MERCHANTS COMPLAIN OF NOXIOUS FUMES

Gas of Unknown Origin Affects Workers in Downtown Section of City.

Several people were affected by gas fumes in the down-town section this morning, and this afternoon a number are suffering from headaches. It was suggested that the fumes came from the furnaces in a downtown factory, where gas coke is used as fuel. Others claim that they arise from Mr. David Mills, of the John Mills book store, telephoned The Advertiser office this afternon saying the the and that he and some of the clerks were suffering from headaches as a result of inhaling the gas. Other businessmen also made complaint.

At the city engineer's office The Advertiser was told by Assistant Engineer Brazier that no complaint had been registered with the department and that they did not know where the gas came from. "We had several complaints last spring," said Mr. Brazier, "but after making an investigation we could not find anything wrong. We wil take the matter up this afternoon and try to discover where the gas is coming from."

Sympathy Is All That the Three Premiers Will Get.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Oct. 28.—At the meeting of the Provincial Premiers today it became apparent that the Maritime Provinces are not going to have their way in the matter of representation. The other provinces are opposed to the principle of representation by population being infringed upon by the establishment of an irreducable minimum of federal members.

There was no formal declaration against the eastern provinces, in fact, there was a good deal of sympathy for them, but the three premiers from the Atlantic provinces were given to understand by the eleven other premiers that sympathy was all they could ment goes to the people again, and expect, and that they had better not put forward a resolution.

Today the provincial convention got down to the real purpose of gathering and discussed ways and means to get more money out of the federal treasury. Various plans were discussed and it was finally agreed that the best basis upon which the demand could be made was to ask an allowance of 40 cents per head of population for the administration of jus-

A resolution was passed calling upon the Federal Government to increase the vances of the lieutenant-governors of all the provinces. At present they get $10,000 a year. The resolution does not specify the amount of increase, but leaves that to the Dominion Government

ALL OVER ONTARIO

Ottawa, Oct. 28. — The first sessions of the Ontario good roads comhere today. mission are being held Boards of all the surrounding counties are represented to lay their views on the subject before the three gentlemen who have been appointed to solve the problem for Ontario—C. A. Magrath, Ottawa, chairman; A. M. Ran-kin, M. L. A. for Frontenac, and A. H. McLean, chief highways engineer. Chairman Magrath in opening the session outlined the Government's intentions. It had, he said, decided to embark upon a broad and comprehens. ive plan for aiding the good roads movement, especially in the older-settled portions of the province.

Ask Co-operation. "We ask for the assistance of the people both in the cities and in rural sections, that they come forward and express their views on a subject that begins with the assessment roll and ends with increased facilities for intercommunication between the people which means greater efficiency in the conduct of the business of the entire country.

"We have in Canada built up extens. ve railway systems. Now we must improve our feeders-our highways. The one is as necessary as the other. movement for good roads is rapidly spreading over the continent. There is no greater movement to our people than this, on which we are now engaged. We want the cost to be equitably distributed so that the people as a whole will be prepared to accept our policy."

Modern Highways. The need of a modern highway from Prescott to Ottawa was the chief matbrought before the commission this morning. Chairman Magrath con-curred in the view that it was badly needed. Among the speakers were G. H. Ferguson, M. L. A., Grenville; R. A. Pringle, K. C., representing Cornwall, and Peter White, K. C., Pem-

Mr. Pringle and J. D. McLeod, for Cornwall, strongly advocated a trunk road following the course of the St F. S. Evans, of Prescott, declared that if the commission did nothing else than abolish toll roads it would justify its existence. The keynote of the addresses was public roads built and maintained by the state through a permanent com-purely political one. Of course, the mass of the people have not been carried away by any political movement, but at the bottom of the whole question lies the political origin. The statecarried the people with them, but just the same, the origin of the agitation is political, pure and simple.

"There is a possibility of another election in Great Britain, but that won't affect the Irish situation. The bill will be passed before the Governonce it is on the statute books it will be carried out by either party. Both the great political parties recognize the demand for home rule.

No More Outrages. "During the last three years the Nationalists in Ireland have kept their followers wonderfully in hand. outrages that formerly marked the fight for home rule have ceased to exist. The policy of moderation has been preached by the Nationalists. It is rather a reversal of policy, for it presidential candidacy and a requireframed. Owing to the steadily falling was the Unionists who formerly preached moderation, but the tables have been turned and it is now the Unionists who are making extravagant statements. would seem that the Nationalists have been playing astutely for they seem to realize that victory is theirs, and they can therefore afford to be generous and adopt a policy of moderation.

"As to the talk of the church interfer ence, I don't think that it is regarded seriously. Neither Protestants nor Roman Catholics can point with pride to history. The world has become wonder fully more civilized in the past 300 years nd the uncharitable and somewhat bar baric practices that were indulged in by both churches at that time could not rist now.

"Education is the only thing that could cause any friction, and that will be solved, I believe, by the concession that will be granted to compromise the stand

"Home rule, I believe, will be a goothing for Ireland. It will give the peop of Ireland some incentive to work out their own salvation and will at least give them higher aspirations and higher aims

"In both Ireland and England I found trade exceptionally good. Of course the strikes in Ireland might tend to depress things a little, but outside of that every thing was in good shape. I doubt whether business is ever better than it is in Eng and at the present time. Trade is of a high wave of prosperity money may be a little higher, but man who lives on money alone—the man who lives on Holley zone—the investor—has to get a higher rate for that just as everything else is higher.

"Housing conditions in Le'and are vastly improved, due in no small measure to the land bill, and everywhere conitions are certainly improved."

Senator Ross will remain in London or a few days only, leaving at the end of the week for his constituency in the West where he will remain for a month or so, possibly not returning to the east before the opening of Parliament, which will likely be in January.

Highways Commission.—The public roads and highways commission of due in the next few months. It had Ontario announces that it will hold a public sitting in the council chamber of the county buildings on Tuesday, to obtain information as to local road requirements. Reeves and other municipal representatives are especially invited to attend. Representatives will be heard from the counties of Essex, Kent, Lambton, Huron, Elgin, Middlesex and Oxford.

Arrested Here. Inspector Reynolds was placed on the case and a short time later he arrested Holloway at the Oxford street house. When the case was heard in police court on the morning of May 6, Holloway's mother, wife and brother were present. The brother testified against Holloway, as did the wife, but the mother created quite a scene by insisting that her boy was persecuted and that if he were deported she should be also. The brother turned against the prisoner, saying he abused his wife, and that he would look after her and her little baby if Holloway were sent out of the country. Holloway was sentenced to six weeks in the common jail, and ordered deported again at the expiration of his term.

Sent to England. After serving his sentence he was sent to England, arriving at London on July 3. On Aug. 1 he was back in Canada again, having given a fictitious name to the immigration officials at Montreal.

About three weeks ago Mr. Reynolds eceived another letter saying that Holloway was back. He immediately started to work on the case, but Holloway, learning that he was being watched, left London suddenly, going! east. He was followed, and doubled back into Windsor, intending to make his escape into Detroit if the chase became too warm. He was nabbed Monday morning before he could get away by Mr. Reynolds and came up for trial this morning.

Conservatory Pianoforte Playing Competition

Intense interest is being taken in the second annual competition in pianoforte playing and singing, announced by the Lonion Conservatory of Music some short time ago. There are many entries in the various grades and keen competition is expected. The eliminating trial will be held the first week of December, the final competition being held a week later. A public recital will be given by the successful competitors, at which the prizes will be awarded.

The selections chosen for the piano competition are as follows: "Gavotte Mignonne," by Gregh for Grade I.; Beethoven's "Menuet in G," Grade II.; 'Albumblatt," Wiehmayer, Grade III.; 'Scherzo in E Flat," by Liebling for Grade IV.; "Liebeswalzer," Op. 57, No. Moszkowski, Grade V.; "Etude in A. MAN KILLED BY AUTO WORKED HERE AS BARBER

William Malloy Was Known to Londoners-Not Known To Be Rich.

William Malloy, who was killed in a motor accident in Detroit Thurslay night, and whose body lay in the De-troit morgue unidentified for some time, formerly kept a barber shop on Richmond street, north of the C. P. R.

Malloy left this city several years ago. He went to Detroit and secured employment in the barber shop under the Oxford Hotel on Woodward avenue. Returning to London, he worked for Mr. White on Richmond street, but only stayed here a short time. He went back again to Detroit, and worked there in different barber shops. When Malloy was in London there was some talk about his mother having considerable money coming to her, but nothing definite was ever heard about it. A Detroit dispatch said he recently ranthrough a fortune. Before coming to London he resided in Blyth

Was Absent.

Investigation exploded a supposed ragedy this morning, when it was eported that an aged lady had been ound dead in bed at her lodgings above 245 Dundas street. The truth of the matter was that she was absent on a visit and has not yet returned. Two neighbor women became alarmed at the non-appearance of the old lady, as they hal seen no signs of her for a week. They took a peek through the keyhole this morning, and were horrified to see what they took for the body of the woman lying on the bed. They notified the landlord of the apartments, who forced the door and made the discovery that the supposed "corpse" was a bundle of bed-

DR. COLWELL VISITING LOCAL INSTITUTIONS

Dr. Colwel, of Chicago, representing the American Medical Association, is in London today and will visit the Western Medical College, the local hospitals and Institute of Public Health for the purpose of submitting a report regarding them to the association. In company with Dr. H. A. McCallum, Dr. Waugh and Dr. Hill, he is making a tour of the local institutions this afternoon. Representatives of the Carnegie foundation are also expected to visit London this week regarding posible asistance from that fund for the Western Medical College.

The Best Cough Syrup is Easily Made at Home

Costs Little and Acts Quickly. Money Refunded If It Fails.

This recipe makes 16 ounces of cough syrup, and saves you about $2.00 as compared with ordinary cough remedies. It stops obstinate coughs—even whooping cough-in a hurry, and is splendid for sore lungs, asthma, croup, hoarseness and other throat troubles. Mix two cups of granulated sugar with one cup of warm water, and stir for two minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a 16-ounce bottle, and add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

Tastes good. This takes right hold of a cough and gives almost instant relief. It stimulates the appetite, and is slightly laxa-tive—both excellent features. Pinex, as perhaps you know, is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in guaiacol and the other natural healing pine elements. No other preparation will do the work of Pinex in this recipe, although strained honey can be used instead of the sugar syrup, if desired. Thousands of housewives in the United States and Canada now use this Pinex and Sugar Syrup recipe. This plan has often been imitated, but the old successful formula has never been equaled. low cost and quick results have made it immensely popular.
