MILL SHARE HIS LOVE

New Yorker Lives With Two Wives Who Will Not Prosecute for Bigamy.

New York, Aug. 14.—Captured after a midnight chase over the roofs of ouses, Rivane Frazee, proprietor of a Broadway physical culture establishment, was yesterday arraigned before Magistrate Breen in the west side court on a charge of bigamy, and was released from custody because his two alleged wives refused to prosecute him, declaring that they would rather share his love between them than see the man they both loved sent to prison.

The police say that for two years Frazee has been leading a double life, and has been dividing his time between his two wives and the children of each. At No. 600 West Side-avenue, Jersey City, where Frazee lived with Mrs. Anna Mullen, a leading real estate man in Jersey City, he had a pretty little home and four loving children. In court yesterday he admitted that he had been married to Miss Mullen for eight years. Four years ago, it was alleged in the complaint, he was married to a Miss Cavanaugh. To her he was Rivane Brooks, and as Mr. and Mrs. Brooks they are alleged to have lived for some time at No. 510 West Forty-second-street. Two children have blessed their happy home.
