

fore to be hoped that an amicable settlement of the dispute will be arrived at without having recourse to the last and worst means of redress—swords and guns. Such a way out of the difficulty may be found in the proposal to submit all matters in dispute to arbitration, proposed, it is said, by the President of Chili. Mr. Harrison and his cabinet could hardly refuse to accept the suggestion, and thus both nations would be able to secure "peace with honor."

OVATION TO THE NEW GOVERNMENT.

Mr. Meier and his friends ever had any hope of retaining their hold on the city of Montreal, in the forthcoming election, the meeting of Saturday night last, in the Drill Hall, must have dispelled the illusion. About 18,000 of Montreal's citizens gathered to welcome the Hon. Mr. DeBoucherville and his colleagues in the Government, and, as the chairman, Mr. J. J. Curran, M. P., said in his speech, never since the celebration of the fortieth anniversary of the entry into public life of the late Sir John A. Macdonald was there such a concourse of citizens beneath that roof. The enthusiasm of the immense audience knew no bounds. Cheer after cheer rent the air, as the Premier came forward, and during the delivery of the speeches the manifestations of approval showed that the hoodlums are doomed. We were particularly pleased at the reception given to our fellow countryman, the Hon. Mr. Flynn, Commissioner of Crown Lands. He expressed his regret that he had not the voice of an O'Connell, that it might reach to the confines of the immense gathering. His words were listened to with marked attention, and the fact that the just claims of the Irish people of the Province have not been overlooked by the new Premier, in the selection of his ministers, added to the enthusiasm of the occasion. The campaign is now open. Let every man do his duty. La Baie des Chaleurs scandal is only the beginning of the exposures that will be made, and it behoves every lover of his country to see that no stone is left unturned to keep the rascal out for all time.

THE CRUSADE.

The clergy of this city are now banded together in a movement to stamp out, if possible, the drink curse that is making such ravages amongst the people. The early closing of places where intoxicants are sold is the point to which all the concentrated forces are being directed. In Ontario, we believe, seven o'clock on Saturday night and six o'clock on Monday morning are now the hours. The law works with them, and there is no reason to suppose that a similar regulation could not be carried out in this Province, where, at the present time, saloons are allowed to be open until midnight every day in the week. The movement will have the hearty approval of all good citizens. Fathers McCallen of St. Patrick's and Struble of St. Ann's are amongst the most indefatigable of the workers. It must not be forgotten that the licensed saloons are not the only places of danger to the working man. It is the unlicensed groggery that does the greatest mischief, and the Government police ought to be made to do their duty with regard to them. Our Government police has been a huge hindrance and farce, for some years back. The vest party backs have been rewarded by positions on the staff, and it will be a move in the right direction for Mr. De Boucherville and his colleagues to lose no time in reorganizing that body in such a manner as to give proper aid to the clergy and those who are working with them in the temperance movement, and thus enable them to diminish, if not destroy, one of the greatest evils of the day in our midst.

FATHER DOWD.—Having made arrangements with Messrs. Notman & Son, the eminent photographers, for the extensive sale of the photographs of the late Rev. Father Dowd, taken within the last month, I will be able to supply orders about to-day. Price, 50c. each, mailed free. J. T. HENDERSON, 139 St. Peter Street, next to Craig.

Correction.

Mr. Thomas Bowes marshaled the funeral procession of the late Father Dowd. The name John Power was given in our report by error.

A Great Memorial.

The tomb erected by Pope Leo in the Basilica of St. John Lateran at Rome, to Pope Innocent III, whose remains were transferred to it a few days ago, was unveiled on Sunday with great pomp by the Dean and Chapter of the Basilica in the presence of Cardinal Rampolla, representing the Pope; most of the other cardinals in Rome and many representatives of religious orders. Many English and American visitors inspected the tomb.

Hints for the Militia.

Major-General Herbert has issued his annual report on the training of the militia. He considers that had the commanding officers taken advantage of the long notices given them there would have been larger musters at the camps. He is severe on quartermasters, and warns them that in future they will be dealt with if they do not report at camp a day ahead of their battalions. He criticizes the style of horses hired for cavalry service and gives the staff a much needed lesson from a soldier's point of view. He says too great importance cannot be attached to the proper performance of staff duties. In camps of rural military every staff officer from the Major-General commanding, inclusively, must remember that he is before everything an instructor in those duties which fall under his personal supervision. It is not sufficient for staff officers to issue orders. They must see that those orders are carried out, and that reasonable means exist for carrying them out.

ELECTION NOTES.

The writ for the Glengarry election has been issued. Nomination will take place on January 7, polling a week later. The South Essex protest against Mr. Allan (Liberal) came up at Windsor, on Monday before Judges Falconbridge and Street and was dismissed with costs. Maskinonge contested election case is postponed till the 30th owing to the illness of Judge Larue.

A St. Catharines paper announces that the writ for the election in Lincoln has been issued and that the nomination will take place on the 14th of January and the election on the 21st.

Meetings of both political parties were held in Nanpessan on Saturday afternoon to nominate candidates for the forthcoming election in Lennox. Irish Wilson, ex-M.P., was the Conservative choice and D. W. Allison, the Liberal unseated member, was again nominated by the Liberals.

The trial in the contested election of H. S. Harwood, Liberal M. P. for Van-dreuil, was held on Monday morning at the court house at that place 10 o'clock, before the Hon. Justices Pagnuelo and Doherty. Mr. F. S. Bissillon, Q.C., acted for the petitioner, and Mr. F. X. Choquette for the respondent. At the opening of the court, Mr. Bissillon called in Mr. H. S. Harwood, the defendant, who admitted under oath that Danase Leroux, his agent, had given $5 to an elector, to wit, Paul Verlen, which the court immediately declared a corrupt practice and annulled the election of Mr. Harwood with costs.

OBITUARY.

Kannon.

It is our painful duty to record in this issue the demise of an old and highly respected citizen of St. Ann's ward of this city, in the person of Mr. John Kannon, which sad event occurred at his residence, 106 Colborne street, on December 23, after a short illness, at the age of 66 years. The deceased gentleman was a conscientious almost to the last, and surrounded by his loving family he passed peacefully away. He leaves a widow, one son, Dr. M. Kannon, V. S., and four daughters to mourn his sad loss, which is shared by a large circle of friends. The funeral took place on Saturday, 28th inst., at St. Ann's Church, where a solemn Requiem Mass was chanted, and thence proceeded to the Cote des Neiges cemetery, followed by a large number of sorrowing friends. We extend the sorrowing family our heartfelt sympathy in this the hour of their sad bereavement. R. I. P.

Cleghart.

On Sunday morning of last week, at his residence on Wellington street, Kingston, Mr. Frank Cleghart died after a short illness. He was in the 20th year of his age and was one of the proprietors of the Canadian Freeman since the time of its foundation. He had been in failing health for some time and about June last consumption finally set in. He died a peaceful and happy death, being surrounded by all his friends and having received the consolations of his holy religion which was so dear to him. The funeral took place on Tuesday at the Cathedral. The pall-bearers were Messrs. E. J. B. Pense, publisher of the Whig, Robt. Meek, Ald. E. Steacy, Dr. Phelan, Dr. Ryan, R. J. Bowes and Abt. J. F. Swift. Mass was celebrated by Vicar-General Gauthier, of Brockville, Rev. Father Hogan, of Nanpessan, acting as deacon, and Father Carey as sub-deacon, and in the sanctuary among other priests of the diocese were Revs. Fathers Kelly, Kehoe, Neville, Murtugh, and our old and esteemed friend, Rev. D. A. Twomey, of Morrisburg, Father Quinn, of Brewer's Mills, while telegrams and letters of regret have been received from many of the clergy, who were unable to be present at the funeral.

Daoust.

Mr. Jean Baptiste Daoust, the long-time representative of Two Mountains in the House of Commons, died on Sunday. Mr. Daoust shared with Mr. Bourassa, of St. John's, the honor of being the oldest member of the House of Commons. Both gentlemen were elected to the Legislative assembly of old Canada in 1874, Mr. Daoust by acclamation. Both have continued to represent their counties ever since, having been chosen to the new Parliament after confederation. There was a slight break in Mr. Daoust's case, however, he having held the post of deputy warden of St. Vincent de Paul, from 1872 to 1875. On his return to public life he was elected to his old seat by acclamation. Four times, in all, he was returned unopposed. Mr. Daoust was among the most popular of the members of Parliament. Everyone had a kindly thought for the old gentleman, whose real goodness of heart was apparent on the surface. Many a regret will follow him to the grave. Through thick and thin, through good report and evil report, Mr. Daoust stood by his party colors, and whatever the issue there never was any fear of how the voice of Two Mountains would speak. At the time of his death Mr. Daoust was well on in his 75th year, having been born at St. Eustache on the 18th January, 1817. On the 10th January 1842, he married Mlle. Z. St. Maurice, daughter of Mr. J. St. Maurice, of St. Laurent. He was one of the oldest magistrates in the province, and held many municipal offices at various times.

Mr. Fitzpatrick.

In consequence of certain misrepresentations in the public press, Mr. Charles Fitzpatrick, of Quebec, has made the following statement in the course of conversation:—

"My attention was drawn yesterday on my return from Ottawa to the paragraph to which you allude. In that connection I wish to say that on his arrival here, when called upon by the Lieutenant-Governor to form a cabinet, Mr. de Boucherville sent for me and stated that he was very anxious to select one of his colleagues from among the Irish Catholics of this province, and that it had been suggested to him that I might be induced to accept the position. After some reflection I felt obliged to refuse Mr. de Boucherville's kind offer, and, instead of indignantly rejecting it, I said that I felt certain that my countrymen throughout the province would appreciate his consideration for them, but that in view of my political record I felt under the necessity of declining the proffered honor. Nothing further occurred between us, and I need not add that I have Mr. de Boucherville's permission to state what took place as above."

"I have only one objection to say what your position politically will be in the future?"

"I can only say that I have now ceased to be connected with politics in consequence of the dissolution, but I am now considering the propriety of having a meeting in the county of Quebec, where I will give fully my views upon the present condition of affairs."

A Mysterious Case.

At Ottawa, yesterday, Coroner Mark, in consequence of rumors of foul play, opened an inquest on the body of Mrs. Kate Labelle, wife of L. C. Labelle, found dead in bed Monday morning. The evidence adduced showed that on Sunday night deceased went to bed well, and that on Monday morning she was found lying cold and naked on the bed, with marks of carbolic acid about her mouth. Dr. Kidd gave evidence of the external abrasions, the contents of the stomach requiring a further examination. He found a strong odor of carbolic acid in the room when he entered. Slight scratches were found on the face and one on the neck, on the left shoulder. Both arms showed several bruises. The outside of the upper lip, the angle of the jaw and the skin covering the pit of the stomach were of a light brown color. The abrasions of the skin and the bruises appeared to have been of recent date and inflicted within twenty-four hours of the time of death. The drawn features indicated that death had been a hard one. His examination had been made in conjunction with Dr. Hanna. The inquest will be resumed.

The Huron Indians from Lorette say that no snow will fall before the middle of January. Foxes, martins, hares, etc., have not put on their winter coats. There being no snow, caribou and elk hunting is an impossibility this year."

King of Medicines

A Cure "Almost Miraculous."

"When I was 14 years of age I had a severe attack of rheumatism, and after I recovered had to go on crutches. A year later, scrofula, in the form of white swellings, appeared on various parts of my body, and for 11 years I was an invalid, being confined to my bed 6 years. In that time ten or eleven sores appeared and broke, causing me great pain and suffering. I feared I never should get well. "Early in 1886 I went to Chicago to visit a sister, but was confined to my bed most of the time I was there. In July I read a book, 'A Day with a Circus,' in which were statements of cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla. I was so impressed with the success of this medicine that I decided to try it. To my great gratification the sores soon decreased, and I began to feel better and in a short time I was up and out of doors. I continued to take Hood's Sarsaparilla for about a year, when, having used six bottles, I had become so fully released from the disease that I went to work for the Flint & Walling Mfg. Co., and since then HAVE NOT LOST A SINGLE DAY on account of sickness. I believe the disease is expelled from my system, I always feel well, am in good spirits and have a good appetite. I am now 27 years of age and can walk as well as any one, except that one limb is a little shorter than the other, owing to the loss of bone, and the sores formerly on my right leg. To my friends my recovery seems almost miraculous, and I think Hood's Sarsaparilla is the King of Medicines." WIZZARD A. LEHR, 9 N. Railroad St., Kendallville, Ind.
