CRAIGFLOWER SCHOOLHOUSE—FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF ITS ERECTION WAS CELEBRATED THURSDAY.

A RARE OCCASION AT CRAIGFLOWER

FIFTIETH BIRTHDAY OF THE OLD SCHOOL

It Was Celebrated in a Fitting Manner Flag Flung to the Breeze—History of Building.

When a little band of pioneers erected the old Craigflower school building many years ago they found better than they knew. Thursday marked the completion of the half century since the structure came into existence, and it is still used for the purpose for which it was originally intended. Naturally so important an anniversary could not be permitted to pass unobserved, and yesterday afternoon it was marked by a celebration, the features of which were the raising of the old flag, the closing exercises of the present generation and the raising of a flag presented by D. M. Eberts, K. C. It was truly an interesting event, and was treasured up in the memories of those present for many years to come. At the exercises the donor in a few suitable remarks presented the flag, which was run up the flagpole, all present joining in the national anthem as it was unfurled to the breeze.

The prizes won by the children were presented by Rev. W. D. Barber, who expressed his pleasure on being present on such a rare occasion.

The following interesting letter was read by S. D. Pope:

Founding of School. Victoria, B. C., 24th June, 1903. To S. D. Pope, Esq., Teacher, Craigflower School: Dear Mr. Pope,—I regret very much that I am unable to be with you to-morrow at the picnic on Craigflower school ground, because, having been identified with the founding of Craigflower school half a century ago, and when I reflect that many happy memories will be revived at your gathering, I cannot miss a treat rarely offered. It is most laudable to commemorate any good thing that may have transpired, but to preserve in memory a school which was the precursor of our free school system in this land of the "Far West" is beyond all praise.

I desire to make a few remarks of what led up to the founding of the school, and perhaps some who may be with you to-morrow would like to hear them through you. It is only fair to the memory of my brother-in-law, the late Kenneth McKenzie, to state that when leaving Scotland for Vancouver Island, in charge of a number of families, young men and women, he was not unmindful of the great responsibility and trust placed in his hands, namely, the education of not only the boys that were going with him, who had rathered hips and sines on Scotland's benighted shores, but the other children that might be expected after our arrival, hence he made it a condition that a schoolmaster should be engaged at the expense of the company before leaving.

Mr. Barr was engaged to fill the position, himself, wife arriving with us in the ship Norman Morrison, on the 16th January, 1853. At the time of our arrival at Port Victoria, the late Sir James Douglas was governor of the colony, and head of the Hudson's Bay Company, and having full control over all matters, and no schoolmaster being at the fort, Mr. Douglas retained Mr. Barr for that section—hence we had to reside at Craigflower without a teacher. An afternoon class was established for the benefit of the children who had been at school before leaving, until a schoolmaster should arrive, which occurred in the fall of 1853. It might not be amiss just at this juncture to give the names of the little band of pioneers who founded Craigflower. They were as follows: Joseph McKenzie, Mrs. McKenzie, six children—Agnes, Jessie, Dorastie, William, Kenneth and William. James Stewart, wife and one child—John. Robert Weir (widower) and six children—William, John, John (grown up), Hugh, Adam, Isabella and Roberta. James Little, wife and one child—John. Robert Anderson, wife and three children—John, Robert and Elizabeth. Andrew Hays, wife and one child—Anna. George Deans and wife. Susan Lidgate, wife and three children—Elizabeth and William. Alan Vitch, wife and three children—John, Christina and Elizabeth. George Russell and wife. Mr. Bartlem and wife. Mrs. McDross and wife. Mrs. Wilson and wife. Mrs. White, wife and four children—James, Agnes and William. Mrs. Downie, wife and three children—

1887-1890, A. M. Bannerman, 1890-1892, R. C. Johnston, 1892-1893, E. R. Mulder; 1892-1900, S. Shepherd; 1900-1903, S. D. Pope. "In 1872 the trustees were James Stewart, B. Downer and Martin J. Dodd. In the following year a complete change was made, Robert Porter, William Hillier, Henry Cogan, being the trustees. Two changes were made in 1874. Martin J. Dodd and John Parker being elected. "Since this time and including the above the following is the length of service of each trustee: Robert Porter, 29 years; James Stewart, 18 years; Martin J. Dodd, 15 years; D. F. Adams, 4 years; E. Whittier, 10 years; J. W. Rowland, 12 years; J. J. Wilson, 12 years; George Osborn, 1 year. The last three named are our present trustees. "While we would say all honor to those trustees who have so ably conducted the affairs of this school in the past, we should accord a meed of praise to the present trustees, who are so earnestly endeavoring to emulate the example set them by their predecessors. "Ladies and gentlemen, I have carefully prepared the foregoing statistics, and I trust that they have been not only interesting, but that they will recall pleasant reminiscences. "The most important thing that took place during the afternoon, most probably, in the scholars' minds, was the distribution of prizes, which were as follows: Marguerita Wilson, roll of honor; for department; Edith Redmore, roll of honor for punctuality and regularity; Marie Rowlands, roll of honor for proficiency; Edith Johnson, book, for writing; Alice Wilson, a book, for writing and drawing; Willie Johnson, a book, for general improvement; Harley Stewart, a book, for regularity; Lily Osborn, a book, for regularity; Freeman Harding, a book, for reading and writing; Maurice Carmichael, a book, for general improvement; Albert Guyon, a book, for rapid progress; Harold Kaye, a book, for general improvement. "The presentation was over, and three cheers given for Mr. Pope, the teacher, by the school children, refreshments were served.

Mr. Clarke resigned his position as teacher in March, 1859, returning to England in the same ship on which he arrived. Much might be written about both school and pupils, but that is unnecessary just now. In possessing yourself and wife as teachers of the school, the trustees are exceedingly fortunate, and I sincerely trust you may long continue to direct it. Yours very sincerely, THOS. RUSSELL.

—The through regular English mail service to China via the Trans-Siberian railway, in competition with the Canadian Pacific, will be working at the beginning of 1905, when the line round Lake Baikal will be ready for traffic. Thus Canada has, it is pointed out, none too much time to complete her fast Atlantic link without which the British postal subsidy will not be renewed.

—Rowland Britain, patent attorney, of Vancouver, sends the following abstract from the official Gazette of the United States patent office for the week ending Tuesday, June 10th, 1903: During this week 578 patents were issued, 327 being to citizens of the United States, Austria-Hungary 1, Belgium 1, Canada 3, Great Britain 23, France 2, Germany 18, India 1, Japan 1, New Zealand 1, Sweden 2, Switzerland 1, and Victoria, Australia, 2.

—The Skagway Alaskan says: "There is a strong probability that the claims resulting from the loss of the steamship Islander, August 15th, 1901, will be compromised. The Seattle law firm of Hart & Hart represents the combined interests of the claimants, the different lawyers having agreed upon that firm for that purpose. Lee B. Hart, a member of the firm, who was in Skagway the other day, says that an offer had been made by the general counsel for the Canadian Pacific of a certain amount in settlement of the whole amount. This offer was being considered, and the different claimants consulted as to the proper course to pursue when Mr. Hart left Seattle."

—Capt. William J. Bryant, for 18 years inspector of hulls and boilers at Seattle, passed away on Wednesday, death resulting from uramic poisoning. Deceased was well known in Victoria. He was 61 years of age, having been born on the high seas in 1842, while his father was making a trip from Liverpool to New York. At the age of 8 years he was placed on the payroll of the ship at a salary of 20 cents a month. At the age of 21 years Capt. Bryant received his first command, that of the brig Mary C. Comery. From that time until he gave up the sea, in 1883, he was in command of vessels and in almost every port of importance in the world. He leaves a widow and six children, William H., Charles, Bert, Walter, George and Clarence, all of whom make their homes in Seattle. Charles is at present in Nome, Alaska. It is estimated that the estate left by Capt. Bryant will aggregate $40,000 or $50,000, consisting largely of real estate.

—The citizens of Port Angeles have arranged to celebrate the Fourth of July in grand style this year. There will be good horse racing, baseball between Victoria and Port Angeles nines, besides athletic sports galore. The celebration committee has engaged the Victoria City band to play at Port Angeles, and it will go on the first trip of the new steamer Chatham, playing on the way over, also on last trip back. The Chatham will make three round trips between Victoria and Port Angeles, leaving here at 8:30 a.m., 1:15 p.m. and 7 p.m. The fare for the round trip has been placed at 50 cents.

—A letter has been received from a member of the party of treasure-seekers who sailed from Halifax on March 17th for the south seas in the schooner Hatfield L. M., commanded by Capt. C. H. McLeod, announcing the drowning of Sir Astley Cooper, Bart., of England, who was second in command of the expedition. Cooper tripped on the deck, fell overboard on April 8th, and, being unable to swim, was drowned before the vessel could be brought about. Sir Astley Cooper was a grandson of Sir Astley Cooper, the famous court physician. He met Capt. McLeod in Victoria a year ago and then formed the plan to join the expedition. He was a man of wealth and high social position.

—The "Le Moniteur Illustré des Expositions Internationales" of Paris, France, says: "There is on exhibition just now at the Exposition of Hygiene and Alimentation, a collection of salmon, which has been canned by the British Columbia Canning Company, and are exhibited by the French agents of that company, No. 65 Amsterdam street, Paris. The salmon shown are commonly called 'Sockeyes,' on account of their blue-black backs, and these are chosen for canning on account of their beautiful color, the richness in oil and their exquisite flavor. The fisheries and factories of this company are installed at Victoria, B. C., Canada. In Paris at the International Fisheries Exhibition in 1889, and at the Universal Exhibition of 1900, the canned salmon of British Columbia obtained a silver medal and at the present exhibition a gold medal. This, however, will only confirm the reputation which these goods have earned long since. Here in Canada the products of the British Columbia Canning Company, which is represented by Messrs. Gillespie & Co., Montreal, have disproved the old saying with reference to 'no one being a prophet in his own country' and the Chanticleer and Owekayno brands are much appreciated by eaters of salmon."
