverance overcomes all obstacles."

"Did you ever hear of the 'pickpocket,' bold and slick, Who would rob you of your cash with a very cute trick? He enters the street car, jostles you morning and night. Then reaches out his hand, and gets the money in sight."

The City Hall is being rebuilt and will be finished in about three months time. The Dominion Bridge Company is doing the steel work. Half of the old walls are still in tact, and are being considerably strengthened. The new edifice will be modern in every detail, and will be fireproof.

The new English hospital is now an assured fact. It will be in charge of the British Sisters and Rome has appointed Mrs. Sister Morrissey its first Superior, and has also removed the rule of the Order from the Order as many doctors were not in favor of having Cloistered Sisters take charge of hospitals in future.
