

On Monday, Oct. 2nd, Dr. Buller gave the introductory lecture of his course on "The External Senses." During the whole course the number of auditors was most satisfactory, but the students enrolled not as numerous as in preceding years, the subject being considered difficult. Dr. Buller's letter is appended.

MONTREAL, April 12th, 1883.

The Honorary Secretary,

Ladies' Educational Association.

MADAM,—The results of the examination upon the course of lectures on "The External Senses," which I had the honor to deliver before the Ladies' Educational Association last autumn, were as follows:—Of the nineteen candidates who presented themselves for examination, eight were entitled to rank in the first class, seven in the second, and four in the third. On the whole, the answers were extremely satisfactory, and I do not exaggerate in saying that many of the papers were worthy of the highest commendation.

I am, dear Madam,

Yours respectfully,

F. BULLER, M.D.

Professor Moyse opened his course on the Elizabethan Literature by an introductory lecture on Thursday, Oct. 5th. During these lectures also the attendance was large, and the greatest interest manifestly evinced in the subject and manner of bringing it before the audience. Professor Moyse most kindly placed a number of rare editions of various works illustrative of the subject at the Library of the Association for the use of students. The letter given is so full that no further comment is needed.
