WHETHER OR NOT.

It is to be presumed that The Telegram imagines that no one appreciates its folly in trying to argue that Mayor Hocken is wrong if he makes a clean-up and wrong if he doesn't make a clean-up. Last night the obstructionist organ came out with a yell in the usual capital letters that a clean-up which did not include a bargain with the Mackenzie interests, granting them what would be practically a perpetual franchise, would be useless to the city. Last week Mayor Hocken was attacked by the same reactionary organ for favoring an alleged agreement which, it was asserted, contained just such a provision. The consistency of attacking Mayor Hocken on one day for doing, as it was alleged, the thing which the next day he was to be attacked for not doing is characteristic of a journal that relies on the forgetfulness of the public for its reputation.

Mayor Hocken, however, has stuck to his demand for a clean-up. The Telegram for a long time would not admit that the radicals had any rights under the statutes at all. But now the admission has to be made, and we are informed that the exclusion of the radicals, by agreement, "would have no more practical validity than an amendment to the law of gravitation." The Telegram either knew this before or did not know it, with the alternatives of ignorance or duplicity to qualify its contentions.

Mayor Hocken's plan is to get a clean-up of the franchise; a return to the city of all rights alienated to the railway company under the agreement of 1891, any further rights to be obtained by the radicals to be the subject of entirely new negotiations after purchase has been completed.

The Telegram plan, into which it appears to have hoped to inveigle the mayor, was to get the city bargaining with the radicals for an entrance now on terms which would constitute a perpetual franchise, and which the people would almost certainly reject. We desire to call the attention of members of the board of trade to the methods of The Telegram in this matter, and to ask their judgment whether Mayor Hocken or it has been acting in better faith.

MORE PROFIT SHARING.

As The World commented at the time, new departments in the United States show very rapid developments. In fact, profit-sharing between employers and employees is in the air and it all points to a readjustment not only to the firms immediately concerned, but to the general social order. The latest plan is that of the Farr Alpaca Company of Holyoke, Mass., which has adopted profit-sharing with its 3000 employees, who will hereafter receive dividends on each $100 of their wages equal to that received by stockholders in each $100 of their stock holdings.

ENCROACHMENTS ON PERSONAL RIGHTS.

Liberal and Labor circles in Britain have been deeply stirred over the drastic steps taken by the Union Government of South Africa to end the strike of white miners and to prevent its being supplemented by a general suspension of all industries. Still graver resentment is expressed at the subsequent secret removal of ten of the leaders in the strike movement to Durban and then deportation, without due process of law, on a steamer not equipped with wireless, specially chartered for the purpose. The government has already tacitly conceded the illegality of its action, by giving notice of the introduction of a bill of indemnity. This step, taken on the opening day of the new parliamentary session, incidentally blocked the way for the immediate discussion of the whole proceedings desired by the Labor members.

One of the safeguards of British states against arbitrary rule is that, except under the conditions imposed in time of war, governments equally with citizens must observe the requirements of the law. Lawlessness practised by a government is even more reprehensible than when committed by an individual, since it strikes much more seriously at the basic idea of a democratic community. Possibly some excuse may be found for the Union Government in the problem presented by the presence of a large native population and of the hundred and fifty thousand native mine workers in the compounds. But the affair will add seriously to the difficulties that confront the imperial government at the approaching session of parliament.

Public opinion in the United States is apparently less regardful of encroachment on personal liberty. In his address on Friday last to the New York State Bar Association, Mr. Edgar M. Cullen, former chief justice of the court of appeals, stated that unless he was utterly mistaken, there was now a strong tendency in courts, in legislatures and most of all, in the people themselves, to disregard the most fundamental principles of personal rights. He referred particularly, as an illustration of the repudiation of the principle of subordination of the military power to the civil, to the disorders occurring in 1912 in the State of Virginia. There the governor suspended the writ of habeas corpus and declared by proclamation a state of war to exist in a portion of the County of Kanawha. Reviewing the decisions of the courts affecting this procedure, Mr. Cullen said that they assert the power of the military, at the untouchable discretion of a single man, to dispose of the life and liberty of any person within the state. The same tendency has been exhibited in some of the provinces of Canada. It is one which ought to be repressed, for precedents of this kind once condoned are apt to be not only repeated, but extended.

THE GLOBE'S TWISTED VIEW.

The Globe: The negotiators at the city hall begin to discover that Sir William Mackenzie wants a perpetual right of entrance into Toronto for his radicals. That has always been his position and always will be so long as he owns a radial system.

CONSERVATIVES AND FREE WHEAT. London Free Press: The defeat of the Neely amendment is not necessarily an expression of Conservative opinion upon free wheat. There has been no caucus yet on this free wheat question, and until it is held, which will be this week, the general attitude of the party will be unknown.

FREE WHEAT AND THE WEST.

Saskatoon Star (Conservative): The Star has said before that it falls to see where the Canadian farmer is to benefit by free entry of wheat into the American market, but this paper will be found standing with its former attitude, and that is, let us have free exchange of wheat with the United States, since the west demands it. Free wheat may not affect actual market prices, but it may affect transportation charges, and transportation is one of the items we want to cut down. . . . And, as in the case of free wheat, if the farmer believes the implements will aid him to better things, it should be lowered, with the idea in mind that what benefits the farmer will also benefit the whole country.

CROWN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found a statement of the position of the Crown Life Insurance Co., after another year of progress and prosperity. It shows that the new business written in 1913 amounted to $4,706,824.00, an increase of $705,804.00, and that the insurance in force at the close of that year totaled $11,608,738.00, an increase of $1,593,919.00. Similar proportionate increases are shown in the revenues and assets, all in the reserve fund for the Crown Life Insurance Co. is evidenced by the fact that the surplus above all liabilities on policyholders' accounts is $255,892.43, while the profits paid and apportioned are equal to earnings, and the death rate in 1913 was 18 per cent. of the expected.

CANADIAN MORTGAGE INVESTMENT COMPANY.

From the annual statement of the Canadian Mortgage Investment Company, submitted to the annual meeting yesterday at the Queen's Hotel, it appears that the net profits are substantially larger than in any previous year. The amount of the reserve fund, which balance brought forward, while this total available profits amounted to $139,554.00. Out of this sum $70,238.35 was distributed as dividends, $60,000 transferred to reserve fund and a balance of $19,165.35 carried forward credit of profit and loss. The paid-up capital is $1,200,000; the reserve fund $800,000, and the company has debenture capital to the extent of $675,000.

MAY SUE HYDRO.

Proceedings Threatened Against Hydro-Electric by Big Tailoring House.

It was rumored yesterday that legal action would in all probability be taken by the Scotland Woolen Mills Company of this city for damages from the hydro-electric, owing to the failure of the company to supply service. In a statement issued yesterday with the manager of the Scotland Woolen Mills Company, that gentleman said: "We have placed the matter in the hands of our solicitors. Our three stores, namely, Toronto, Hamilton and London, are all served by the hydro, and when the lights went out on Saturday night, hundreds of customers who had responded to our advertisements were in our stores. We were having the biggest day of the season. Our loss was considerable, but we feel keenly the disappointment of our hundreds of customers more than our own losses."

TORONTO GENERAL TRUSTS MEETING

Annual Report Shows Net Profits of Nearly Three Hundred Thousand.

INCREASE IN ASSETS

Reference Made to the Death of Sir Aemilius Irving.

At the annual meeting of the Toronto General Trusts Corporation, held yesterday, the annual report was submitted by Featherstonhaugh, president, and it showed the affairs of the corporation to be in a highly satisfactory condition. The report, particularly, showed a large increase in the credit of profit and loss account, $598,904.12, in which are included net profits for the year of $299,016.40. To this is added the balance brought forward from the preceding year, amounting to $86,411.08, and also the premium of $212,773.36 received from the sale of $250,000 of new stock issued during the year.

PECULIAR FATALITY IN QUEBEC VILLAGE

Farmer Taking Rig Out of Driving Shed is Impaled on Overhanging Spikes.

ST. HYACINTHE, Que., Feb. 4.—(Can. Press.)—Magloire Bernard, 55 years old, a farmer of St. Dominique, six miles from here, is dead as the result of an accident which befell him when taking out a horse from an old shed. His horse became frightened, made a quick start, and while coming thru the door Mr. Bernard failed to bend his head. There was a large spike nail sticking out from the top of the door. This entered his eye and came out at the back of his head. He was so excited over the horse running away that he did not notice his father until the horse was caught. Then returning to the shed he found his father hanging by the nail. With the assistance of two men Mr. Bernard was released from his trap, but he lived only twenty minutes.
