Mr. Labouchere showed that the so-called "home" was practically a jail, and that the inmates were compelled to work for the benefit of the proprietors. The latter brought an action against Mr. Labouchere, claiming heavy damages for libel, but the jury in the case decided that the charges were true and added a rider to their verdict, declaring that the home should be under Government control. Both the plaintiffs testified in the libel case, and to-day Mr. Labouchere obtained summonses against them on the charge of perjury. The case will come up at the Bow street police court on Jan. 10. LONDON, Dec. 29 .- The attacks made by Henry Labouchere in Truth and in hi Henry Labouchere in Truth and in me Parliamentary speeches upon the couduct of the South African Company in the recent attack against the Matabeles have moved the company to provide the House of Cemmons with a list of their shareholders. This list will be issued soon as a Parliamentary paper. Contrary to expectations the list contains few names of members of Parliament. These few are Sir Charles Dilke (Radical), Thomas Gibson Bowels (Tory), Ashmead Bartlett Burdett-Coutts, (Conservative), Charles Van Sittart Conybeare (Radical), Sir Thomas Sutherland (Liberal-Unionis), and Alexander McArthur, a Government whip. They hold £8,000 in shares. Most of the shareholders have invested only small sums. Among them are Mr. Schnadhurst, the great Liberal organizer, a host of Jews and not a few foreigners. The Duke of Abercorn and Duke of Fife are smong the heaviest shareholders. Premier Cecil Rhodes, of Cape Colony, has £30,000 of Parliamentary speeches upon the couheaviest shareholders. Fremier Cecil Rhodes, of Cape Colony, has £30,000 of shares. Formerly his holding was £45,000 worth.

Question and Answer.

London, Dec. 29.—In the House of Commons to-day Sir Ellis Ashmead Bartlett asked the Government for information concerning Capt. Wilson, who it is generally believed has been killed by the Matabeles, whom he was pursuing. Mr. Sidney Buxton, Parliamentary Secretary of the Colonial Office, said that information has been received by the Foreign Office that a patrolah deben sent to the relief of Capt. Wilson if he is still alive, and that every possible effort had been made to assist the expedition.

Mr. Gladstone, replying to questione asked by Mr. Henry Labouchereand Right Hon. A. J. MAYOR HARRISON'S SLAYER.

Prendergast on the Rack-Goaded Past Endurance by Attorney Trude. Endurance by Attorney Trude.
CHICAGO, Dec. 29.—Attorney Wade addressed the jury in behalf of the prisoner in the Prendergast trial yesterday. Mr. Wade's address created considerable interest because of his introduction of the quaint practice of addressing the jurors individually. He closed with an elequent plea for his elient's life. Succeeding Mr. Wade, Attorney Trude made the closing speech for the prosecution. His address was elequent and at times bordered on the sensational. In pleading for a death sentence he said: "The Harrisons would be the last to ask the execution of an insane man. The question is, Are we to live under the Stars and Stripes or the red flag of anarchy?"
"I was not animated by malice; I swear before high heaven that I was not; you

Charles is very fond of his teacher, Miss Brown, who is a middle-aged woman. He continually talks about her to his playmates. Soon after the money was stolen, iwo weeks ago, Miss Brown began to find candy and fruit on her desk every morning. Other presents of a more substantial nature iollowed. Charley's mother compelled him to admit that he stole the money to buy her presents. Miss Brown was astonished at the revelation and promised to pay back the $10. As she had not done so, Mrs. Fink asked to have her son arrested.

ANOTHER ROUND FOUGHT.

The Street Railway War in tho Court of Queen's Bench.

Victory for the City This Time-The Case Will Now Go to a Higher Court, Where Six Judges Will Hear It.

Our special correspondent in Toronto elegraphs that Chief Justice Armour and Judge Street gave theirdec sion in the Cou t of Queen's Bench yesterday on the ppeal of the city of London against the decis of Justice Falconbridge in favor of the street railway. The decision this time is in favor of the city. Who will win when the case is carried to the Court of Appeal, as it seems certain that it will be, remains to be seen. The court holds that the Street Railway Company is entitled to build a single track on Dundas street west. This is a victory for the company, as the contention in the lower court was that the company had no right to do so if the council Mr. Trude finished his argument by alluding to Prendergast as a coward, and once more the assessin sprang to his feet and shouted: "You are the coward; you deserve to be hung." Later, when a sarcastic allusion was made to Prendergast's ambition to be corporation ecuasel and the remark made that be was unfit for the position, the prisoner lost his temper again and shouted; "I am fit. I am as fit for any job as you are, Trude." The court teld him to keep quiet and he subsided, necessary to decide in the present case. The appeal was therefore allowed and the dismissed with costs. It will now go to a higher court.

BUSINESS REVIVAL HAS BEGUN Indications for the New Year Are Very
