Tots Fall From Rescuing Sister's Arms and Die in Fire

ROBERVAL SCENE OF TRAGEDY

Coal Oil Used in Kitchen Spills and House is Soon Ablaze.

NARROW ESCAPES

Eldrest Girl Makes Brave Effort to Rescue Her Little Sisters.

Quebec, May 20—Juliette Tremblay, aged eight, and Marie Tremblay, aged five, are dead and the house in which they lived, together with their parents, is now a mass of ruins as the result of a disastrous blaze which broke out last night at Roberval, Lake St. John county. The other members of the household, Mr. and Mrs. Tremblay and their eldest daughter, Josephine, as well as two others, had great difficulty in effecting their escape from the blazing house.

It appears that the oldest daughter was engaged in pouring coal oil into one of the lamps in the upper part of the house, when the two-gallon can that she was holding fell from her hands, the oil spreading all over the floor, and communicating to the stove. Within a few seconds the upper part of the house was blazing fiercely, and five sleeping children were awakened by the three older members of the family.

Three of the children, including the two victims, were being carried down stairs by Josephine when they slipped to the ground and in a second were a mass of flames, while the others completed a hazardous trip through the fire to safety.

Efforts to save the two children who had fallen in the house proved ineffective as, by the time the others were outside, the house was a raging furnace and Mr. and Mrs. Tremblay could not effect an entrance.

Within fifteen minutes the whole house was consumed by the blaze. The charred bodies of the two little ones were found in the ruins.

RULE VIOLATIONS HOLD ITALIANS

Father Curran's Statement at Halifax is Repudiated by Immigration Officials

Ottawa, May 19—The Immigration authorities here state that the four hundred Italian immigrants held up at Halifax for some days, are detained because they cannot comply with the Canadian Immigration laws, which permit the entrance under existing regulations of only bona fide farmers and domestics. The ship on which the immigrants arrived is an Italian boat, and the gist of the whole matter seems to be that an attempt is being made to secure the entry of Italians without proper examination at the port of departure in Europe, according to the present policy of the Immigration Department.

The total number on the ship was 660, of whom 200 have been admitted, mainly women and children coming to join their husbands or fathers already here, and who were visted by the Italian Immigration Commissioner in Canada. The Canadian Government has been desirous of placing a Canadian immigration officer in Italy, who would check up intending emigrants to Canada and ascertain whether they complied with the regulations, but the Italian Government would not agree to this, being desirous, it is said, of securing all the business possible for Italian steamship lines.

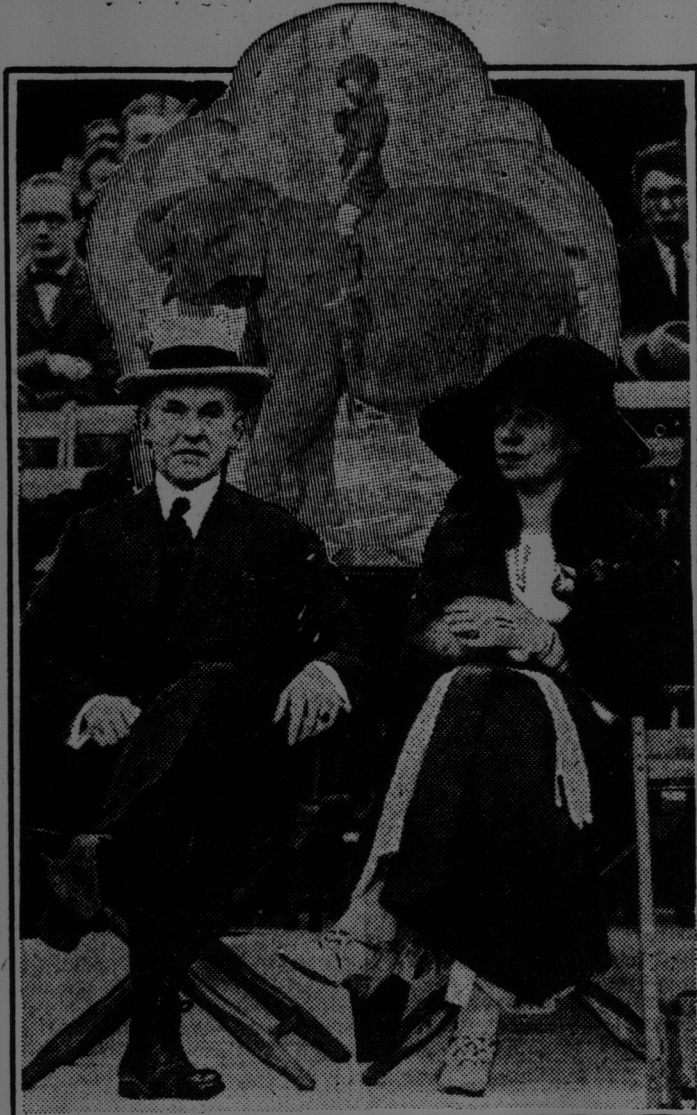

Arrangement Made.
An arrangement was then made with the Italian Commissioner here, Mr. Bonardelli, under which he would vize only those applicants approved by the Department of Immigration, and that only those would be allowed to come forward by the Italian Government. The ones now being detained are those who cannot comply with this regulation. The statement made by Father Curran at Halifax, charging the department with "gross injustice" was apparently made without any knowledge of the circumstances, it was stated.

INDIANS PREFER RED
Washington, May 20—The red man's fondness for gaudy colors has long been known but it has remained for Dr. T. R. Garth, of the University of Denver, to ascertain their color preferences. Full blood Indians were found to prefer red to all other colors; then blue, violet, yellow and white in the order named. White men prefer blue, then green and then red.

DOCTORS FOR 224 YEARS
London, May 20—The death of Dr. William Curtis, 87, in Alton, Hampshire, has snapped the last link of an unbroken chain of family doctors. For 224 years, and through five generations, fathers and sons have practiced as doctors in the same picturesque seventeenth century house.

A KID AGAIN!

President Coolidge Cracks a Smile As He Watches Circus

Washington, D. C., May 20—Once there was a barefoot boy in Ludlow, Vt., who dreamed of climbing the elephant's back and riding round and round the sawdust arena. Cal Coolidge was his name. The other day, shaking the cares of office and the worries of a coming political campaign from his shoulders, he stepped about more briskly than Washington has seen him step in many days. "Going to the circus," he admitted. Had he cared he could have mounted the elephant's back, or ridden in the chariot, or done anything he wished. The press agent would have thanked him mightily. But now had come between him and boyhood desire the dignity of high office. Did he wistfully wish that he could change places with some small boy and— Study the picture and frame your own answer. NO GREAT RUSH AS ALBERTA GOES WET

Brewers Inaugurate the New Regime by Announcing Lower Prices.

While all Canadians, says the Calgary Herald of May 19, were authorized to "purchase spirits, wine, beer and malt liquor for beverage, medicinal and culinary purposes," on Monday morning, when the downtown vendor's store, at the corner of Tenth avenue and First street west opened for business, there was no rush on the part of the citizens to avail themselves of the privilege. On the contrary, trade was quite meagre, indicating that the advent of "wet" Alberta did not cause any excitement.

They Came to Buy.

On the other side of the store the clerks were kept busy wrapping up samples of the government's bottled goods. By noon the shelves were beginning to look depleted. However, there is a big enough supply of liquor in the city to assure even the most nervous. There was much merry jesting among the gay throng that besieged the vendor. Some of the applicants came in merely to purchase their permits, which they displayed to their friends with great glee, but the majority stayed to look over the stock and take away some samples. Along First street west, it was a new spectacle to see a man tramping home with the familiar brown package, sometimes a bulky one that must have contained at least half a dozen bottles. The more open loaded their purchases into waiting automobiles.

East Calgary Store.

It is probable that the East Calgary store, which will be conducted by Captain Fred McCall, will be opened before the end of the present week. The hours for the vendors' stores are from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. in the cities and from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. in the towns.

The permits are very similar to those in use in British Columbia. They bear the signature of the holder in two places and expire at the end of the present year. Few people took out the "beer only" permits which cost $1, as against the $2 for a general permit for the purchase of both beer and spirits. Calgary, along with the rest of Alberta, woke up "wet" on Monday morning, after an alcoholic drought of eight years, all but two months.

The province entered the prohibition period in July, 1916, after the vote of the year before. On November 5, 1923, the voters turned down prohibition for government control and the act has now been proclaimed.

Beer Prices Reduced.

Following a meeting on Sunday evening, local breweries announced a reduction in the price of beer from the prices announced at their first conference.

Draught beer will remain at $25 a barrel. Case beer will be sold at the following prices: two dozen bottles $4.20, less 60 cents on bottles, or a net price of $3.60, as against the net price of $4.15 as previously decided upon. One of one dozen quarts $3.50, less 50 cents on bottles, or a net price of $3.00. Bottled beer has been reduced from $23 to $21 a barrel.

Vendor's Store Opened.

The downtown vendor's store opened for business at 10 o'clock on Monday morning, the first permits being issued immediately after the opening. Permits are being issued for general licenses, two had already received their permits. The liquor business in Calgary will be handled by the vendor at Tenth avenue and First street west, until the second store, in the Burn block, East Calgary, is opened.

No Rush at Edmonton.

Edmonton, May 12—When the government liquor office officially opened for business at 10 a.m. there was a "crowd" of one woman, six men and a dog assembled outside, awaiting the opportunity to purchase a permit and also the hard liquor that goes with it. There were additions to the crowd as the time progressed and soon two clerks were kept busy writing out permits at the rate of 40 per hour. The first permit issued in Edmonton was to a woman, who took half a dozen bottles of stout under her arm, and hurried for home. The breweries have started delivery to private homes and several Southern Alberta breweries have announced their intention of opening warehouses and maintaining delivery systems in Edmonton.

Woman Has Sailed 1,100,000 Miles
Belfast, May 20—Mrs. William Reed, the wife of a sea captain, is believed to be the world's most traveled woman. She has a record of having journeyed 1,100,000 miles. Although she has rounded Cape Horn 17 times she has never passed through the Straits of Magellan. She has crossed the line 108 times.

BAPTIST GAINS IN U. S. ARE LARGE

Methodists Report Greatest Membership Among Protestant Groups.

Toronto, May 20—The various denominations will take whatever comfort they desire from the annual statistical tabulations for the U. S. just issued by Dr. H. K. Carroll, veteran statistician.

Among the Protestants, the Methodist groups report the largest totals and the Baptists by far the greatest gains in communicants. Methodists now number 8,622,838, a gain of 87,683 during the latest church year. Baptists report 8,237,021, or a gain of 192,520 in twelve months.

Presbyterians number 2,462,537 having gained 61,290; they rank next to the Lutherans who occupy third place with a total enrolment of 2,468,841 persons. Protestant Episcopal communicants total 1,140,076, a gain of 10,838. Canadians will note with interest that the net gains of American Protestant churches numbered 465,021 communicants. Their total of communicants is 26,078,659 persons. If adherents were included, the totals would probably be much larger.

FLAMES DAMAGE HOUSE IN SUSSEX

Residence of J. H. Mace Suffers to the Extent of About $2,000.

Sussex, May 19—A two-and-a-half storey house situated on Maple avenue, owned by the John H. Mace estate and occupied by Percy Smiley, was badly damaged tonight by fire and water. An alarm from Box 15 at 9 o'clock was promptly responded to by the first department. The fire, which started in the cellar had worked its way up through the partitions and was a substantial part of the roof was burned off and the house completely gutted and practically destroyed. Little of the contents of the building were saved. Mr. Smiley's loss will be heavy. He is partially covered by insurance. The house was damaged to the extent of $2,000.

MISSION BAND CONCERT.

A very successful mission band concert was held on Friday night by the Junior Mission Band of Central Baptist church. Rev. James Dunlop was chairman. ISSUES MANY LICENSES.

The sub-district Board of Health has been speeding up the work of issuing licenses. The last few days have seen 45 of the 46 milk vendors' licenses that will go out. Mrs. Edmund Flewelling has issued 286 retail milk licenses to shops and there will be something more than 300 of these to issue. Dr. T. Fred Johnston had issued more than 172 licenses to milk producers and 172 of these to be given out. Of the 16 hotels, which had been inspected and passed their licenses, the record for licenses to keep hens stood at 38 licenses issued yesterday. The bill for fifty diners was $347.20, while the orchestra cost $16, and a special car $25. "I object to the high cost of diners," said Mr. Murdoch.

LIVE IN SAND DUNES.

Los Angeles, Calif., May 20—Enclosed among the sand dunes near the mouth of the San Gabriel river are the homes of three milk producers. Their little houses are set behind a stockade of bamboo. The men claim they have not found in modern cities and towns the best change for self-realization.

WILL SEEK ESKIMOS.

Christiania, Norway, May 20—Christian Leden, who has made many trips to the Arctic regions, has prepared to start from here to hunt for two Eskimo tribes in northern Canada. Though warned that no white man ever returned from the region alive, Leden is confident of success. The land he will explore is said to abound in minerals and oil.

INQUEST NOT NECESSARY.

Coroner H. A. Porter announced last night that after making an investigation into the circumstances surrounding the drowning of John Beckwith in Lily Lake on Sunday afternoon that he would not hold an inquest, as he was satisfied it was purely accidental.

Something May Develop From This

People who daily pass the head of King street have watched the genial "Andy" Duffy deftly and smilingly keeping the streams of vehicular traffic separated from the passing throngs of pedestrians. From now on they can be prepared to have the quiet intervals between spasmodic rushes of travel brightened by the delivery of epic gems from the lips of the picture-blue-coated landmark.

For Andy found a book of poetry—a mine of rich literary promise. While he would not be quoted on the matter, it is the earnest belief of his associates that Mr. Duffy is hoping the owner does not use too much haste in reclaiming the volume. During his off-hours the traffic man has been regaling himself with babbling brooks, banyan breezes, to say nothing of the written exploits of the sages and heroes of old. So, should the public in the vicinity of King square at any time during the next few days, be treated to a recital from Andy's rubber pad of what happened to the lad who stood upon the blazing deck, or the novel to the story of Little Jim, they can know whence the outburst. Incidentally the tourist associations might make a note of developments for consideration when the next St. John booklets are being prepared.

HIGH DINER COST STARTS WRANGLING IN OTTAWA HOUSE

Federal Labor Members Ask About Party of 60 Costing $347.50

Ottawa, May 19—Dominion jurisdiction on the eight-hour day, and a Labor conference which ended in the House today. There was considerable questioning as to the position in regard to the eight-hour day convention to which the Dominion Government assented at the first International Labor conference held under the League of Nations.

J. S. Woodworth, Labor member for Central Winnipeg, complained that there had been too much playing with responsibility. If Canada could not enforce the eight-hour day should withdraw from the convention. It was Harry Leader, Progressive, of Portage La Prairie, who brought up the expense account of the dinner—$347.50. The bill for sixty diners was $347.20, while the orchestra cost $16, and a special car $25. "I object to the high cost of diners," said Mr. Murdoch.

Mr. Murdoch said that he was not altogether enthusiastic himself about the necessity of such dinners. He said the department had indicated that when provincial representatives were in the city it was the Minister of Labor who should entertain them. He said that the names of the provincial representatives who were at the dinner should be mentioned. Among them were Hon. George Murray and Hon. R. E. Plim of Nova Scotia, Hon. C. W. Robinson of New Brunswick, Hon. E. C. Drury and Hon. Walter Rolfe of Ontario, Hon. R. W. Craig of Manitoba, and Hon. Alex. Ross of Alberta.

Mr. Murdoch closed by reiterating that he did not wish to dodge responsibility. "If it is not right," he said, "you tell me and it will not occur again in my department while I am minister."

"There was some discussion of an amendment introduced by Mr. Leader to test the feeling of the House on the question, that the item be reduced by the amount spent on the dinner. Mr. Murdoch protested that the dinner was not paid for out of the item. Why not move the deduction when the vote for contingencies came up? Finally, on the minister promising that no further sums were allowed for possible dinners in the coming year, Mr. Leader withdrew his motion, and the item—one of $35,000 for the Lemieux Act—passed.

Hon. James Murdoch, Minister of Labor, admitted that he was not himself enthusiastic over such functions. If he were told that it was not right, it would not occur again in his department while he was minister, so he indicated. The cost of the dinner, however, did not come under the item discussed and Mr. Leader withdrew his motion.

Shorter hours for the Cape Breton steel workers, and the general question of the eight-hour day for all workers came up when Mr. Woodworth asked if anything was being done to carry out the recommendations of the commission which investigated the Cape Breton dispute.

Mr. Murdoch replied that so far as the eight-hour day was concerned the Provincial Government had full jurisdiction. R. B. Hanson, (Conservative, York-Sunbury) asked if the Government had done anything to improve conditions in Cape Breton before the strike was called.

GERMANY GRIPPED BY DREAD DISEASE

Epidemic Has Signs of Deadly Asiatic Typhus—Some Deaths.

(United Press.)

Berlin, May 20—Signs of an epidemic of the dread Asiatic typhus or something closely resembling that deadly disease, have appeared. It is spreading simultaneously in various parts of Germany. A heat wave is aiding the spread.

Two people have died and scores are seriously ill at Bamberg, in Bavaria while at Hamelin the epidemic attacked the troops and 166 members of the Reichswehr are in hospitals. Putrid meat is believed to have caused the disease in Bavaria.

GIRL RESCUES BOY FROM DROWNING

Plunges Into Cold Water of Odell River and Saves Lad.

Arthurette, N. B., May 19—A daring rescue of the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Law, a small place on the Tobique, about 8 miles below Plaster Rock, was made by Miss Jennie Finnimore, a girl of 16 years last week, it was learned today.

The river was running fast, it being the top of the spring freshet, when one of the bravest rescues known in this vicinity was accomplished by Miss Finnimore. A little fellow, commonly known as "Bud," was visiting at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Finnimore, which is near the bank of the river.

Missing the little fellow from the house, Mrs. Finnimore requested her daughter, Jennie, to go to search for him. Jennie followed a road that cut down the bank at one side of the house, the bank being quite steep, and she was horrified to see the little fellow floating in the current down the river. Without one moment's hesitation, Miss Finnimore, attired with heavy clothing, plunged into the cold water, swam for some distance and rescued the little boy, whom she carried to the house, and after some attention he appeared to be none the worse for his experience.

This brave act is reported as the second accomplished by young Miss Finnimore. While in bathing about four years ago, she was successful in saving the life of a companion who was drowning.

FRANCE NAMES BALLOON TEAM

Brussels, May 19—The balloon team which will represent France in the Gordon Bennett Cup race on June 30 has been chosen and the names of the team are: Maurice Bienaimé, Georges Cornier and J. F. Laporte. The three aeronauts selected, with Georges Blanchet and Victor Denis as substitutes in case of accident.

Blennime won the race in 1912, flying from Stuttgart to Rjazan in Russia. Cornier has made more than 50 ascents and Blanchet 30. The latter has won the French Grand Prix for balloons three times.

GOLD FISH SMART.

Paris, May 20—Fashionable Paris is down on its knees before the gold fish. The gold fish, worked in very large beads, has been decreed the smartest decoration of the day. The bright-hued fish is embroidered on bathing suits and often is seen in chic luncheon clubs to set off the flowers.

SLEUTHS IN PULPIT.

London, May 20—Carefully hidden behind the pulpit, the janitor of St. Wilfrid's church saw Miss Lillian Bellamy, a music teacher, remove free-will offering envelopes from a box with a hat-pin. A charge of burglary was placed against the woman.

OLD ENGINEER ACTIVE.

Moosbee, Wis., May 20—Frank Pond, 83, engineer of Lincoln's funeral train in 1865, is still in active service—running a pony engine in the paper mills here. He also was fireman of the train which carried Lincoln as president-elect to Washington.

In Cape Breton before the strike was called. The Minister of Labor replied that his department had held itself at the disposal of both sides to the dispute, prepared to take any steps within its jurisdiction. It had not been able to submit the dispute to a board of conciliation because the steel company was not willing to endorse the proposal for such a board. It must be remembered that the powers of the Federal Government was strictly defined under the British North America Act in such matters.

POLICE HEAR STRAIGHT TALK

Prisoners Tell Los Angeles Officers What They Think of "Cops."

Los Angeles, May 20—(Associated Press)—Chief of Police August Vollmer and his police captains instituted a new form of conference when they held a round-table discussion on crime, its causes, and means for its prevention with the inmates of the Lincoln Heights jail here.

At a luncheon in the jail the prisoners, at the invitation of the chief, told the arms of the law just what they thought of policemen, courts and law enforcement in general. Chief Vollmer said he learned much from the conference, including the following:

The character of men arrested should be more closely investigated by the arresting officer.

A court should be established to handle vagrants exclusively. By a gray-haired officer should be appointed to hear the pleas of these vagrants and those arrested on other petty charges.

Some of the remarks by prisoners that led up to these conclusions were: By one prisoner, called by his inmates, Sam: "These cops pinch us because that's their business and they don't care if we're innocent or not. If they get nothing real against us, we're canned on a charge of being vagrants and a boob judge gives us 90 days for having an empty stomach."

By an educated prisoner, who said he had made it his business to study crime from both sides: "There is, apparently, only one thing for a man to do when he is broke and hungry, and that is to 'knock somebody off.' I believe that the majority of small crimes is caused by that kind of need and no other."

By an admitted bootlegger: "What I want to know is this: When you pinch a man and get 18 gallons of good whiskey from him, why is it that the records show you confiscated only three gallons?"

Chief Vollmer asked for the names of officers who did this, but at a warning from other prisoners, the bootlegger sat down.

Girl Diver Has Trying Experience

London, May 20—An unpleasant experience has befallen Miss Margaret Naylor, a woman deep sea diver, at Tobermory, Isle of Mull, who is engaged in an effort to recover the treasure lost 338 years ago when a Spanish galleon was sunk in Tobermory harbor. Miss Naylor prepared to go down to examine the wreck. She had descended about eight or nine feet when she discovered her diving suit was rapidly filling with water. She managed to retain her presence of mind and gave the signal "Haul me up." It was promptly obeyed, but the diving suit was full of water before she reached the surface and she was almost exhausted by the time the helmet had been removed.

CENSOR GOWNS.

Athens, Greece, May 20—Fashionable women in Athens are being terrorized by a local organization which terms it "The Zealots of Christ." The members of this organization have taken a vow to compel modesty in women's dress by force. Women with bare arms or wearing low-necked gowns are often roughly handled and the exposed parts are smeared with tar.

MILLIONS OF BIBLES.

London, May 20—Three million Bibles or portions of the scriptures were distributed last year by the British and Foreign Bible Society, which recently celebrated its 120 birthday.
