centuries, and celebrating it is really carrying out a national celebration. Kings come and go and all have their birthdays. Forty-five or fifty monarobs have ruled in the British Isles since King Egbert, and their Royal birthdays are too numerous to be possible of celebration.

The date was changed from June 8th to the 21st in 1883. If the day is celebrated on July 1st, the Halifar part of it will be swallowed up and forgotten in the Dominion Day part of the same. When the day falls on Saturday, we see no reason for the celebration on Monday as a hollday, for Saturday is in every way as acceptable, and the interference with the school work is not offset by the extra enjoyment of the children.

We do think, however, that there is no meed of celebrating Empire Day and the King's birthday also. The one day would serve for both. We trust that the real Haligonian sentiment will rise up in rebellion against the movement to ignore Natal Day.

Motive not shown

Keene, N. H., June 27.—Aiming to show lack of motive on the part of John H. Wren, accused of the myrder of J. Stewart Hamilton, of Rochester, N. Y., a railroad construction foreman, at Hinsdale, on Feb. 5. Attorney Roy H. Pickard opened for the defence late to-day.

The State has rested its case with evidence of the finding of a registered envelope addressed to Hamilton in the tenement house occupied by Wren. Attorney Pickard said he would show Wren had no trouble with Hamilton: that he and his family had long planned the trip which they took to Halifax, where he was arrested; that they had sayed sufficient money for the trip, and that Wren visited Hamilton on the night of the murder merely to secure a recommendation as to his ability as a workman.

Wren is expected to take the stand in his own behalf. Is defence in Wren murder trial.

CASH BOOT & SHOE STORE,

Last call for the Dining Car.

Two advances of 10c. per ton each have been made on Hard Coal in the States since April. Another is "slated" for July 1st. Freights also have advanced since the Spring. Almost all our lowpriced Coal is sold. An advance on July 1st cannot well be avoided. Your order placed before then will save you some money. We could allow these necessary increases to go into effect without giving our customers advance notice. We could also refrain from repeatedly advising them when prices were at the lowest for the Season. If we did the one and refrained from doing the other, WE would save the money which OUR CUSTOMERS save year after year when they profit by our "tips" regarding low prices and coming advances. What other business does as much for its customers? Another opportunity is now offered to save money. Economy suggests that it be taken advantage of.

Attractive Investment Prices The present condition of the money market provides an exceptionally attractive market for those with funds available for investment.

Many issues which would be selling at higher prices if it were not for the conditions just mentioned are offered by us. For these reasons, we are within the mark when we say that bargains are available in investment securities at the present time.

However, the situation is perhaps more perplexing than usual, and the advice and counsel of experienced investment houses of the highest standing should be sought. We shall be very glad indeed to send you a list of securities which we have for sale at the present time.
