MONCTON PAWNEES ELIMINATED KNOX

Will Now Play Woodstock For Provincial Intermediate Title

The Moncton Pawnees lost to the Knox team here last night by a score of 34 to 44, but won the series by 15 points as they established a lead of 24 points in the first game of the play-off at Moncton. The Pawnees will go to Woodstock to play the first game of a series for the provincial championship of the province this evening.

The Knox team started in to wipe the visitors off the map and rolled up a lead of 16 points in the first half. They reduced the number of points necessary to win the series to six at the opening of the final period. At this time the local defence was playing a stone-wall game but the forwards were nervous and lost many easy chances under the basket.

COME BACK STRONG.

Moncton came back strong toward the finish with the Knox defence faltering and staged a rally that had the home team dizzy as the game ended.

The game was rough, McFarland, Van Buskirk and Morton, of the visitors, and Reid, of the locals, being punished for personal fouls. Trites, in the pick of the visiting players and Stirling of the Knox team.

In the preliminary the Harriers defeated the Y-Nets, 21 to 14.

No Admittance Sign Gains Man New Trial

IRON RIVER, Mich., April 1.—When a deputy sheriff posted a sign on a court room door here which read "No admittance," the judge is talking, he automatically gave a new trial to Alex Nypard, serving a life sentence for murder.

Although every other plea of defence counsel for a new trial was denied by Judge R. C. Flannigan, the last ruled that the sign, placed on the court room door through the deputy's blunder, had interfered with Nypard's constitutional rights to public trial.

The accused was charged with the murder of Sigmund Zaykowski in a holdup at the latter's poolroom here in April, 1924.

George Slater sent his St. Louis Browns through a stiff workout at Yarrow Springs yesterday, but took out enough time to state his team is coming around in good shape.

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., April 1.—The state board of control was shocked when they sought to purchase Webster's unabridged dictionary for the state blind school here.

The dictionary will cost $2,800 and will require three shelves, each 60 feet long, to house it. The unabridged edition in Braille printing, used by the blind, requires 128 volumes.

When Reds Got Pipp, Jimmy Got Blues

By NORMAN E. BROWN
ORLANDO, Fla., March 31.—Unless the Chief Reds decide to sell Walter Holke as a Civil War relic and then Wallie Pipp trips on the board walk in front of the clubhouse and sprays his ambition, young Jimmy Hudgens will get little opportunity to play first base for the Reds this season.

But I have Hendricks' word that he means to keep Jimmy. Which ought to cheer that young Western League contender if the word gets to him. For James saw himself headed back to the minors when Wallie Pipp was traded from the Yanks some weeks ago.

Hendricks is banking on the young man delivering eventually. "This, despite the fact that he throws with his right hand (when an orthodox first baseman should be a southpaw) and did not bring a great fielding record to the big show with him."

Hudgens comes up after laboring for three years with Fort Smith. Jimmy got his start playing ball in the hotel of good freethinkers—St. Louis. The presence, agility and youth of James Henderson of the Cards, and the apparent ability of George Slater to carry on with the Browns forced James to go elsewhere for his chance.

Last year Hudgens turned in a batting average of .283 for the season and it was his feat in leading the league in every branch of batting that caused the Reds to grab him.

"He's a mighty sweet ball player," said Hendricks as we discussed his right hand (when an orthodox first baseman should be a southpaw) and did not bring a great fielding record to the big show with him.

It is likely that the conference at the week-end also will serve as an informal gathering to discuss other matters pertaining to the pro-game, particularly the rules.

PORT ARTHUR HOLDS CUP ANOTHER YEAR

Come From Behind in Over-Time Play and Won Final Game, 3-2

TORONTO, Ont., April 1.—The Allan cup will reside in Port Arthur for another season. The Ports last night again came from behind and in the second overtime period, Gray put them ahead with a goal making the score on the night's play 3 to 2.

Port Arthur were evidently the better team in the pinches, as they proved from the fact that in both games on local ice they were faced with a two goal deficit starting the final periods.

The victory of the westerners marks the second year in succession that they have won the supreme honors of Canadian amateur hockey.

Coach Rudolph, of the Braves, declares he never saw major leaguers in better condition.

Campbellton Wins Exhibition Game

CAMPBELLTON, March 31.—In the Campbellton Arena tonight Bathurst defeated Campbellton in a closely contested battle on very soft ice by a score of three to two. This match was for the benefit of the River Glade Sanatorium, and was attended by about 300 fans, the chief cause being the soft weather, which played havoc with the ice.

The conference has been arranged primarily by those behind the new loop, which is being fostered by Leo Dandurand, of the Canadians, and by Boston interests, and includes Providence, Jersey City and other clubs within that territory. The promoters of the new league plan on laying their cards before the N. H. L. officers, particularly President Frank Calder, with a view to seeking affiliation with the major pro hockey league.

It is interesting to note, also, the presence in Montreal at this time of Newey Lalonde and Mr. Hoey, owners of the Saskatoon Shells in the Western Hockey League, and more particularly of the Saskatoon club, of the Edmonton Oilers, both the Saskatoon club and the Edmonton club have been free-

COACH HAS BOYS OUT EARLY FOR ROAD TRAINING

Basketball Players Expect To Be in Condition For Championship Series.

"Early to bed and early to rise" is the motto of the Trojans basketball players at present. Coach News has ordered the boys to be "tucked away" at 10 p.m. and to be out ready for road work at 7 in the morning. Early morning workers who congregate at Haymarket Square waiting for the different street cars seem to get a real kick out of the Trojans workouts and look forward to the appearance of the orange and black sweaters each morning as they appear down Prince Edward street a few minutes after 7. A few witty remarks are always handed out by some of the on-lookers, while others stand in amazement wondering what it is all about. These morning work-outs are doing the team a world of good and should give the boys lots of speed and endurance for the big games next week-end.

Practices are being held almost nightly and will be continued until next Wednesday night, but the road work will be abandoned after Monday morning and the team probably will include Sunday of this week, turning out at nine o'clock instead of seven.

The Trojans have set a record for basketball training for this part of the country and when the real test comes next week they should be in excellent form and ready to give the Upper Canadians real stiff opposition.

WESTERN FEATURES IN TONIGHT'S GAME

MONTREAL, April 1.—The leading features of the western style of hockey will be witnessed this evening, in the second Stanley cup game between the Montreal Maroons and Victoria Cougars, who will play at the Forum under the western code.

The features of the western rules as compared with the eastern code, are that the players are allowed to pass the puck forward in any one of the three sections of the ice, though they cannot pass forward from one section into another. This is a particularly advantageous rule for a receiving team when it is in the enemy's defense area, and opens up the chances of scoring with no offside around the opposing goal mouth. Kicking the puck is allowed in the western game. The penalty shot will also be in vogue tonight, being awarded against a defending team, for tripping players who are in a good position to score. The puck is shot from a blue circle in front of the goal, the sharpshooter being allowed a free try at the goalkeeper.

Victoria are expected to make their speed count under their own rules tonight.

Against the western mode of attack, the Maroons will pit their customary style of play.

Such long-term agreements have been abused by the players. We offer Babe Ruth as the out-standing example. Ruth signed a three-year contract two years ago. The contract, it is said, called for a yearly salary of $62,000.

Ruth is just such a case. He has signed contracts drawn up in the big show.

"Every time a ball player asks for a two or three-year contract you can figure that he has something on his mind. And usually it's the idea that he hasn't ought to have to work very hard the first year," said one club owner the other day.
