Where is the Money to Come From?

YOU cannot hire a servant for ten dollars a month if the servant knows that everyone pays TWENTY!

The Bell Telephone Company cannot hire new capital for new telephone plant and equipment by offering FOUR cents per dollar per year—when even Government bonds are yielding 6%! Trust mortgages 7%! And good industrial stocks 8% and higher!

Yet that is what we are being asked to do on the present scale of telephone rates!

Where then is the company to raise such sums as the $10,000,000 new capital required for this year's extension alone?

The company's stock and bonds are all invested in the plant (not a cent of this was "water" or "bonus" or "promotion" stock).

The Company's surplus and reserve is similarly re-invested.

NEW capital can be obtained only by "hiring" it in the open money market! Yet how can we offer a high enough wage-interest and dividends are merely the "wages" of invested savings—to attract investors when our revenues to-day are not enough to earn 4 per cent. interest on our $55,000,000 telephone property after meeting day-to-day expenses?

The only solution of the company's problem is adequate telephone rates! These will enable the company to earn sufficient revenue to pay a "fair wage" to Capital and a fair wage to its employees.

Derry Day Speaker Declares
Orangemen Will Go To Ire-

CHURCH AGAINST BRITAIN

And Sinn Fein Conspirators
Even Want a Republic in Canada.

BRANTFORD, Aug. 12.—"We have no quarrel with the Irish, but if it comes to the pinch we will go to Ulster and fight. By God's help we will never be ruled by a parliament in Dublin," said Capt. Rev. C. S. McKegney, M.C., veteran of war service in France, in the concluding address of a big Derry Day celebration here. Capt. McKegney, who comes from Clontarf, but left with a Brantford battalion for overseas, was loudly applauded when he hotly attacked the Roman Catholic church, which he denounced as the greatest menace to civil and political liberty in the world.

Greatest Menace in World.
The Black Knight preceptors of Ontario today celebrated the 250th anniversary of the lifting of the Siege of Derry and some 4,000 knights, ladies and Orangemen attended one of the biggest parades ever held in Brantford. The sports and addresses were afterwards held at Agricultural Park. The grand master, H. C. Hocken of Toronto, couldn't get here, but sent a message delivered by W. C. Armstrong of Saskatchewan, who added that the "Dominions had no need for hyphenates and that the memory of Derry Day should be kept for all time."

The grand master's message called for remembrance of Derry Day, and warned against a worldwide conspiracy against the British Empire. He called attention to conspiracies in India, Egypt, South Africa, and even in Canada, where the Self-Determination League for Ireland and the friends of Irish freedom were working for the Sinn Fein movement, and even calling for a republic in Canada.

He called upon every knight in business and social life to prevent attacks upon the empire and upon the king, reminding them that loyalty was one of their oaths. In every way they should work to maintain the empire against its enemies.

"Thorn," But Must Remain.
Capt. Tom Wallace, M. P. of West York, complained of the hard-pressed condition of the Protestants in Ireland today. No one cared to have a religious quarrel, he said, but there was a legitimate quarrel when political liberty was attacked. Orangemen had always been loyal and always would be, and Ireland, while a thorn in the flesh of Britain, yet had to remain a part of the empire. Capt. S. C. McKegney declared that from the war had sprung a double menace, Bolshevism and Sinn Fein, and charged that innocent men in uniform had been deliberately murdered in the Easter rebellion by Sinn Feiners.

Police Must Be Protected.
It was time that Britain remembered that she was a great nation and every man who killed a policeman should be hanged.

With regard to the religious end, he declared that since Stephen Langdon was banished from England, the Roman Catholic Church had been against Britain, the bishops of the church using every influence against her.

The Roman Catholic Church was the greatest menace to the civil and political liberty of the world. He concluded by declaring that "the United States should end the sending of millions to Ireland for the wages of a campaign of murder, and should mind its own business."

CAYUGA, Aug. 12.—Fair weather greeted the members of the U. F. O. and U. F. W. O. at Haldimand for their annual picnic in the Court House Park, Cayuga, on Wednesday. About 1,500 people were present. Warren Stringer, M.L.A., for Haldimand, occupied the chair, and introduced Rev. Mr. Watson of Fenelon Falls, U. F. O. member of the Legislature for North Victoria, who in the course of his address, proclaimed himself to be a public ownership man. He spoke strongly against the merger tendency of today, and longed for the good old days, when there really was competition. He said the U. F. O. stood for service, and not monopoly, and desired to eliminate the unfair. Regarding the hydro-electric, he said, during the first session of the U. F. O. Parliament, the committee had three-quarters of an hour in which to vote $17,500,000 worth of the people's money and knew practically nothing regarding how the money was to be used. Premier Drury said who was desired and must be secured was more information regarding hydro-electric. Mr. Watson touched on class legislation and tariff, and regarding federal affairs advised his hearers to keep their eyes open and study the public business, claiming that the farmers' movement was to abolish party and get the public interested in clean politics.

Mrs. H. Laws, secretary of the Ontario U. F. W. O., was the second speaker, and declared that the balance of power at the present time rested in woman's hands if she would use it, and that she honestly believed the reason the franchise had been extended to women was because the men had placed themselves in such a fix that they required the assistance of women to extricate themselves. She referred to this being not only a great privilege, but a tremendous responsibility. Her chief note to the women present was to organize, which they could do themselves in any locality by sending for instructive literature and paying their fees. She made a strong plea against some of the authorized school books, especially the geography, and claimed that the U. F. W. O.'s chief aim was to educate the masses, as ignorance was the greatest menace to the public, and that in the education of the public stood safety, prosperity and peace. Out of 55 U. F. O. members nominated for the Ontario section 44 had been elected, and she hoped soon to see a woman representative in Parliament.

Mr. Musgrave of the Toronto Sun spoke for a few minutes urging the farmers to study the market reports and thus avoid large shipments of stock when there was a slump on the market. He advised shipping from different localities upon different days.

Hon. Frank G. Biggs was unable to be present, and a few remarks were made by Rev. J. V. Fredenburg, president of the Haldimand branch of the U. F. O.

J. J. Morrison, secretary of the Ontario U. F. O. spoke at some length, and in his opening remarks said the organization he represented was absolutely good, and stood for democratic government, which he defined as the "consensus of opinion of the majority of the people crystallized into law." The U. F. O., he claimed, had given the vote to women, who previously had no power to make the laws and whom, he claimed, could never be corrupted. He criticized some of the acts of Premier Drury, claiming that he was wrong regarding the round-table freight rates and superannuation, but all right along hydro-electric lines. He spoke very strongly in favor of the recall system, as under it a member not living up to his promises could be called to account by his constituents. He scored the Union Government at every point, and urged his hearers to do their duty at the next election and clear out the political barnacles, as their forefathers cleared out the original forests.

The addresses were interspersed by numbers from Mr. Kelly, a Toronto entertainer and selections by the Cayuga Band.

Two Institutions Will Work
Together On Combination Courses.

GUELPH, Aug. 12.—Lieut.-Col. Walter James Brown, executive secretary of the Western University, London, Ont., was in the city today, conferring with President Reynolds of the O. A. C. with reference to the developing of a scheme of co-operation between the two colleges, whereby combination courses could be conducted. In his scheme, Col. Brown proposed that an exchange of professors be made from time to time, so that the faculty as well as the students will be brought in closer touch with each other on the various subjects covered by both schools. Prof. Reynolds was very much impressed with the idea, and will immediately have a plan drafted, whereby it may be possible that the scheme of co-operation will be put into use at the commencement of the fall term this year.

CATTLE STAMPEDE, ENLIVEN'S STREET IN KENTISH TOWN

CHATHAM, Aug. 12.—Near the Grand Trunk station a bull and several cows, being driven into the country, became confused by a number of taxi cabs and steam escaping from a locomotive. After breaking through the scene of a stampede. After breaking all records in cattle racing, one of the meek bovines made its way to a flower-bed and, after turning around twice, lowered its body amid the scent of the horticultural display. The driver will be required to make good the damage caused by the herd, according to Police Chief Groves.
