Why You Should Buy Gloves Now

The Indian troops in France are said to be consuming five or six thousand goats a day, and Grenoble sends word that there is bound to be a huge shortage of French kidskins due to this destruction of goats. It is easy to foresee that kidskins will be very dear. Besides this, most of the govmakers are at the front, and production will be small. It is, therefore, a most prudent thing to buy all the gloves you'll need for Christmas and next year now. Our prices have not been advanced; last year's prices, in fact, are still the order of the day. Now is your chance—look at this list:
