The Liberal platform campaign in the interest of the Liberal candidates and reciprocity will be begun tonight when Hon. The Liberal platform campaign in the william Pugsley, James Lowell and others will address a meeting of the electors in the Temperance Hall, Main street, Fairville, beginning at 8 o'clock. The reciprocity question, as well as the other issues of the campaign will be fully dealt with. Extra seating accommodations have been made in the hall, and it is to have a new post office, located in Prince Wm. street, on the site already referred to in the Times. In the face of the fact that it has been positively announced that arrangements securing for the land were in progress, the Standard stated that no one representing the federal department had even been to see the owners of the proprty.

The actual that a location of Hon. Dr. Pugsley, minister of public works, was drawn to this. tions have been made in the hall, and it is expected that a large crowd will attend. Two great meetings have also been arranged for Thursday night.

Hon. William Pugsley and James Lowell, the local candidates, also Charles McDonald, will address the electors in the Star Theatre (Union Hall), Main street, commencing at 8 o'clock. The minister will deal particularly with the plans for the property.

The land for the new post office is to be expropriated. G. G. Murdoch, civil engineer, of this city, has been instructed by my department to make the survey which is necessary before the plans for expropriation can be filed. Mr. Murdoch told me yesterday that the plans for the survey would be ready in a few days to forward to Ottawa. Immediately after this has been done expropriation will take place."

McDonald will speak from the standpoint of the manufacturer.

In Carleton (West End), the minister and Mr. Lowell will be supplemented on the speaking programme by Dr. L. M. Curran of Fairville, one of the ablest of the younger speakers hereabouts. The same addresses delivered in North End by the candidates will probably be given. The West End meeting is to take place in the Oddfellows' Hall.

Hon. Mr. Pugsley and Mr. Lowell, will address a meeting at 4 o'clock on Friday afternoon at Salmon River and at 8 o'clock Friday night in St. Martins.

Several Happy Events in the City and Fairville
