Berlin Feb. 18.—(Special.)—An Indignation meeting of hockey supporters at the town meeting of hockey supporters at the town half was largely attended to-night about 200 responding to the call of the club secretary, E. M. DeBus, E. S. Green was in the chair. He called on several speakers who were unanimous in their opinion that the Berlin Club was harshly dealt with by the O.H.A. They asked why was Berlin disqualified and not St. Georges? Had the Saints played six a side as Berlin was titled for Saturday night.

A resolution was proposed whereby the specific played was to be retained, but the money to St. Georges being supported by the Intermediates, was adopted.

ON ENTERING PUBLIC LIFE

Galaxy of Speakers Addressed Arts Men at Their Annual Banquet Last Night.

A large gathering of happy and enthusiastic arts men of the University of Toronto assembled for their annual dinner and jubilation at the Temple Building last night. An excellent banquet was provided by Caterer James Pritchard.

Prof. McGregor Young proposed the loyal toast and made an eloquent and eulogistic speech.

Mayor Coatsworth was loudly cheered on rising to propose "Canada and Empire," and reminded the audience that last year the toast was responded to by Sir Wilfrid Laurier. He was glad it was Canada and the empire, and he hoped it would remain so. He was afraid that if Canada and the United States were to go together it would result in a union like that of the lady and the tiger—with the lady inside

W. F. Maclean, M.P., was loudly cheered upon rising to propose the toast of "The Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario." What part did university men play at Ottawa? Too few found their way in parnament and public life. Fortunately, more and more were taking an interest in public matters. There was only one way to enter parliament. Enter a party, but have independence enough to make your voice heard. A man should see his bread and butter ahead of him before entering public life. The province could not use her wealth to a better purpose than by consecrating it to education. In Michigan to-day they support education by a special fax upon the realiways, metting an amount of $4,000,000 per year.

"There are many things I could say, but I am not permitted to say them," retorted the physician amid laughter.

Mr. Follows: At Oxford they called themselves "men," at Toronto "boys." But there was more liberty at Toronto—the students called off the lectures when they grew tedious. One thing the Greek letter societies had done, they had preserved a knowledge of the Greek alphabet in quarters where the Greek professor had failed.
