WENT TO WAKE HIS BROTHER; SHOT HIM WITH A PISTOL.

EXETER, N. H., Sept. 25.—The police of this town were notified late today that August Johnson, ten years old, had shot and probably fatally wounded his eight year old brother, Carl, at their home in Kensington today. The boys are sons of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Johnson. August went up stairs to call his brother from bed and on the way procured a revolver from his father's trunk. He awakened Carl, then, standing on the other side of the room, exclaimed, "Look here." Then the revolver was discharged and the bullet entered Carl's head penetrating the brain. A doctor who was summoned declared that the lad could not live. Medical Examiner H. J. Lampe, of Portsmouth, was summoned and later it was announced that no action would be taken against August Johnson, as the affair was considered accidental.

PAPER MILL EMPLOYEES BADLY INJURED;
ST. STEPHEN'S WATER SYSTEM; TEACHERS MEET

ST. STEPHEN, N. B., Sept. 25.—This town is considerably proud of its new water system under municipal control, furnishing an abundance of water of crystalline purity equalling any diamond.

This evening the system was given a preliminary test to ascertain its efficiency for fire protection purposes. A gauge attached to a hydrant on Water street showed 120 pounds pressure. Then eight streams were opened from four hydrants the gauge showed pressure of about 120 feet.

While these streams were all open one was turned towards the flag pole on the Windsor Hotel and the water went above the top of the pole, a height of about 120 feet.

With a deluge stream throwing from a two-inch nozzle the gauge on an adjoining hydrant registered a pressure of 113 pounds.

All this was accomplished by gravity from the reservoir and without the aid of the pumps. Under the former water system the highest hydrant pressure obtained was 90 pounds.

An employee of the paper mill at Woodland was brought to Chipman Memorial Hospital this morning with an arm that had been badly mangled in some machinery that amputation was necessary. Since Saturday last three other patients from Woodland have been admitted to the hospital. One had a leg amputated, one had a

GENERAL BOOTH VISITS MONCTON

MONCTON, Sept. 25.—General Booth was a visitor to the railway city today. He arrived this morning from Halifax and remained the guest of Premier Robinson during the day. This evening at eight o'clock he addressed a meeting which filled the Opera House. The General was greeted by the Citizens' band and greeted by round after round of cheers as he entered the house. The seat was occupied by the Mayor White, who read a civic address and spoke a few words of informal welcome. The general was in fine form, and in spite of the labors of the previous days spoke over an hour on the Secret of Success of the Salvation Army. He carried the audience of over a thousand with him through the years which followed the first introduction of the Army as a power resulting on his own conviction that such work was the work of his life. He announced that there was no danger of the work falling through after his decease. "The same message which tells of the general will announce the life of the new general." This, he said, had all been arranged, and although he did not mean to die as long as he could possibly live, the public need have no fear of the work suffering with his decease. After the applause following the general's last words died away, Hon. J. P. Eweny proposed a vote of thanks which was enthusiastically carried.

INAUGURATION OF DR. FALCONER

Strong Address of Toronto's New President

Honorary Degree of LL. D. for Chancellor, Jones of the University of N. B.—Distinguished Visitors.

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 25.—The formal inauguration of Dr. Robert Alexander Falconer as president of the University of Toronto, took place this afternoon in convocation hall, which was suitably decorated. The imposing ceremony was witnessed by a brilliant assemblage of invited guests, which included many of the most renowned educators of the continent, representing practically every prominent college in the United States and Canada upon many of whom was afterwards conferred the honorary degree of LL. D.

In his address, Dr. Falconer first expressed the profound sense of responsibility which he felt in being granted the appointment of directing the life of such a great university as that of Toronto, which had in the past made such contributions to the progress of this country.

"If the university," said he, "seems to stand today at the beginning of the new expansion, this is the result of the self-sacrificing effort of many continued through long years and the generous recognition from the government." He then referred in eulogistic terms to the faithful efforts of President London.

The ideal of the university, he continued, was that it should be a centre for developing the nation's chief wealth of its manhood. It should be the greatest school of efficiency. The modern world was very different in its environment from what had been. "We are not quietly gathering the fruits of the past. We are feverishly occupying new realms and the University of Toronto has been during the past generation adjusting itself to new conditions in response to requirements of our new social and industrial development."

But still the ideal of the university was not essentially different from what it has been in the past, although the range of subjects had been widened. To develop the highly cultivated mind, although it might not conform to the type produced by the classical or historical study, was still his aim.

"No true university can afford to neglect the practical side of what is so often erroneously called practical. The university man should reach beyond his group's changes and be interested by many to preserve the old idea by teaching historic arts subjects while the University took up scientific research, which would lead to the development of new facilities of study and increase in past graduate studies and research.

Among those who received honor during the afternoon were Cecil C. Jones, chancellor of the University of New Brunswick; Howard Murray, dean of the college of Dalhousie University; Montague Oliver, Elmer Matheson, professor of Law; William Peterson, M. A., LL. D., C. M. G., principal of McGill University, as well as a number of other prominent men, including the Bishop of London in absentia.

QUEBEC BRIDGE INQUIRY RESUMED

Commission Held its First Sitting in Ottawa Yesterday—Collingwood Schreiber on the Stand

OTTAWA, Sept. 25.—The commission on the Quebec bridge collapse held its first Ottawa sitting this afternoon. Collingwood Schreiber, who was deputy minister of railways at the time the project was started and until after the commencement of the steel work, was the chief witness. He gave the history of the railway department's connection with the bridge and produced a mass of documents which were put in evidence.

From the evidence given by Mr. Schreiber it appeared that the government could be given for the building of the bridge a plan had to be submitted showing that it was not going to interfere with the navigation of the St. Lawrence. Before the government endorsed that plan it had to obtain the approval of the plans of the proposed bridge by engineers. That having been done the government endorsed them by declaring in an order that the bridge was to be built on the plan and that any changes had to be approved by order in council.

Mr. Schreiber stated that he, as adviser of the government, relied almost wholly on the inspection and reports of Mr. Cooper, the engineer of the Quebec Bridge Co., in seeing that the plans of the Phoenix Co. were adequate to support the bridge. The interests of the Quebec Bridge Co. and the government were identical in seeing that the work of the Phoenix Co. was well done. When the government undertook, in 1903, to purchase the bridge from the Phoenix Bridge Co., Mr. Schreiber asked the government for and was given authority to hire an independent engineer to supervise the construction of the bridge for the government. However, Mr. Cooper said that this would mean taking the responsibility off his shoulders. Therefore it was decided, as the interests of the Quebec Bridge Co. and the government were identical, to continue to accept the supervision of the work by Mr. Cooper, who had the reputation of being the best bridge engineer in the United States. Mr. Douglas, bridge engineer of the railway department, had to approve of any changes in design which Mr. Cooper proposed. Some of such changes in design were approved by Mr. Douglas and some he declined to accept.

Mr. Douglas will give evidence tomorrow.

REPORT DOES NOT FAVOR EITHER SIDE

FREDERICTON, Sept. 25.—Copies of the report prepared by the sub-committee appointed by the board of trustees of Victoria Hospital to examine into the charges made by Dr. Atherton, against the matron, have been handed to Miss McCallum and to Dr. Atherton. It is understood that the committee has made a very thorough investigation and the report favors Dr. Atherton about as much as it does the matron.

Dr. Atherton expressed himself this morning as being altogether dissatisfied with the outcome of the affair, tied with the outcome of the affair.

Today's New Pictures at the Nickel

Dull care will surely take wings if the new show is seen at the Nickel. Gorgeously extravagant, bewildering transformations, real humor, scenes in the big cities, stirring melodramatic features, good music and pretty picture-plays are the antidote for weariness and the Nickel dispenses it. Today's programme is new and as follows: The Red Specter, a lovely series of magic views suggesting the greatest spectacular plays on the stage today. Just Married, a hilarious film about a bride and groom who set up housekeeping. Mr. Inquisitive, or a "nossey" man who got into all kinds of trouble and a very effective picture entitled Dink, which might be called a Tenyson-Smith lecture without words. Illustrated songs, piano and orchestral music.

Victoria Roller Rink.

Bigger houses every night at the big rink—a great broad stretch of floor and no corners to turn, lots of light, lots of air, and some one to assist and instruct. Band every night, and two door prizes every night this week—one for ladies and one for gentlemen. Every admission has a chance for a season ticket for the Victoria Roller Rink.

Last night No. 1244 won the ladies' ticket, and No. 1188 is entitled to the gentlemen's. The crowd last night was much larger than on any Thursday since the season opened, and everybody seems to be getting the habit. If you haven't had a skate this season try it this evening—it might be your lucky night.

Queen's Rollaway.

Tonight is "ladies' night" at the Queen's Rollaway. Gentlemen will please observe the usual rules. Friday nights, "ladies' nights," are gaining in popular favor, and the attendance is growing larger. Band as usual.

Happy Half Hour.

A very large crowd was present at the Happy Half Hour yesterday and saw an exceptionally fine programme. Le Domino Rouge was heard to splendid advantage in the beautiful song, When the Flowers Bloom in the Springtime, and Harry B. Le Roy made an artistic success of You're Just a Little Bit of Sugar Cane, the famous pickaninny song, which George H. Frimrose of minstrel fame is making such a hit with.

Those in search of a pleasant place in which to pass the time, would do well to visit The Happy Half Hour.

PARIS, Sept. 25.—The station master at Breval declares that no Americans were seriously injured in the railway wreck. Eight Americans however, sustained bruises, but they all proceeded for Sherbrooke.
