While there is deep sympathy for that officer from all who had the pleasure of making his acquaintance, it is yet necessary to vindilyte the Buy of St. John. The writers on Halifax newspapers, who went to such extremes and made such utterly untruthful and ridiculous statements concerning the wreck of this steamship, have received their answer, and they are so thoroughly discredited by the finding of the court that any future statements from them will be discounted at once. It is very regrettable that there are individuals in the sister city who would make a distate, such as that which befell the Cobequid, the basis of attack upon St. John. Such conduct on their part tends to create ill-feeling where only friendly sentiments should exist. The whole purpose of their campaign was to discredit St. John in the hope that Halifax might profit thereby. If they are not now thoroughly ashamed of them-

THE PAVING LAW Only two of those who were present at last night's meeting of the board of trade to consider the proposed paving law voted against the principle of the bill. So far as most of the arguments against the bill were concerned, and the reasons presented for not making any change in the existing system, they might have been presented with equal force when it was first proposed to convert the trails of the pioneers into roads. Summarized they are: "Let bad enough"

With a general law such as is proposed the people in every street are placed on the same basis, and there can be no favoritism, while the city council is at the same time provided with machinery enabling it to carry on necessary public improve-

That which Commissioner Agar sought when he sent a copy of the proposed bill to the board of trade has been at least in part accomplished. Last night's discussion and the publicity given to the report of the meeting will familiarize the public with the principle of the bill, and dispose of any charges to the effect that the council is trying to force something upon the people.

If the university is destined to play a most important part in the proper agricultural development of this province is no longer disputed. The farmer has reached the stage when he goes out in eager search for knowledge which will aid his success. The whole situation is hopeful in a new sense.

teristic has been his remarkable tenacity of purpose which is well illustrated by a story related by one of his friends. The latter was accustomed to play billiards frequently in the evening with Sir William. The great man is by no opponent was quite expert. At first the latter would beat Sir William badly but as the evening wore on and his play became less accurate, the margin between the pair would diminish. At last Sir William who would insist on continuing the game far into the night, would turn the tables on his adversary, winning at the end by sheer persistency and tireless energy. In just the same way he has succeeded in the bigger contests of life.

gestion that the Armory be used as a temporary shelter is worth looking into.

How he opens wide his mouth,
How his wild screams fill the night;
How he rushes north and south,
Fit for murder, arson, fight,
How he burbles in his pain;
How he rages, cries for gore,
When the doctor counts again,
Whispering to him: "There are four."

A famous physician whose successful researches into the cause and cure of stomach and intestinal diseases have carned for him an international reputation, said in the course of a recent lecture that nearly all intestinal troubles, as well as many diseases of the vital organs, were directly traceable to a deranged condition of the stomach which in turn was due nine times out of ten to excessive acidity, commonly termed sour stomach or heartburn, which not only irritated and inflamed the delicate lining of the stomach, but also set upgastritis and stomach ulcers. It is interesting to note that he condemns the use of patent medicines as well as of medical treatment for the stomach, stating that he and his colleagues have secured remarkable results by the use of ordinary bisurated magnesia, which, by neutralizing the acidity of the food, removes the source of the trouble. He contends that it is as foolish to treat the stomach itself as it would be for a man who stepped on a tack to rub liniment on the foot without first removing the tack. Remove the tack and the foot will heal itself—neutralize the acid and stomach troubles will disappear. Irritating medicines and medical treatments are useless, so long as the contents of the stomach remain acid; remove the acidity, and there will be no need for medicine—the inflamed lining of the stomach will then heal itself. Sufferers from acidity, sour stomach of heartburn should get a small bottle obisurated magnesia from their druggist and take a teaspoonful in a quarter of glass of hot or cold water after meals repeating in fifteen minutes, if necessary this being the dose which the doctor has found most efficacious in all cases. repeating in fifteen minutes, if necessary, this being the dose which the doctor has found most efficacious in all cases.
