COST OF RUNNING
BIG LEAGUE CLUB

Ebbet Says it Has Increased By Leaps and Bounds Within Last Few Years

Charles H. Ebbets of Brooklyn, who once asserted that "baseball still is in its infancy," wishes it to be known that what he said then applies merely to the playing and not in any way to the financial end.

"The cost of basingball from the owners standpoint today, he says, "is from three to six times as great now. It was in 1908, when I broke into the business and the cost is increasing each year."

"Everything is higher—beats higher," continued the Dodgers' owner. "Traveling expenses have tripled in the last twelve or fifteen years, the salaries are about three times higher in some cases and practically every club has been forced to build new concrete stadiums and pay increased taxes or rentals on the grounds which it uses."

$2,400 Big Salary in Old Days.

"In the old days a club used to carry about twenty men at the most. A salary of $2,400 was considered a huge one in those days. The average salary in those days was about $1,200, which meant that a club's salary list totalled no more than $30,000."

C. Hercules paused, which gave the interviewer time to wedge in the quizz: "What is the average salary list now?"

The general boss of the Dodgers evaded a direct reply. C. Hercules doesn't like to talk about—or even think about—the salary list that he himself has to make in an effort to stop his players from hurdling to the Feds.

However, it has been learned from other sources that in these days of high salaries, the average salary for twenty-five players, a manager, an assistant manager and two trained is around $3,000. That would bring the total annual salary outlay for a major league club to about $85,000. This bears out Ebbets' statements as to the near tripling of the salary figures.

"In the old days we used to make a complete swing of the western circuit at a cost of around $1,200 or $1,400. That same swing cost us $4,000 today."

"Twenty years or so ago we never carried more than eighteen men on a trip. That included the manager, six pitchers, two catchers, three infielders, five outfielders, and a general utility man."

"Our mileage cost in the old days was 1 1/2 cents a mile, and usually we could head about three of our players through. Our average mileage cost now is two cents, and headbanging is a thing of the past. Our cost for sleepers in the old days was about $200, but it is about $800 or $850 now because of the extra men we carry."

"The hotel limit in the old days on the American plan never was more than $4 a day. And that was the price of the best hotels. Nowadays, it costs us $4 a day for accommodation at places in the same class."

Traveling Expenses $17,000.

"As I have said, it cost us about $4,000 to make a western swing now. We make three a year. That makes the total for western traveling $12,000. It costs us $800 to $700 for each trip that we make to Philadelphia, and about $1,000 for each eastern trip."

"So when all things are figured, it will be seen that our traveling expenses and those of the Giants are lower than those of any other team because when we play each other we incur no hotel or traveling expenses."

"I dare say that the annual traveling expenses of the majority of clubs are in the neighborhood of $21,000."

"We used wooden stands in the old days. They didn't cost much originally, and their upkeep was small."

Stands Cost Large Sums.

"Today nearly every major league in the country has a new steel and concrete stadium that cost anywhere from $250,000 to $350,000. At an interest rate of six per cent, that represents an annual interest outlay of from $15,000 to $21,000."

"Every club that owns its own grounds must pay greatly increased taxes. Those who rent or lease their grounds are compelled to pay from two to four times as much for their grounds as they used to."

"Baseball is in its infancy, all right, but as the figures I have given will show, it is not the financial side that is in its infancy."

HEALTH OFFICER GIVES
TALK TO Y.M.C.A. BOYS

Dr. G. G. Melvin's Practical and Helpful Address Full of Good Points

On Saturday night in the Y. M. C. A. building, Dr. G. G. Melvin, city health officer, spoke to a large group of boys on personal hygiene. He spoke of the general health of the body and of the mind. To keep the body in a healthy state certain things must be considered, first that "food must be taken regularly."

Regularity was much more important than quantity or quality. Second the clothing must be properly adjusted to one's needs. It should be warm and dry and clean. Third, sleep was a very necessary point in relation to health. No hard and fast rule could be laid down but the average number of hours of sleep for the growing boy was between eight and ten. During the sleeping hours we stored up our reserve force or energy for the day's work.

The doctor dwelt for a time on the

A Simple, Home-Made Remedy,
Inexpensive but Unequalled

The prompt and positive results given by this pleasant-tasting home-made cough syrup has caused it to be used in more homes than any other remedy. It gives almost instant relief and will usually overcome the average cough in 24 hours.

Get 2 1/2 ounces Pinex (50 cents worth) from your drugist, pour it into a 16-ounce bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. This makes 16 ounces—a fairly large supply of the most effective cough remedy at a cost of only 54 cents or less. You couldn't buy as much ready-made cough medicine for $2.50. Easily prepared and never spoils. Full directions with Pinex.

The promptness, certainty and ease with which this Pinex Syrup overcomes a bad throat cold is truly remarkable. It quickly loosens a dry hoarse or tight cough and heals and soothes a painful cough in a hurry. With a persistent, loose cough it stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the annoying hacking.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, rich in quinine, and is famous the world over for its splendid effect in bronchitis, whooping cough, bronchial asthma and winter coughs.

To avoid disappointment in making this, ask your drugist for "2 1/2 ounces Pinex," and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.
