Steps are being taken to erect a church at Griswold at once, and also at Alexander as soon as possible. Owing to the character of the work, and the amount to be done, we would recommend that an ordained man be sent next year. Our Sabbath-schools and class-meetings are well attended. Members, 50.

VIRDEN.—On arriving on this newly-formed mission last July, we found three appointments in existence, which had been supplied with preaching during the preceding winter by the ministers and preachers from Brandon, and for a month or two immediately previous to our coming by the Rev. Mr. Peters. We soon opened four other appointments, and have since had invitations to visit and preach to the people in other sections, but have been unable to undertake any more work than we have at present. In September last we built a church, or hall, in the village costing over $1000. We find the people anxious to hear the word, and the congregations have been good and are increasing in numbers. MOOSE MOUNTAIN.—Though the working of this entirely new field has been attended with many difficulties, and for the greater part of the year little spiritual life was manifest; still, latterly, there is a marked spiritual growth. This mission, not yet fully organized, consists of six appointments, and is about sixty miles long. It is naturally divided into three parts, each division needing a missionary. Financially, the people, though willing, are not able to do very much. The settlements are only two years old, and far from a market. Yet this will shortly be changed, and the people will soon be able to do more. Members, 39.

REGINA.—This year's labors have been the most unsatisfactory of all the years I have spent in the ministry. Our hopes in temporal affairs, which were so flattering when we last reported, were crushed by the force of untoward events. A plan was prepared for a new church, and arrangements entered into for building; but there commenced an exodus of population that affected our church more than all the rest put together, and this, added to the depression, has had a
