WIRELESS TELEPHONES COMING TO TORONTO

They Are Operated by Vibration. Marvelous Results Are Possible. The Promoter Says.

Torontonians may audibly talk to each other thru atmospheric waves before next June.

Ralph Peverley, executive special, registered at the Queen's, was interviewed by The World last night. Mr. Peverley, who is in communication with the different navigation companies on the lakes, is sanguine of his future success of the wireless telephonic idea.

It is quite probable that pending arrangements may place the Toronto station on the Traders' Bank Building. This is the point from which the "air waves" will most likely be an advantage.

"Wireless telephony is based on the principle of the tuning fork," says Mr. Peverley. "The vibrations of the tuning fork are set in motion by the transmitter, and the receiver picks up the vibrations, and the message is received."

Continuing, he said: "A feature of the system is that the tuning fork determines the station destined to receive the message. Each transmitter and receiver is set to a certain number of vibrations, and the same number of vibrations, this Mr. Peverley explained, is done by a system of switches connected with the instrument. A chart posted close at hand showing the number of vibrations fixed for the various stations and vessels equipped with this system."

The system will be in a few months, it is hoped, be in vogue from Quebec City thru to Niagara Falls. Along the St. Lawrence there will be stations at Quebec City, Three Rivers, Montreal, Charlotte, Clayton, Alexandria Bay, Kingston, Cobourg, Toronto and probably Hamilton.

WHAT POISONED THE BOY?

Chas. Condie's Sudden Death to be Investigated by Coroner.

Part of the contents of the stomach of Archibald Charles Condie, who died Jan. 25, at Peter Church, the cause of his death is being investigated by the coroner.

It is believed that the boy was poisoned by the provincial analyst for examination by Chief Coroner Arthur J. Lukers. If any foreign poison be found, the body, which has been interred in London, Ont., will be exhumed, and the stomach contents analyzed.

Dr. R. T. Shiell, 173 Carlton-street, who attended the boy, phoned the chief coroner on the day following the death that the boy had died at 11 o'clock the previous morning at 510 West Queen-street, where he lived.

The doctor said that the boy had been taken ill in the night. He diagnosed the case as ptomaine poisoning, but could not tell from what it had been derived. He said that the boy had been with several others, had eaten a number of things in a restaurant the night before, and that he had been with the boy had been dead half an hour.

Dr. W. T. O'Parry, 518 Spadina-avenue, called at 10 o'clock, and found the boy unconscious and with him till death.

Dr. Shiell had gathered part of the expelled contents of the stomach, and this the chief coroner will have analyzed.

CAN MESSES SELL LIQUOR?

Conviction at London May Have Its Effects Here.

Police Magistrate Love's penalty of $50 and costs on a sergeant of the 7th Regiment at London yesterday for an infringement of the license law, which is statutory, will undoubtedly be observed with great interest in Toronto.

Magistrate Love ruled that the law laid down by the legislature was paramount to the military law. This is questioned because the nature of attempts that have been made to close up camps.

Another phase arises in the question: "Has a military organization a right to sell liquor for sale when not doing military duty?"

An official of the license department has been asked to advise the magistrate in imposing a fine. Section 83 of the Liquor License Act states that no unincorporated society, club or association has a right to sell liquor or keep it for sale.

A DEATH'S DOOR

Doctors Had to Give Her Morphine to Ease the Pain.

Five Boxes of "Fruitatives" Cured Her.

Enterprise, Ont. Oct. 1, 1908.

For seven years I suffered with what physicians called a Water Tunor. I would get so bad at times that I could hardly endure the pain. I could neither stand nor lie down. Hypodermic of Morphine had to be given me or I could never have borne the pain. Many physicians treated me, but my cure came from "Fruitatives." I had five boxes of "Fruitatives" and I was cured. After much persuasion I commenced to take them, but I was so bad that it was a household.

only when I had taken nearly two boxes that I commenced to experience relief. I kept up the treatment, however, and after taking five boxes I was cured, and when the street my friends saw me I said, "I am cured." And this is true because I certainly was at death's door. But now I can work almost as hard as ever I could, and I am happy. I will be glad if you will publish this testimony so that I will further the interest of "Fruitatives." The y should be in every household.

Mrs. JAMES FENWICK.

Through the whole country around Enterprise, Ont. people are talking about this wonderful cure. By their marvelous action on the kidneys, "Fruitatives" cured Mrs. Fenwick when the doctors said she could not be operated on and was doomed to die.

"Fruitatives" cured Mrs. Fenwick when all else failed. Try them for your trouble. 25c and 50c a box, at dealers or sent postpaid on receipt of price. Fruit-atives, Limited, Ottawa.

CANADA BOUGHT TO KNOW TERMS OF NEW TREATY

Mr. Borden and Premier Laurier Agree That It's Time for a Change in Procedure.

OTTAWA, Jan. 26.—(Special).—The house sat less than an hour this afternoon, clearing off many of the questions of private members and uncontested motions for returns.

R. Borden again protested against the rule that prevented the tabling of the waterways treaty simultaneously with the reference of the same documents to the United States Senate.

"I believe," said Sir Wilfrid, "that in the United States a treaty may be given to the press some time before it is given to the senate. We do not admit anything of that kind in this country, and it is simply because in the United States the traditions of British diplomacy, under which parliament does not publish the treaty until it has been signed by the king, are given to the senate, as soon as it is in the United States."

"A treaty which we make with the United States is not valid or binding until it is ratified by the senate," said Mr. Borden. "It might be worth considering whether or not our treaties should be signed by the king, but I do not have a clause to the effect that they should not become binding on His Majesty until they have been ratified by the parliament of Canada."

Sir Wilfrid agreed, adding: "I would go even further. Even admitting that the treaty is signed by the king, I see no reason why the moment the treaty is signed it should be published to the public. It is not a secret matter, and it is not a matter of state. It is ratified by His Majesty. Although the present treaty has been signed I may say we have not yet received an official copy of it."

Mr. Speaker announced that he had issued his writ for the by-election in the riding of the Muskoka and Parry Sound, which was held on Jan. 26.

Claude Macdonald introduced his election amendment to abolish the $200 Canada requirement to make federal election day a public holiday.

Their story was that they had been given a cheque for $400. He said as good as his word, and in a fortnight's time a cheque for the amount promised was in the hands of the treasurer of the National Sanatorium Association.

Shortly after this steps were taken to organize a trustee board of the Toronto Free Hospital for Consumptives. Mr. Hammond was approached and asked if he would undertake the duties cheerfully accepted the position. This was the commencement of Mr. Hammond's work at the Toronto Free Hospital for Consumptives. He was at once deeply interested in everything pertaining to the management and good-will of the hospital.

His gifts directly in cash have exceeded upwards of $20,000, including $10,000 for the erection of what is known as the H. C. Hammond or Administration Building, in connection with the King Edward Sanatorium for Consumptives. All thru the subscription list one finds some ranging from $50 to $1000 credited under some anonymous name—sometimes a letter or two, again a number. This is the way that Mr. Hammond did not let his right hand know what his left hand had done.

In December, 1906, anxious to stimulate gifts on maintenance account from others, he wrote a letter for publication that created wide interest and comment. In this letter he said: "If it is not too much like gambling, let me say that I will give half a dollar for every dollar that is contributed up to $5000." The subscriptions poured in from all sources and soon exceeded the $5000. Mr. Hammond did not withdraw his $50 per cent. at the $5000, but nearly doubled the amount.

So far as financial support is concerned, it has not been a matter of social gifts, but the assistance he obtained thru his friends that has helped largely to place the Toronto Free Hospital for Consumptives and the King Edward Sanatorium for Consumptives where they stand to-day. Whether in Toronto, or Montreal, or Winnipeg, the hospital was ever in his thoughts and he was constantly reminding his friends of their duty to the poor consumptive.

Liberal as were Mr. Hammond's personal gifts, as well as the subscriptions obtained from friends, in a measure for the consumption of the poor consumptives of the country was in the time and thought and interest that he gave to the management of these

SOVEREIGN EX-MANAGER IS TAKEN INTO CUSTODY

Charged With Having Made Fraudulent Returns to Government in 1906.

MONTREAL, Jan. 26.—(Special).—A warrant which was issued this afternoon by Police Magistrate Leet, for the arrest of W. Graham-Brown, manager of the Sovereign Bank of Canada, required to be made in the St. Lawrence, twenty-five miles from Montreal. The commission thought navigation might be affected, and requested the Richelieu and Ontario and other navigation companies to present at the meeting in Buffalo, Feb. 2, the application stands over for the present.

Commissioner George Gibbons, K.C., says the most important work now in progress is the settling of the boundary line thru the whole of the lake system. It was agreed by treaty that the commission should be invested with such powers. No change in boundary has been made since the Treaty of Ghent, in 1812. The work will not be completed for some months.

TRIED TO SWINDLE DETECTIVE

Alleged Hamiltonian in the Toils of Detroit Police.

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 26.—(Special).—Claiming to be an officer of "The National Salvage Co.," and looking for men to act as floor walkers during fire sales, Frank Richards, who says he lives in Hamilton, Ontario, was arrested to-day after he had attempted to number two Detroit detectives among his victims.

Richards' advertisement for men looked so attractive that Detective Bert answered it and was told he would be given a job upon payment of $5 cash. He turned over the money, but Richards failed to keep his part of the contract.

Richards' scheme was purely visionary, as is also the National Salvage Co.

MR. H. C. HAMMOND HAS PASSED AWAY

present general manager of the Imperial Bank.

On the organization of the Bank of Hamilton, in 1872, he was appointed cashier. This office he resigned upon entering into partnership with E. B. Oiler, M.P., when the firm of Oiler and Hammond came into being. Members of the stock exchange they have had to do with the promotion of many important commercial and financial projects.

Mr. Hammond was a man of such broad sympathy and fine financial ability that men seemed naturally to turn to him in critical times, as in the one best fitted to resolve their difficulties. On the occasion of the Federal Bank failure in 1888 his name was suggested as liquidator, and some four years ago the Northern Navigation Company found itself called upon to face a difficult situation. It was Mr. Hammond who, taking the presidency of the company, devoted his time and energy to it to such effect that he may be said to have placed the company on its feet again.

The spirit of the man, which seemed to be ever aroused by the contemplation of the prospective suffering of innocent investors, was again shown in the recent Ontario Bank failure, when he acted entirely without remuneration as president of the committee of shareholders.

Mr. Hammond's wide financial interests are sufficiently shown by the fact that at the time of his death he was, in addition to his partnership in the brokerage firm of Oiler and Hammond, president of the Northern Navigation Company of Ontario, Limited, managing director of the Victoria Rolling Stock Co. of Ontario, Limited, and director of the Ontario and Qu'Appelle Land Co., Limited; the Toronto Ferry Co., Limited, the Clifton Hotel Co., Limited, of Niagara Falls, and the Winnipeg and Western Land Corporation, Limited.

He was also honorary treasurer of the Toronto Free Hospital for Consumptives, and in conjunction with his partner, E. B. Oiler, M.P., general manager in Canada of the North of Scotland Canadian Mortgage Co., Limited. Besides these he had large mining interests in British Columbia.

A characteristic example of Mr. Hammond's enterprise was shown when the Toronto Ferry Co. was taken over. It is to him and to Hon. J. S. Hendrie that the citizens of Toronto owe the improvement of the ferry service, much to make Hamilton's Point the resort it is to-day. They laid out the athletic field and built the hotel and board walk.

He worked for the Stricken. But it is more particularly with his splendid fight for the extension of the source of tuberculosis that Mr. Hammond's name will be associated by generations yet to come. He practically established the Toronto Free Hospital for Consumptives, his annual appeals for which were characteristic of the man whose wide sympathies were always ready to give to any deserving object. His last call, made in September, when he had already been stricken with his last illness, was to the hospital, where he remained until his death.

He was probably the most liberal giver the city has ever known. His motto in life was to do his duty to his neighbor.

The story of how Mr. Hammond became interested in hospital work furnishes an illustration of some of the personal characteristics of this generous heart. In the early part of 1894 he was making a business trip along one of our trunk lines. Living a good deal of his time on the road, he was wont to drive away the monotony of traveling by indulging in a quiet game of cards whenever he found a genial companion. One day, during a pastime in a smoking car with some fellow-travelers there was among the company, as an on-looker, one of the physicians of the Muskoka Hospital for Consumptives. In the course of conversation the work at Muskoka was introduced, and Mr. Hammond, interested, and in his off-hand way he said:

"That is a good work. I don't mind helping that. When I return home I will send you a cheque for $500." He was as good as his word, and in a fortnight's time a cheque for the amount promised was in the hands of the treasurer of the National Sanatorium Association.

Shortly after this steps were taken to organize a trustee board of the Toronto Free Hospital for Consumptives. Mr. Hammond was approached and asked if he would undertake the duties cheerfully accepted the position. This was the commencement of Mr. Hammond's work at the Toronto Free Hospital for Consumptives. He was at once deeply interested in everything pertaining to the management and good-will of the hospital.

two institutions on the banks of the Huron.

Unless away from the city he never failed to attend a meeting of the board. He was a frequent visitor to the hospital, watching and studying every detail of the work. But of his large business experience it is fair to say that he hardly has his own private business received more close attention than did the affairs of the two institutions which owe their existence to-day so largely to his efforts.

In this connection it is satisfactory to note that so well had his work been recognized and appreciated that the H. C. Hammond Memorial Fund for hospital work in the course of a few weeks reached over $50,000.

Politically Mr. Hammond was a Conservative, and in matters of religion he followed the Anglican communion.

He was married to the widow of the late E. B. Crombie of Toronto, who had two sons, Frederick B. and Herbert B. Crombie, of the Toronto Free Hospital for Consumptives. Mrs. E. B. Crombie and Mrs. M. S. Bogert of Toronto were also his sisters.

He was a member of the Toronto Club, of which he was president for several years; of the National Club, the Albany Club, the Toronto Club, the Royal Canadian Yacht Club, the Rideau Club of Ottawa, the St. James' Club of Montreal, the Hamilton Club and the Manitoba Club of Winnipeg.
