WESTERN LOSE, BUT SHOW Joe Beckett, Former English Idol, May Come To Meet Brennan PLENTY OF GAMENESS

Held Heavy Aggies' Attack At Standstill For Three Periods, But Gave Way in Third-Was Last Home Game.

Sheer spirit kept Western so closely on the heels of the Guelph Aggies yesterday afternoon that for three periods, practically, they held the heavy Aggies at a standstill. Towards the last spirit wasn't enough to stem the Farmers' attack, and they pushed over two touches, which went unconverted, and kicked to the deadline, with only a yard and a half to go to Western's touchline, making their margin 17 to 2.

Had Aggies shown this kicking took Aggies to within a yard and a inclination earlier in the game, there half of another touch when they kicked might have been a different tale to relate, but the visitors settled down to a steady pounding from the opening whistle, and it finally had its effect in tackles that were nerveless and lacked strength and body. Western gained on all their kicks, and it was only the breaks of the game and inches that gave them two rouges instead of two field goals, for Rice was kicking accurately, and good jockeying put Western in position for these attempts.

Just a Slip.

O. A. C. slipped over the first touchdown by a steady buck down the field before Western got going, so that barring this lapse, the locals outplayed the visitors the first two quarters. Early in the third period, the steady plunging, however, of the Farmers started the worn seams of the Western machine to showing up, and the ripping process was comparatively easy, especially when the last lap rolled around. The first touch came as a result of consistent gains of yards down the field from center. The Aggies marched down a second time and a fake buck on their second down gave Dawson a chance for a dizzy circling 50-yard run that would have measured but 30 yardsticks as the crow does its flying, to Western's three-yard line. A buck through the center carried it over for touch.

Sarnia or Hard Olls To Meet Galt Twelve.

SARNIA. Nov. 2.—When the winner of the Sarnia-Petrolea intermediate rugby controversy steps out of this district into the semi-fiants of the O. R. F. U. they will meet the unbeaten Galt intermediate aggregation. This word from Toronto, while unofficial, is the way H. H. Mc-Kee, secretary of the O. R. F. U. has the situation doped out. The winner of the Sarnia-Petrolea-Galt mix-up will meet Dundas in the finals.

These arrangements are only tentative and alterations may be made, but this is the way the O. R. F. U. are looking to settle the intermediate question.

The doctor said it was caused by bad blood. doctor said it was caused by bad blood. My face was so bad I didn't like to go out among a crowd of people. One day I was talking to a friend, and she advised me to get a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters and try it. I just took or pimple of any kind left. MARSHALL CHALLENGED FOR U.S. CHESS TITLE

onship of the United States,

1 first Between 1

J. Marshall, present title-holder, for the chess championship of the United States, is one of the most brilliant of the younger Americans who have qualified as "Knights" of the chess board.

Even as a boy, Whitaker was a chess phenomenon. At 17, when he had just entered the University of Pennsylvania, he went to England as a member of that university's chess team, and defeated every player from Oxford and Cambridge that he met.

The contestant for Champlon Marshall's crown began playing chess when he was 13. The rudiments of the game he learned from a chum, and then began "studying the game" under the tutelage of his father, who is a professor of mathematics in one of the Philadelphia high schools.

Later, when he joined the famous old Mercantile Chess Club of his own city, young Whitaker came under the notice of Dr. Gustave Reichhelm, who had an international reputation as a writer on chess and as a problem solver sons in the fine art of chess.

During the past couple of days there has been much uncertainty in Collegiate circles as to whether the game should be played Saturday or Thanksgiving Day. The players on both teams favored the Saturday date, but some of the heads looked with more favor upon Monday afternoon. The Sarnia players, anxious to see the Sarnia-Petrolea intermediate game in Petrolea on that date, were almost unanimous for Saturday, and when a telegram was received from St. Thomas asking for a Saurday date, Toronto was communicated with in the matter of referees for the week-end tilt. This insures that Sarnia rugby fans will see the digtrict finals in both the interscholastic and intermediate O. R. F. U. races, and two bumper crowds from this city will likely be on hand.

BEAL BUY ORK. Nov. 2.—Joe Beckett, English heavyweight, champion, will be seen in a bout at Madison Square Garden late next month or early next year, if plans of Promoter Tex Rickard materialize. It was reported yesterday that Rickard has been in negotiation with the British heavyweight title-holder in an effort to get Beckett to agree to a match here under the promoter's auspices. It is understood Bill Brennan, Chicago heavyweight, will be selected to test England's champion in the event that Beckett decides to make a visit to this country.
