PORT GEORGE

Preaching service in the Baptist Church, Sunday, Sept. 20th, 7.30 p.m. Rev. Mr. Whitman, of Port Louis will conduct the service.

Mrs. Guilford Weaver passed peacefully away at her home here at the age of sixty years. She had been in poor health for a number of years but was able to be about her house part of the time. As the Spring came she seemed to sink, and after several months of suffering, borne with patience and gentle submission, the end came on August 30. Her daughter, Mrs. H. C. Spinney, of Lynn, had been with her during the Summer months and with the tenderest care, watched beside her mother until her death. She leaves to mourn a kind husband, one son, David, Weaver, of this place, three brothers and one sister, Mrs. Edward Reynolds, of Lynn. The funeral service was conducted by the Rev. S. S. Poole, of Middleton, assisted by Mr. E. A. Kinley and was largely attended by the entire community, and all felt that they had indeed lost a friend. The many beautiful floral offerings indicated the sympathy for the bereaved family and esteem with which the deceased was held.

Britain's Food Supply is Safe in Canada

OTTAWA, Sept. 11.—Canada's importance as the great food producing dominion of the empire is being demonstrated in the steady outflow of supplies to the United Kingdom. In addition to the free gifts of flour and other supplies by the Dominion and Provincial Governments, Great Britain is obtaining large quantities of wheat, oats, hay, etc., through purchases by the war office. Canada has been able to supply all that the war office has asked for to date and is apparently in a position to meet the demand indefinitely. These purchases are being made through the ministerial sub-committee appointed some time ago with Hon. Robert Rogers as chairman.

Horror of the Retreat in Belgium

(By Marie Harrison.)

Ghent, Aug. 22.—I left Brussels in a train crowded with refugees and the scene at Gare Du Nord was most extraordinary. Hundreds of grief-stricken men and women from Louvain arrived at the very moment the well to do residents were departing for Ghent. A white haired woman, verging on eighty, was led gently through the densely packed streets by a boy scout. All her worldly possessions were carried in a small bundle. She was seeking shelter in Brussels. There passed by her in a voiture, expensively dressed women, whose many boxes were labelled "Londres."

It was tragic in the extreme to hear the refugees asking in trembling tones, if Brussels was safe. Dare they remain in the capital, or would it be wiser to journey until further afield? Most of them were told that Brussels probably would be quite safe for a day or two, but after, who could tell?

I have had an interesting chat with Abbe Francois Dierckx, who came to Ghent, Thursday by the last train to leave Louvain. The Abbe, who is vicar of St. Joseph's, in the abandoned town, said:

"Early Thursday morning I was awakened by the roar of cannon. I dressed hurriedly, knowing that at any moment the whole population might be ordered to evacuate the town. It was obvious that the Germans were close at hand. Triermont was in flames, Louvain might share a similar fate."

"I saw the most awful scenes possible to witness. The people realized that they were defenseless and that there was no alternative but flight. The civil guards were ordered to lay down their arms and dress as ordinary men. Everyone was told to clear out as quickly as possible."

"There was no confusion or panic. But the sorrow of these poor people driven out of their homes is indescribable. Many of the town folk had never travelled further than Brussels. Some had never been out of their immediate district, and, at a few moments notice they were ordered to leave their beloved homes and hurry away. There was no time to even pick out their treasured possessions. The little bundles they carried contained for the most part food and drink."

Ladies are up in Arms Against the Liquor Traffic in Sydney

(Sydney Record)

A very interesting meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union was held at the home of Mrs. Bannerman, Townsend St., last evening. After the usual routine business had been transacted, the corresponding secretary made a verbal report for the committee appointed to attend the regular meeting of the city council on September 3rd, while the non-enforcement of the Nova Scotia Temperance Act was discussed. The president asked if any member had any remarks to make, and in response Mrs. J. K. Brown said in part:

"Ladies we are told that the city council does not hold itself responsible for the enforcement of the Nova Scotia Temperance Act. Then who is responsible? Has anyone yet explained the reason of this continual first offence? After a man has been fined ten times it is still first offence. Are we going to sit idle while this sort of thing goes on? While our soldiers stagger intoxicated through our streets? No, a thousand times no. Let us protest at once to Col. Sam Hughes and make him aware of the situation regarding these men in camp. I assure you that if I had a husband or son coming home drunk everyday the rum-sellers and city officials would know whether law could be enforced."

"They tell us that $12,000 will be collected in fines next year. What will be done with this money? The law says it is to be used for the prosecution of the N. S. T. A. Instead of that it is used to pay salaries, and for various other purposes."

"Ladies, we should demand that we be notified when liquor, seized by Inspector Anthony, is to be destroyed, and let us be sure that it is liquor—our nostrils will tell us that."

Several other members spoke and the society proceeded to the election of officers for the ensuing year. The following is the executive for 1914-15: Mrs. A. H. Fowles, Pres., Miss E. Q. DeWolfe, Rec. Sec., Mrs. L. E. Jost, Treas., Mrs. O. A. Lewis, Corr. Sec., Mrs. F. A. McInnis and Mrs. L. E. Jost were appointed to represent the society at the annual provincial convention at Kentville, N. S., the last week of September.

Reports from retiring superintendents were read and the meeting closed.

St. Joseph, Lewis, July 14, 1903. MINARD'S LINIMENT CO., Ltd.

Gentlemen,—I was badly kicked by my horse last May and after using several preparations on my leg nothing would do. My leg was black as jet. I was laid up in bed for a fortnight and could not walk. After using three bottles of your MINARD'S LINIMENT I was perfectly cured, so that I could start on the road.

Humbugging the People

The latest report of the Inspector of prisons shows an alarming increase in the number of persons committed to the common jails. It is very sad to see that while the increase in the number of men committed is greater than that of women yet there is a decided increase in the number of women committed to jail.

Judges and Magistrates tell us that at least three-fourths of these commitments were due to drink. Some judges place the number as high as ninety per cent. When the barrooms are closed crime almost stops. In San Francisco, at the time of the earthquake, when the barrooms were closed for nearly three months there was not a murder, but in a month after they were opened there were eighteen murders. When a very large number of barrooms were closed in London during the dock-laborer's strike the same reduction in crime occurred.

Both political parties in this country boast of what they have done for the promotion of temperance but the facts prove that nothing effective has been done by either party. Kansas, Maine and North Dakota are emptying their jails, asylums and poorhouses in a wonderful way, while here the people are heavily taxed to provide more accommodation for the increasing output in the liquor traffic.

Why cannot we have prohibition in Ontario? The people have voted for it on two occasions by overwhelming majorities. Both political parties parade under the temperance banner and declare their intention to do all in their power to lessen this great evil yet it goes on increasing.

We talk about Government by the people but in fact we are governed by the whiskey interest. The parties are so jealous of one another that they dare not oppose the business that they all know is the greatest enemy of the country. Before prohibition we want the Initiative whereby we can demand a law on its being approved by a majority of the people. Not till then will we have real government by the people.

Crown Prince and Minister of War

Shoot Each Other During a Violent Political Discussion.

PARIS, Sept. 11.—A despatch to the Havas agency from Rome says:—

"A telegram from Athens to the newspaper Vita says that a violent discussion arose between the Crown Prince of Turkey and Enver Pasha, the Turkish Minister of War, on the subject of the political policy of Turkey. Enver Pasha, becoming greatly excited, fired two shots from a revolver at the prince, who was slightly wounded. The prince replied and shot Enver Pasha in the leg. According to reports Enver Pasha has since died of the wounds received in the duel with the crown prince."
