CHIEF OF POLICE IS TO "CLEAN UP CITY"
Edmonton's New Head Received Brief Instructions When He Assumed Office.

George Hill, formerly chief of police at Kilmarlock, Scotland, and at one time lieutenant in charge of the department of Edinburgh, Scotland, having 700 constables and 100 plain clothes men under him, received brief instructions when he assumed office as chief of police of Edmonton. They are: "Clean up!" He will have full charge of the morality squad and the identification department and questionable characters and other undesirable will be driven out of town. Hill came to Edmonton from St. James, Manitoba, where he had charge of three large townships near the city of Winnipeg. He comes with an excellent record. Among others he wears a coronation medal, which was awarded to him by the late King Edward VII. for long and efficient service. He was at one time a barrister in the office of the crown prosecutor at Lanarkshire, Scotland.

120 FEET PER SECOND.
When the fearless Motordrome racers hit up only an 80-mile per hour pace, they are traveling 120 feet every second, and with the local saucer they are doing it on a track slanting at 40 degrees and only twenty feet wide. The six starters in the great 30-minute race, which is down as the feature of Saturday night's program, will keep up this gait all through, and the bunch are likely to cover 40 miles or more in the half hour. This means a terrible strain on both riders and tires and anything is likely to happen.

FILM CORPORATION STOCK.
The Mutual Film Corporation has increased its authorized preferred stock by $1,000,000, $800,000 having already been sold.
